b) A portion of THE "PYTHON'S" 1918 staff: Everette Armatrout, Associate Editor; Frances Fibley, Artist; Clifford Delp, Business Manager; Marie Colvin, Literary Department; and Gilford Plummer, Editor-In-Chief. These Bourbon students organized and published one of the very first yearbooks in area!

c) On September 16, 1917, the Summit Chapel Agricultural Military Band posed just before one of their many concerts. The musicians: Harry Brosius, Director, William Fore & Artie Coar — alto horn, William Moore — bass drum, Seward Bitting — trombone, Burchard Coar — cornet, Orville Guy — clarinet, Roy Reichert — snare drum.

d) The entire Etna Green High School taken in the spring of 1914. FIRST ROW: Glen Hepler, Ralph Wagoner, Basil Cochran.

FIFTH ROW: Lucille Knepper, Doris Brosius, Lucy Tea, Ethel Huffer, H. L. Thomas — teacher, Mary Flory, Lucetta Vining, Della Burgh. e) Etna Green played a winning season with their High School Basketball team back in 1917. These "muscle men" were Robert Knepper, Paul Hamlin & Ralph Hamlin (FRONT ROW) and Victor Anglin.

Cookie Monsters 126

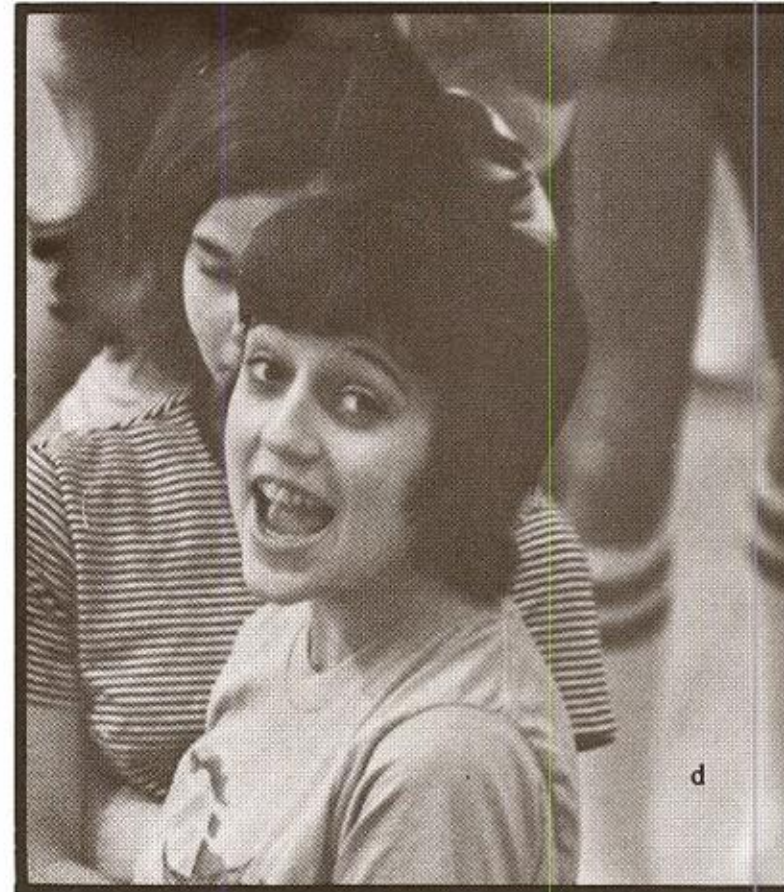

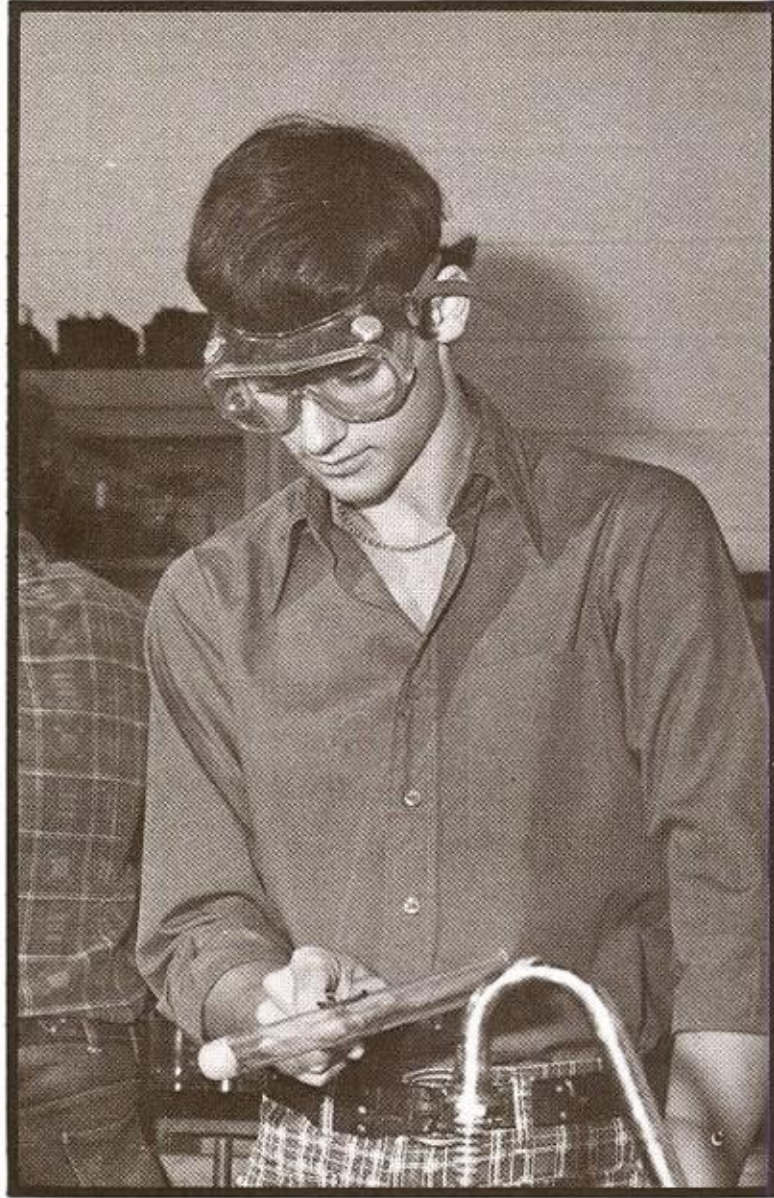

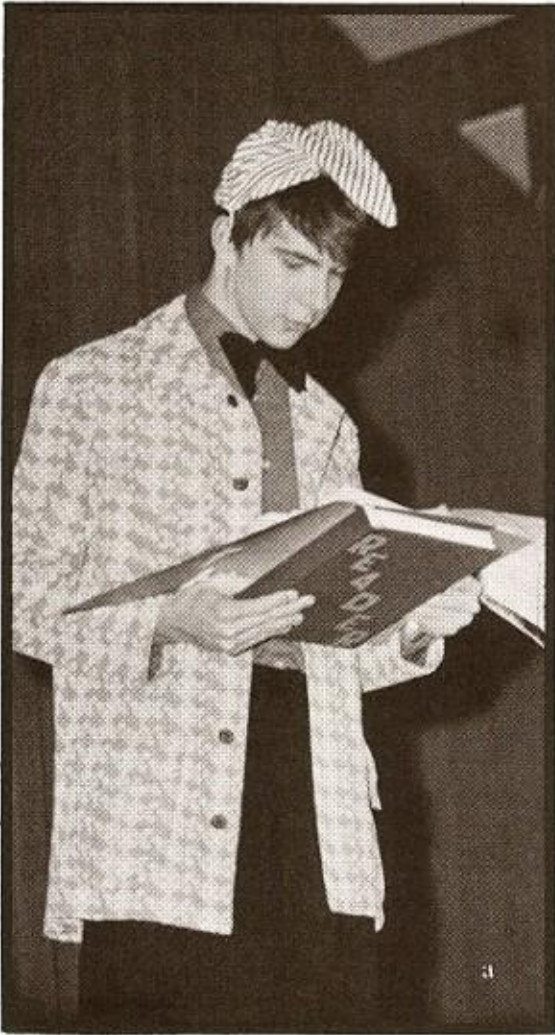

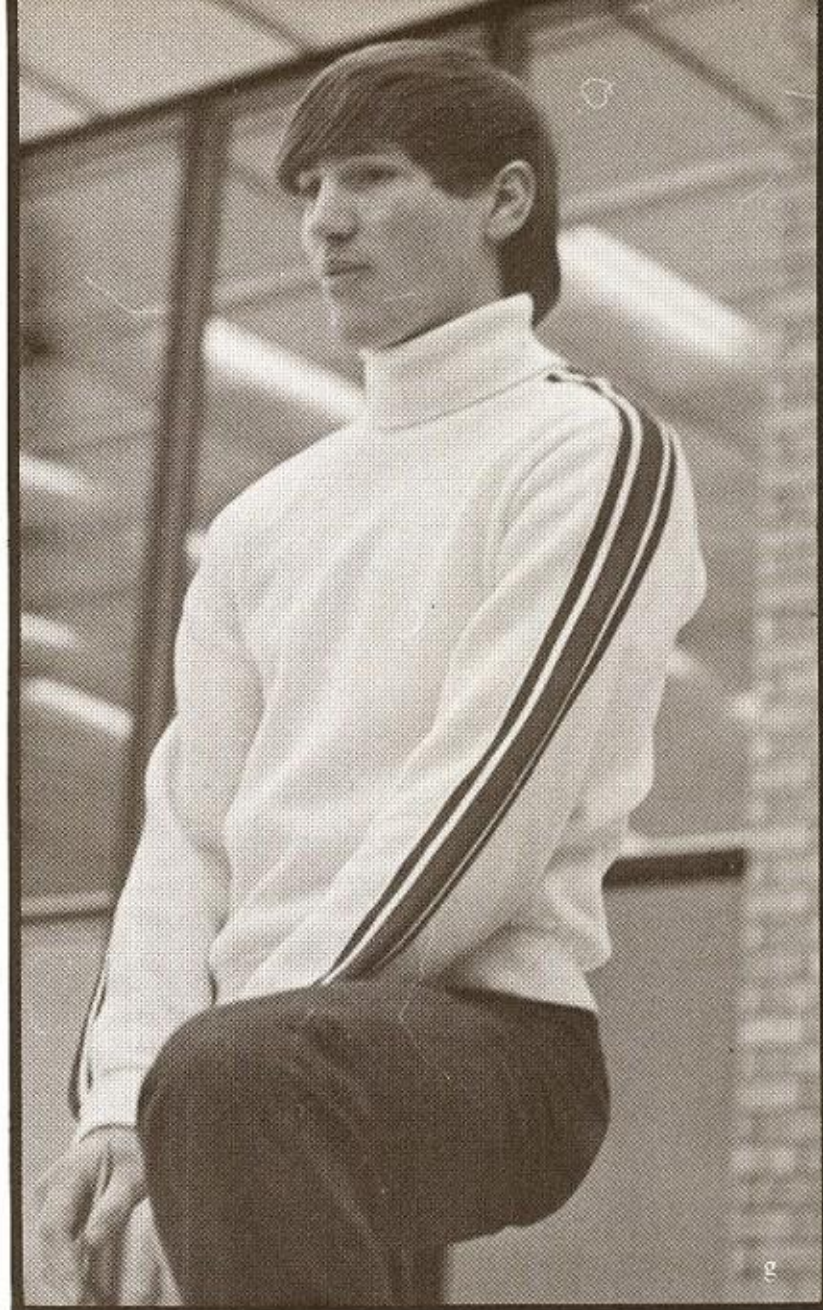

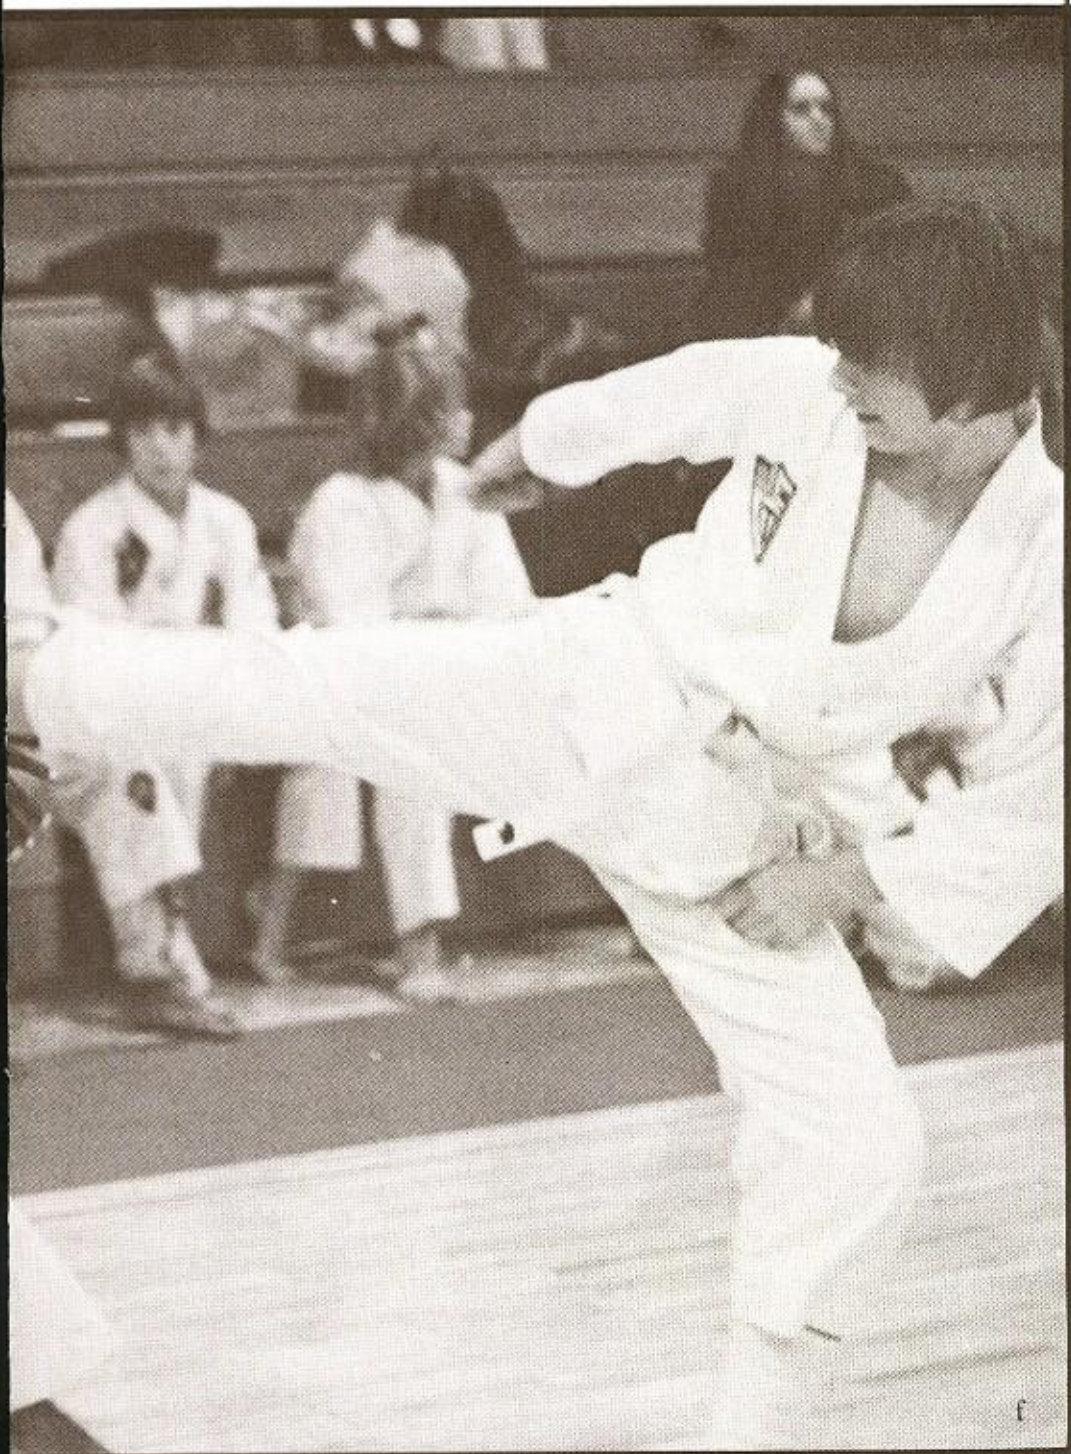

Many years ago three small towns started: Bourbon, Tippecanoe, and Etna Green. Through the years the schools grew together as one, Triton. This year we honor our three Communities ... SMALL TOWN USA. We salute you!!!

SMALL TOWN U.S.A. 148

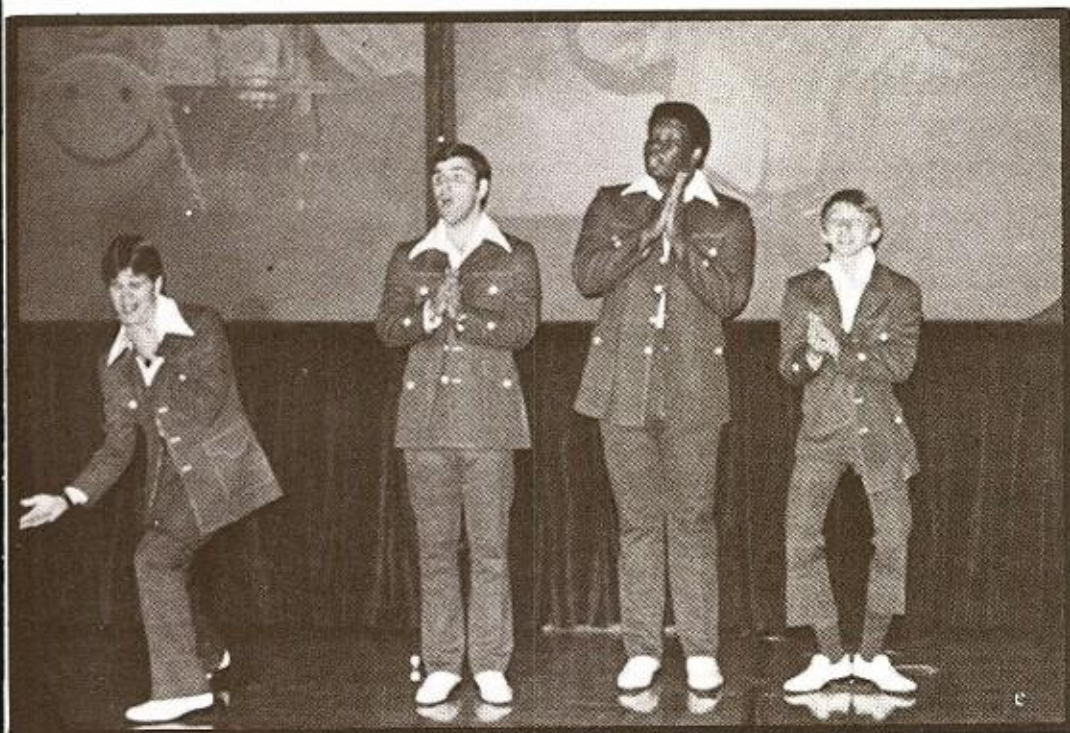

The Triton Delta wishes to acknowledge the following people for their help this year: Mr. Liggett, Pat Lindemann, Mr. Gould, Mrs. Trowbridge, Mary Brumbaugh, Jacob Hight, Mildred Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Good, Mike Weaver, Hitz Studios, Mrs. Raymond Baker, Althea Hamlin, Frst. U. Church of Christ, Amy Ulmer, Nina Plummer, Florence Fields, and all those unsung heroes who pitched in at one time or another this year.

Long roads lined with trees warm with sunlight warm as the places they lead to, leading to three small towns.

Three towns, each different.
Special in its own way,
but uniquely united.
Tied together, sharing the same roots.

a. Thumbing through his Reader is J. Hayes as Pinocchio. b. P. Berkey says to P. Stine, "Look cool!" c. D. Carpenter demonstrates that heat speeds reaction. d. "No cameras allowed in P.E.," shouts L. Trowbridge. e. Life Action Singers presents their comic version of "There's a Rainbow." f. Karate novice d. Thompson at a competition match. g. B. Blackford presides at a FFA meeting.

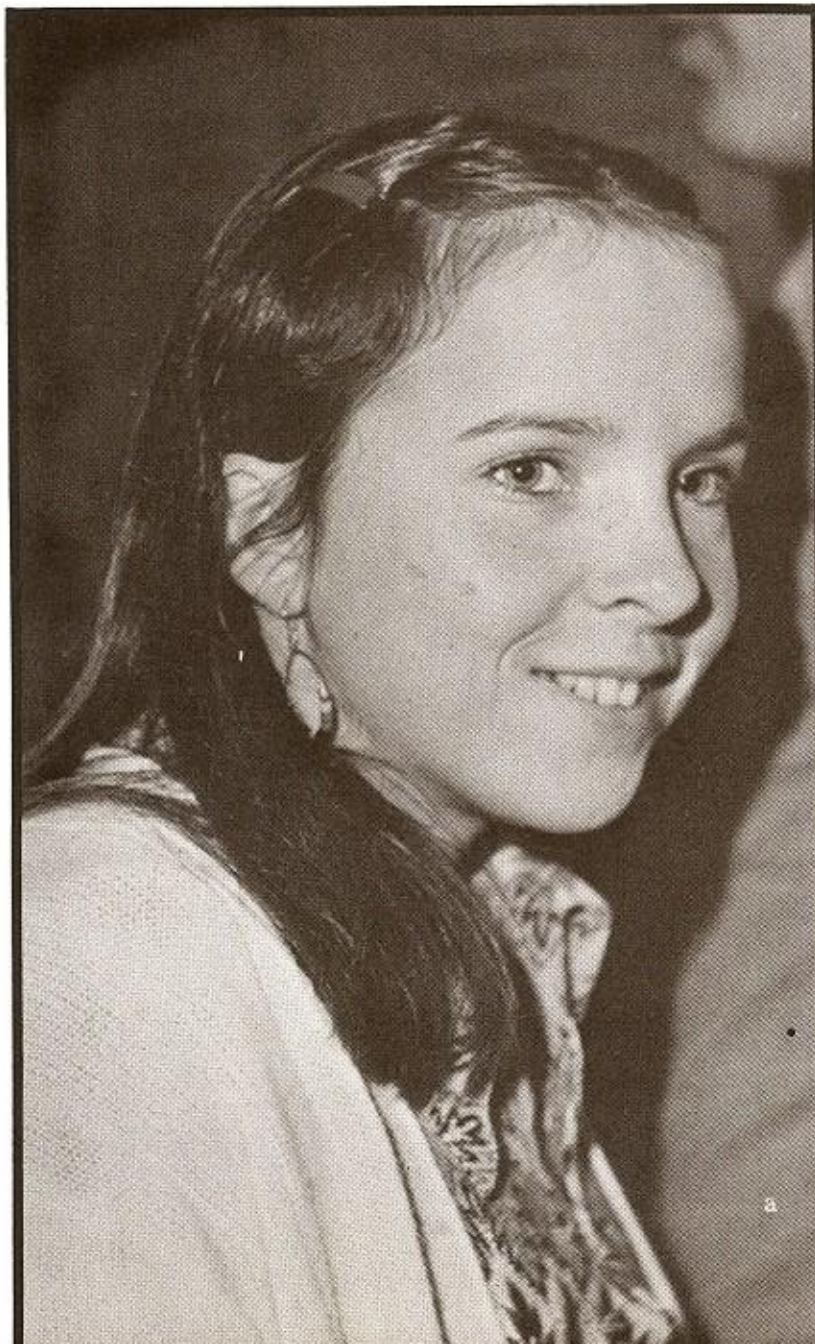

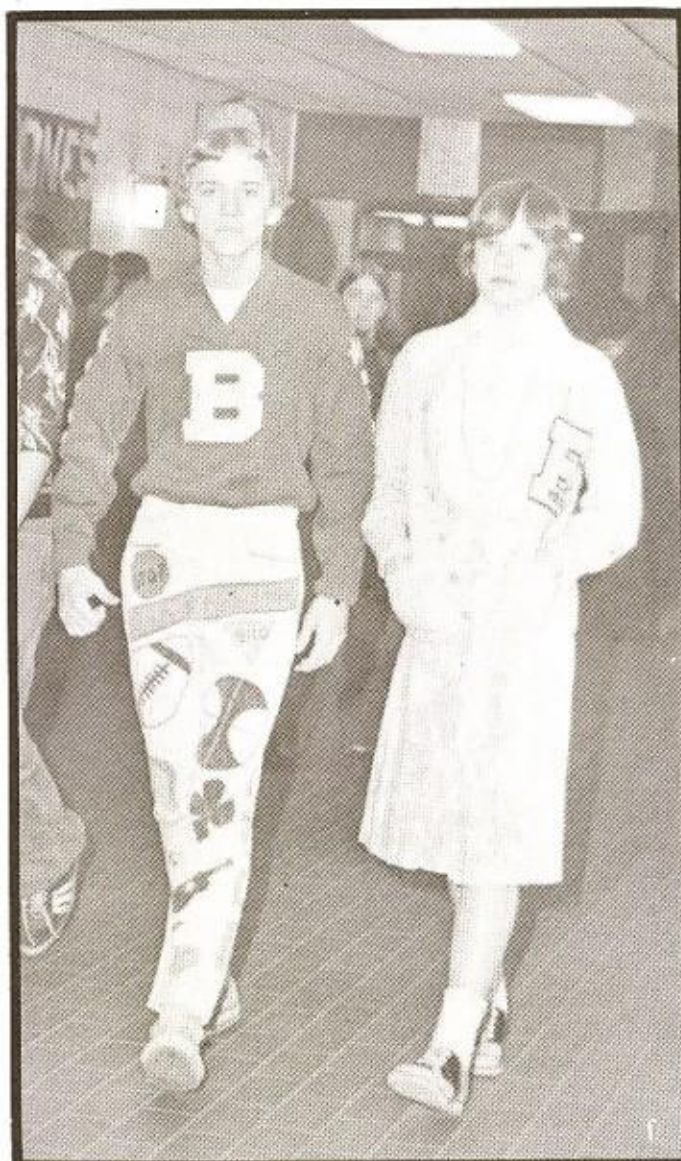

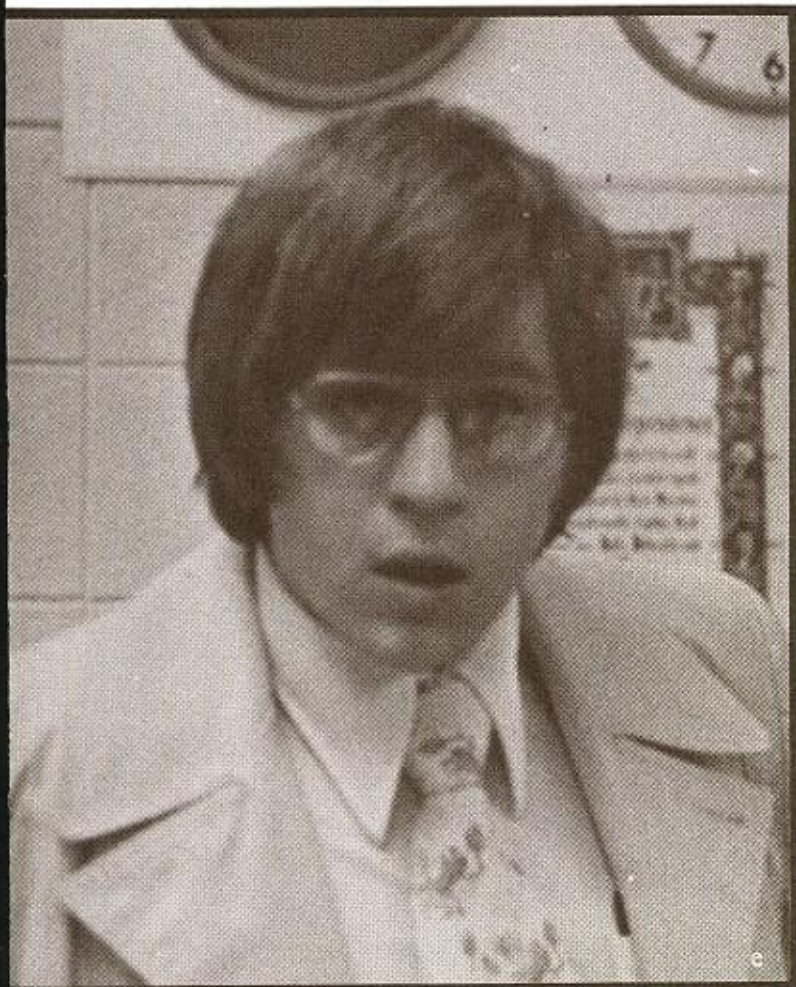

Roots begun long ago.
Always old, yet newly felt with each passing generation, which with the years became routine.

Each root, each new start is updated, but never changed.
The old ideas, respected, the new accepted.

a. K. Burris looks disbelievingly at her father during biology. b. After Bagles Lox the Jr. High students enjoy a Jewish dance led by Mr. Burkhart. c. "My grin is a lady killer and my hands are man killers," quips J. Bradley d. Mean Man Gene. e. "Well Sophie, what d'ya think am I cool or am I cool?" c. Riewoldt asks S. Coplen. f. "And that's the way it is ..." concludes J. Rettinger. g. Shuppie -n- Snoopy.

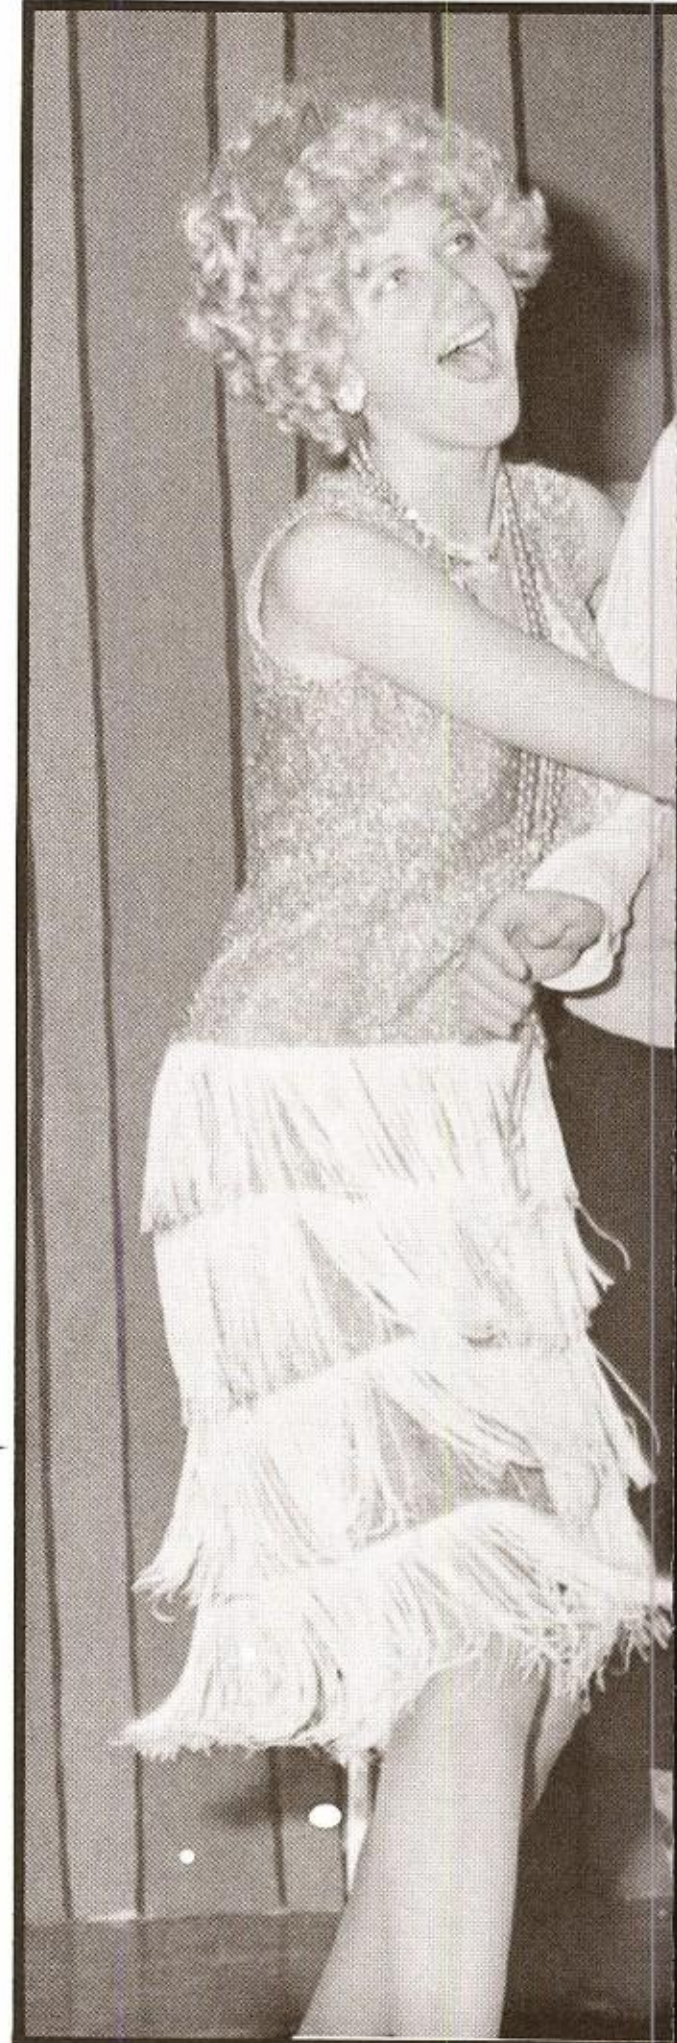

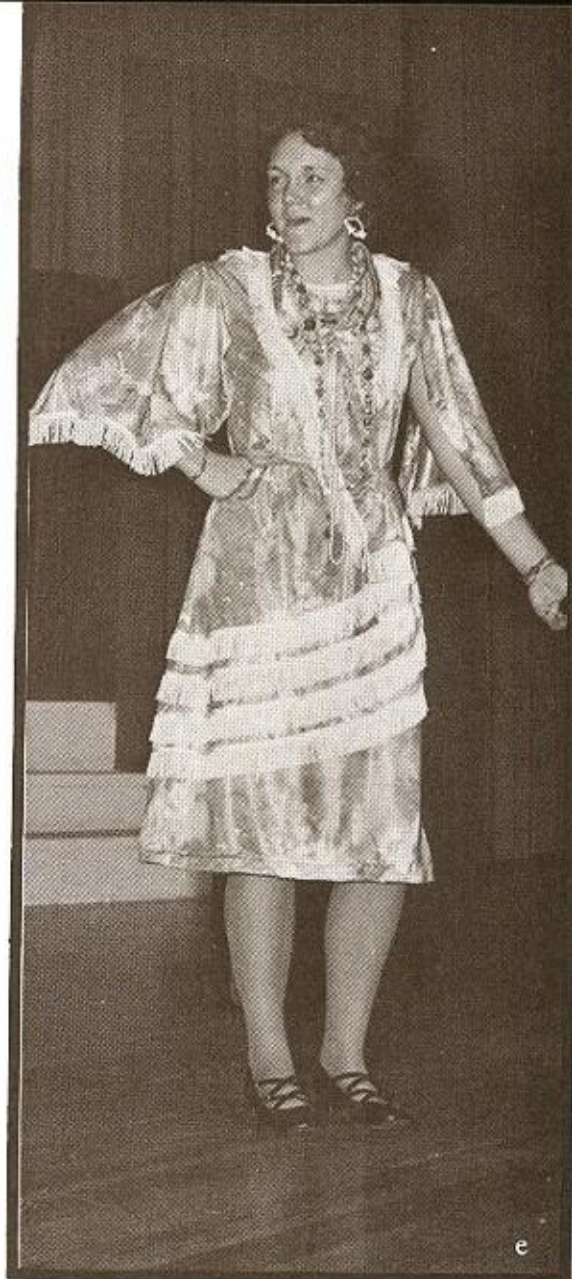

Each new start unites us.
Within ourselves,
with others,
uniting us together as one.

Unity shown with warmth,
A smile of home,
a smile of Triton.

a. Thinking of things to come is M. Muir. b. D. Gochenour studies the uncarved Pinocchio. c. Triton teachers prove they are suckers for a pep session. d. M. Keene and T. Ellinger show S. Richer that Physics is fun. e. Ours thanks to M. Weaver, our professional photographer. f. J. Riewoldt and M. Jensen in Bee-Bop dress. g. A. Byrer at her final bonfire.

20's Musical Smash Hit

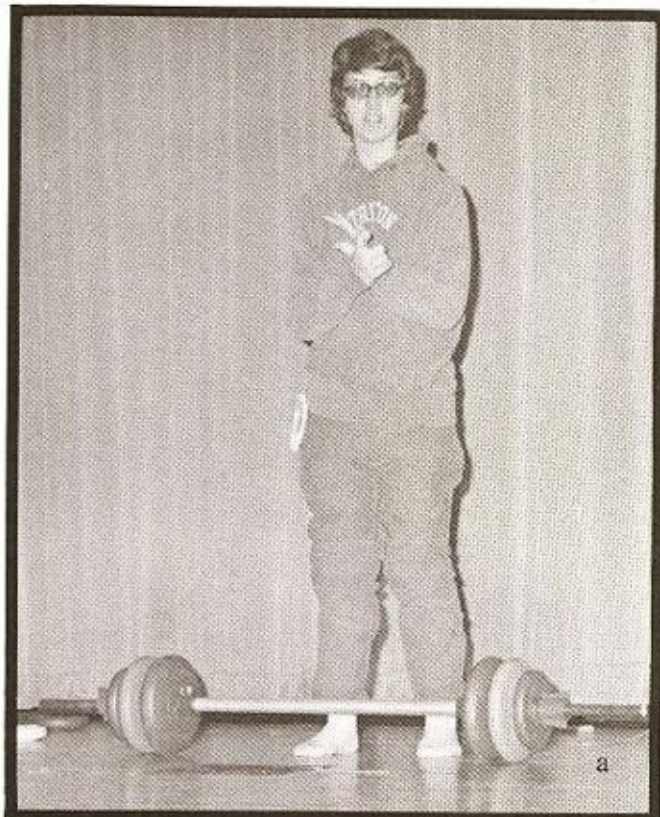

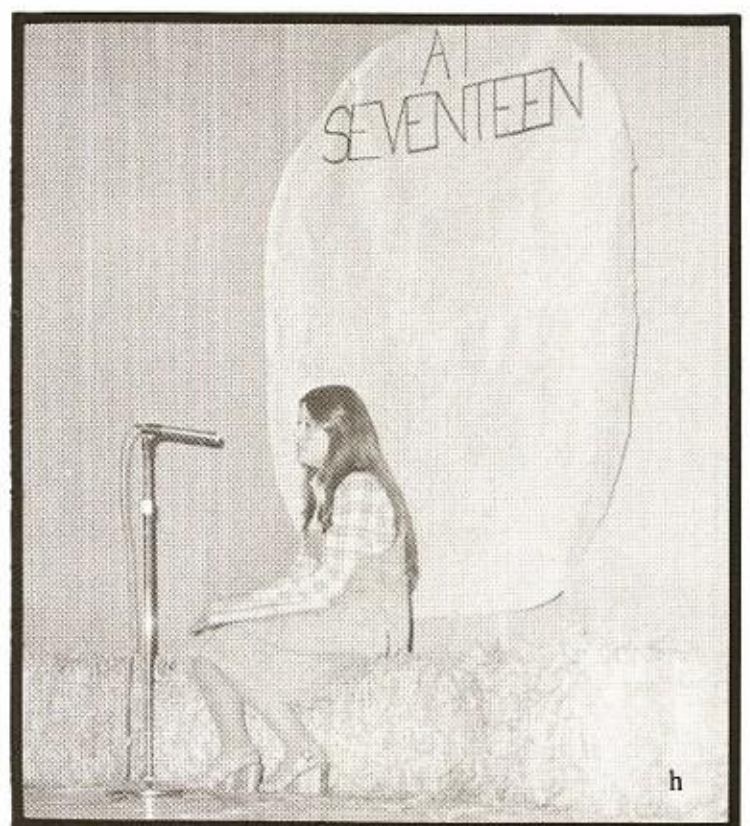

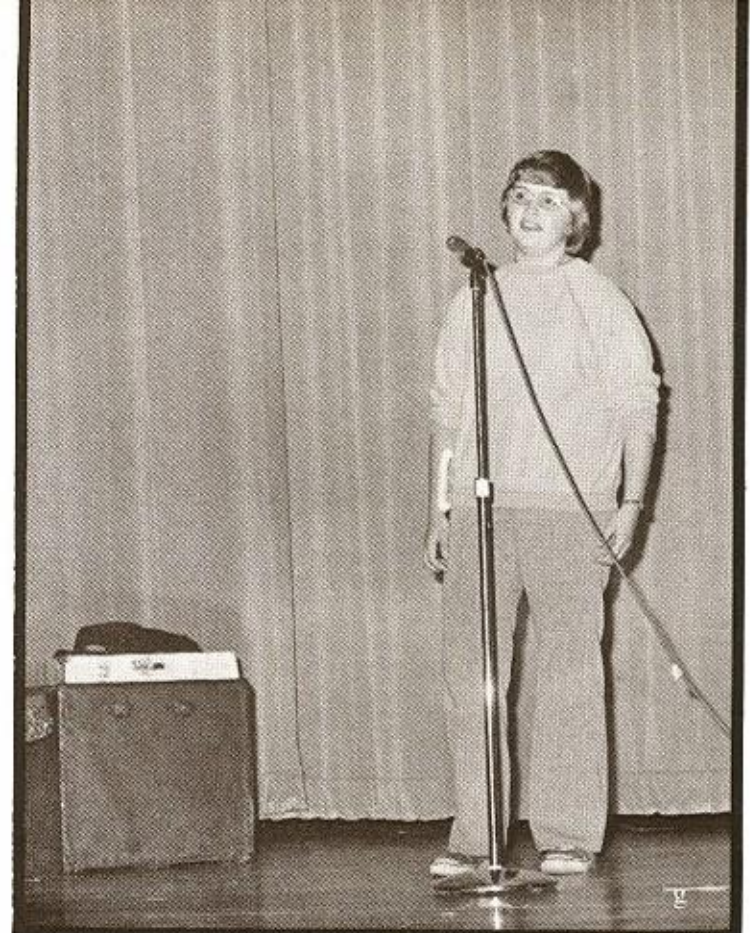

October 31 and November 1 the Triton High School Choir presented, "No, No, Nanette". This show is about the 20's when things were dearer, sweeter, and happier.

a. The guys listen to A. Byrer as she tells them what "Too Many Rings Around Rosie" will cause. b. Tom and Nanette dance to "Tea for Two" portrayed by M. Feters and A. Byrer, c. "Uncle Jimmy!" exclaims D. Drochner to J Hayes. d. "I have a message for you Flora," R. Reichard tells R. Price, e. "I'm Beatty ... from Boston." states J. Vining. f. Cast FIRST ROW

Drochner nervously await judge's decision. e. D. Drochner singing and accompanying on the piano to, "Wedding Song." f. First runner up, Callie Stiver, Where would one expect to find a swining granny, a UFO, a curly topped Shirley Temple and other varied talent? Nowhere but Triton's thirteenth annual Jr. Miss Pageant.

Ann Byrer, the swinging granny, sung her way to the title of Triton Jr. Miss. Along the way she picked up the Poise and Appearance award.

portrays S. Temple in Candyland. g. Comedy skit by J. Bailey entitled, "The First Dance." h. The Creative and Performing Art Winner P. Gard singing, "At Seventeen." i. Green-faced, C. Young's, psychedelic, "Space Race".

Traditional Honors for King and Queen

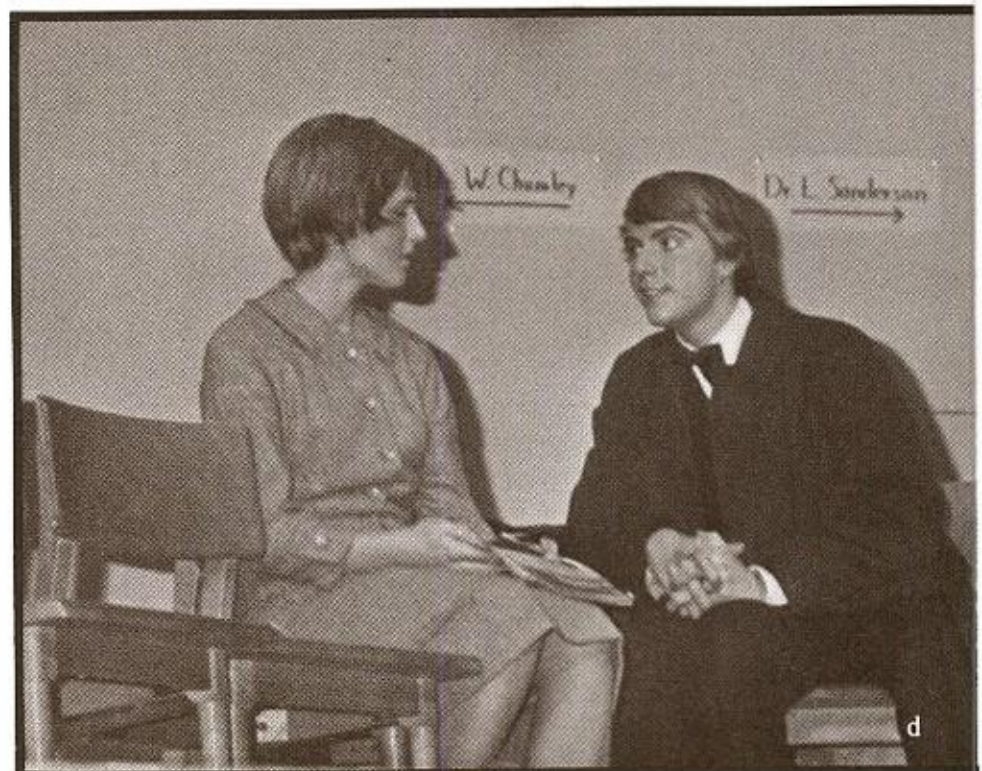

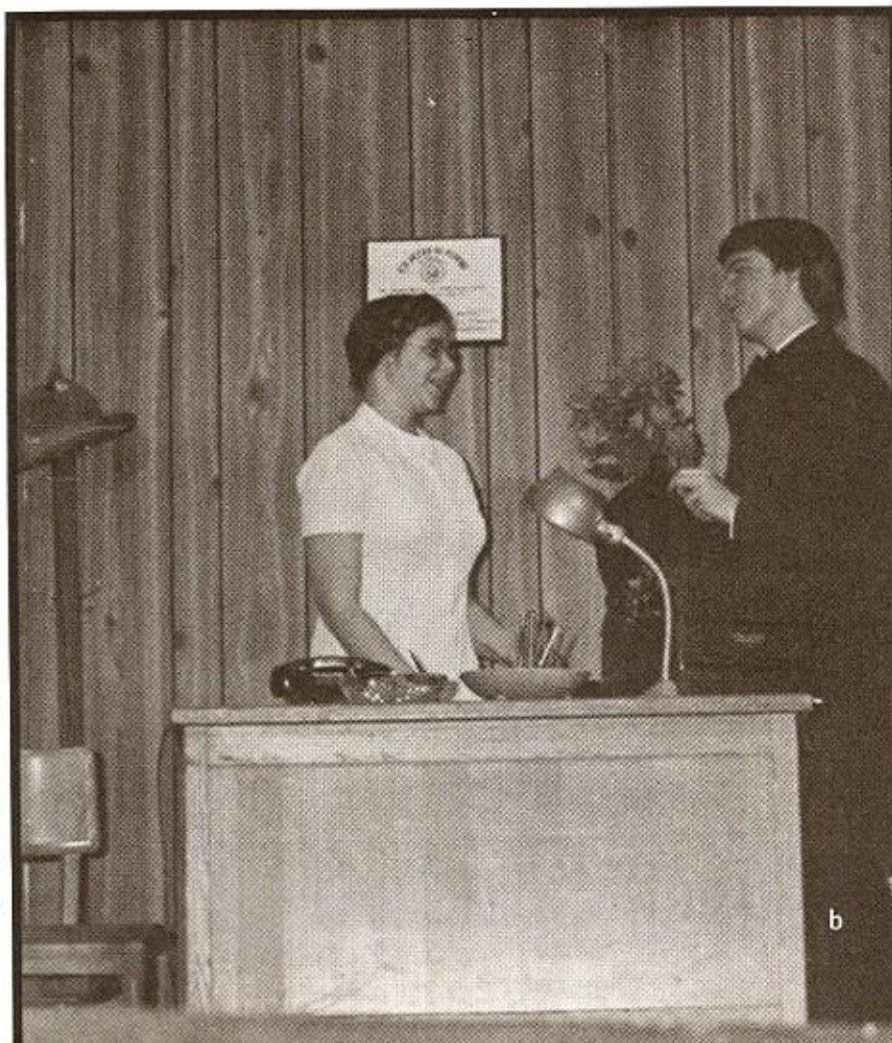

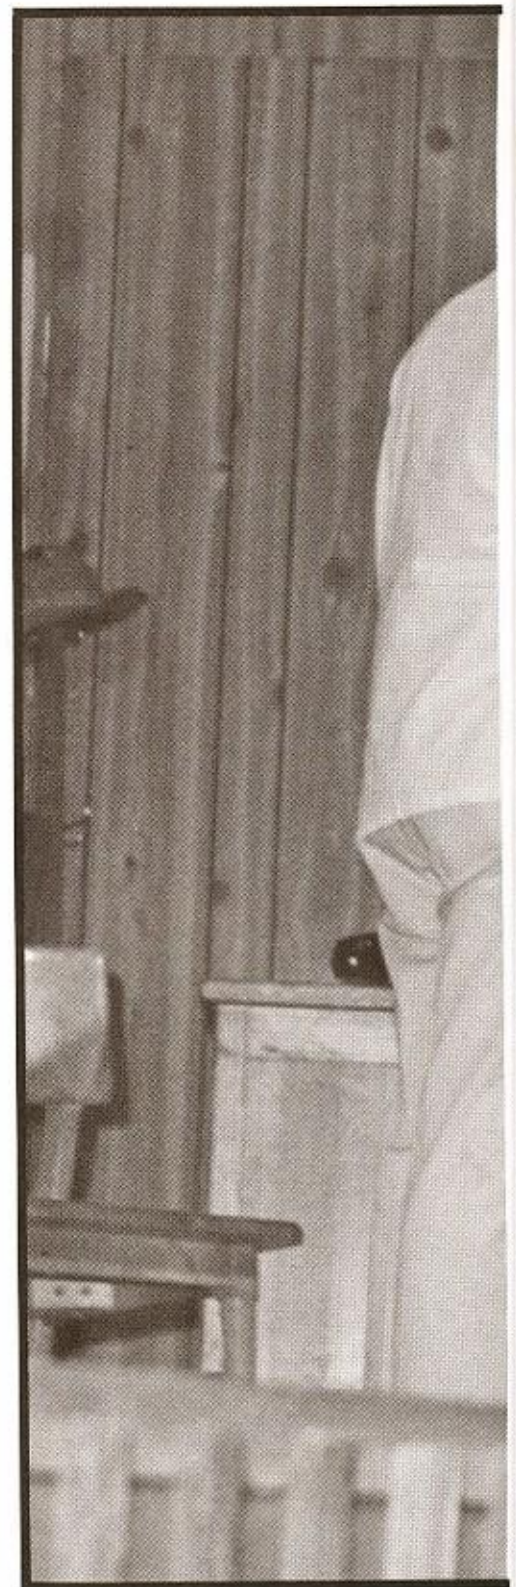

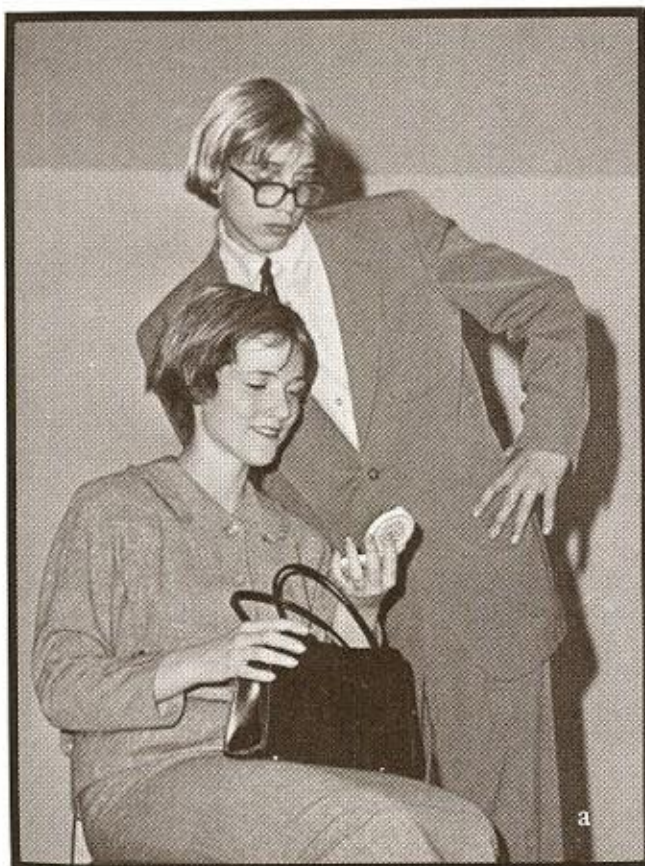

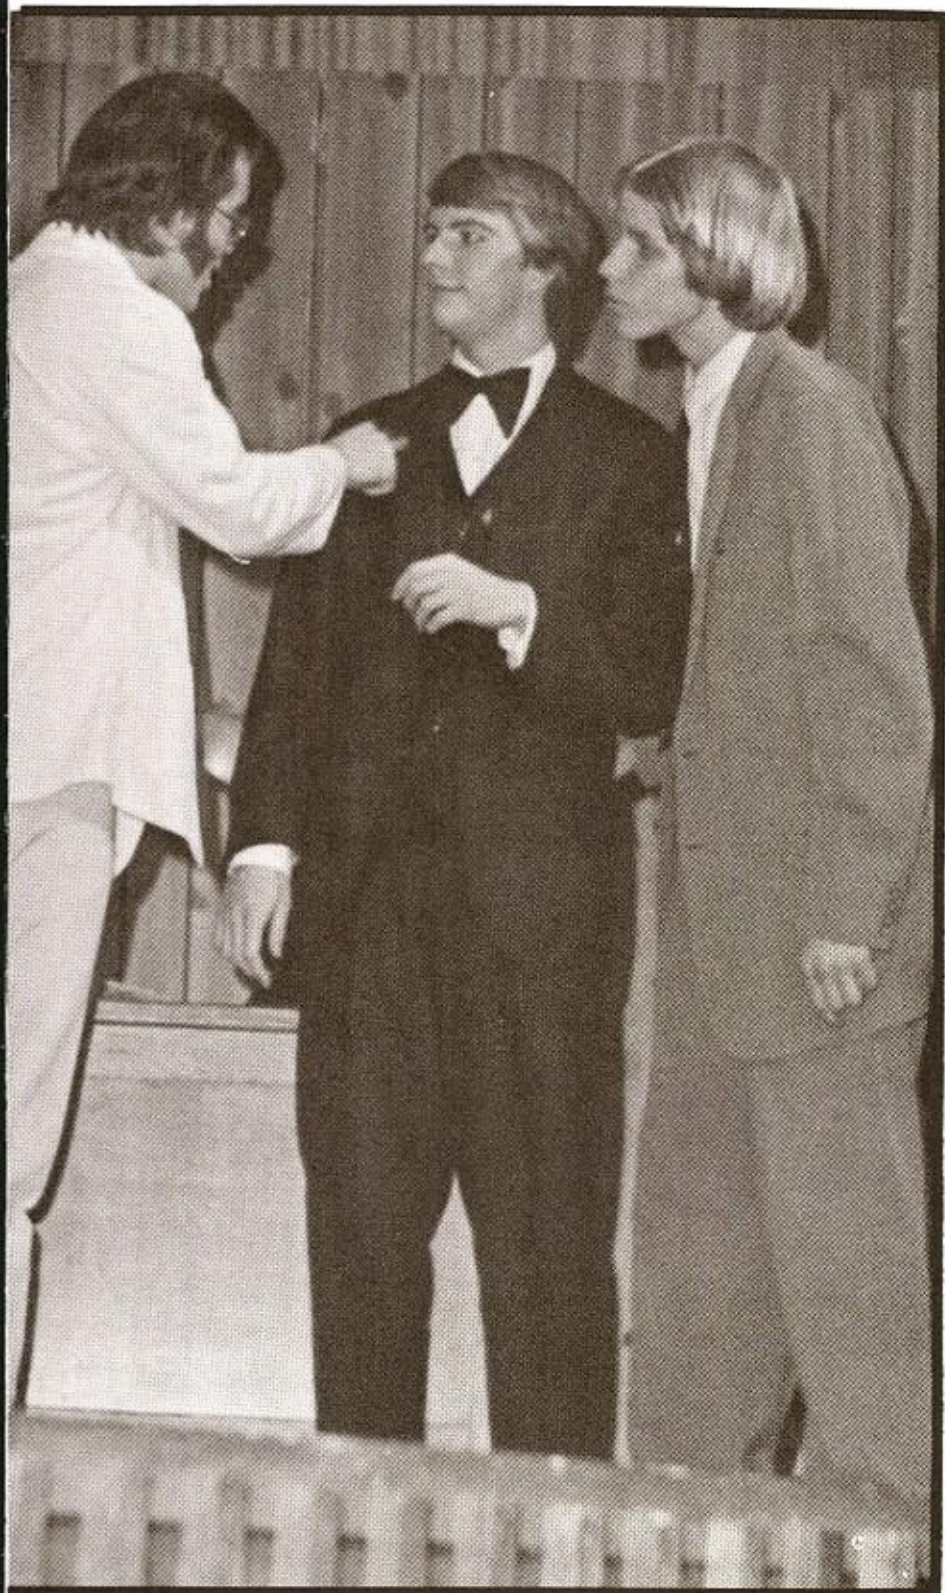

This year by a decision of the Senior class, Homecoming was changed to the traditional method of the past. By official decree any class representative was eligible for the title of King or Queen.

Winning the titles this year were Mike Keene and Jayne Coplen.

a. Last years King and Queen, S. Cretcher and C. Sell. b. Jr. Attendants, J. Shively and C. Baughman, lead the way. c. C. Sell crowns J. Coplen. d. Class representatives, Z. Vuittonet, T. Baker, T. Sharkey, J. Feters, D. Drochner, B. Hall, K. Burris, C. Sell, S. Cretcher, J. Runnells, T. Ganshorn, L. Berkey, T. McIntyre, D. Gochenour, R. Lemler, T. Slabaugh. e. D. Gochenour and T. Baker at rehearsal. f. K. Burris and L. Berkey clown around before the ceremonies. g. King and Queen, J. Coplen and M. Keene.

A POOKA?

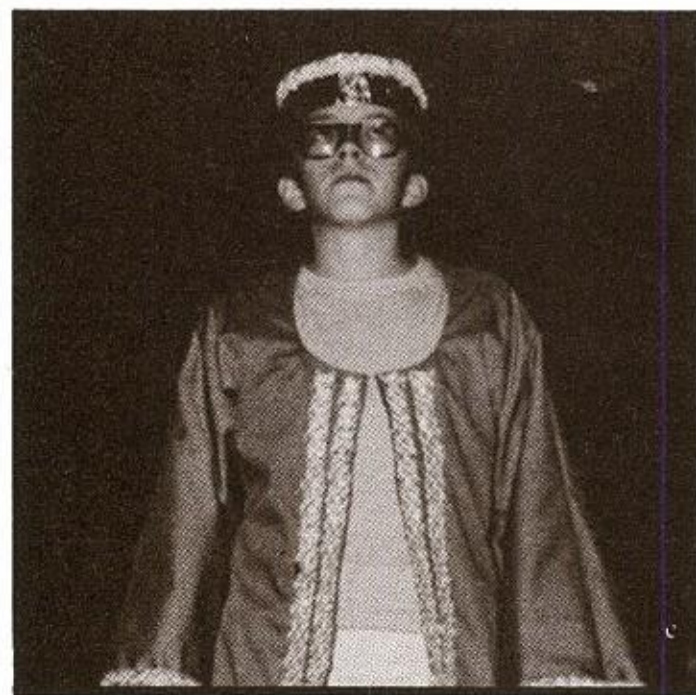

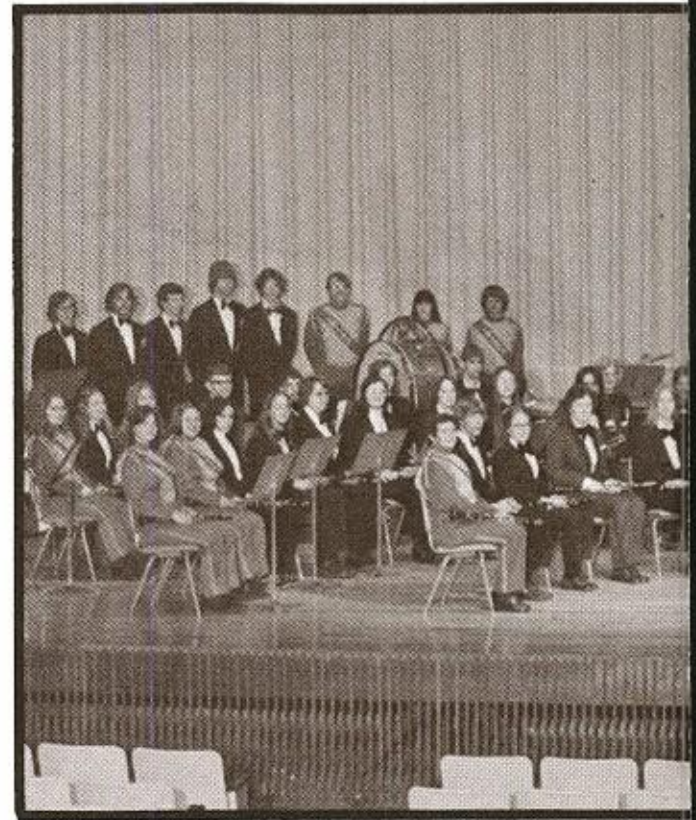

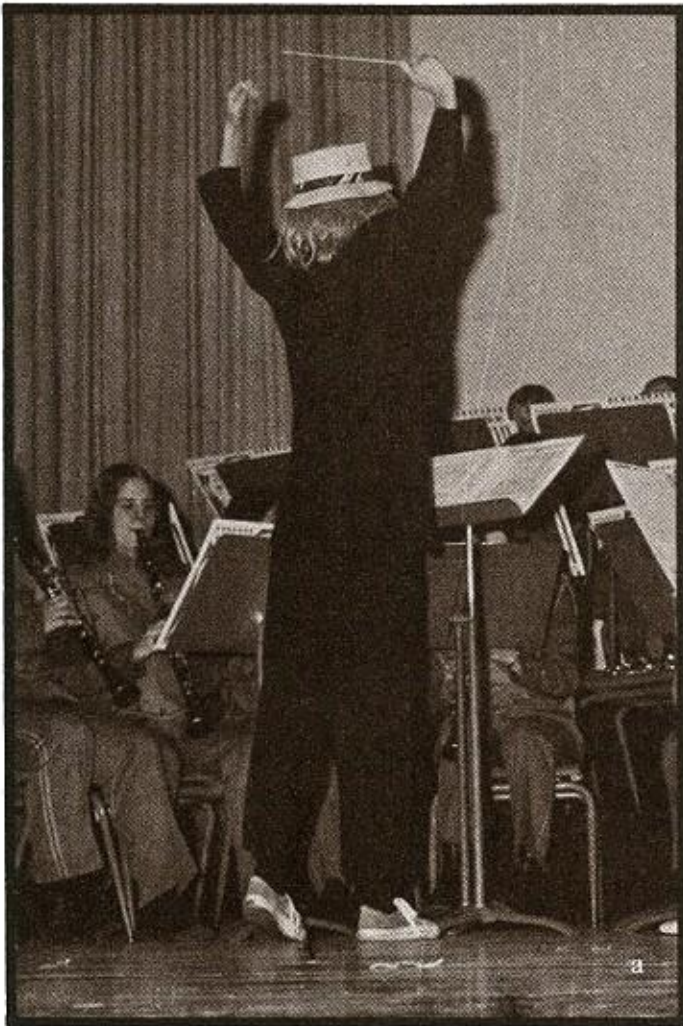

a) D. Gochenour as Dr. Chumley, asks Mrs. Chumley played by T. Muir, whether she is ready for the McClure cocktail party. b) "These are for you" states J. Hayes as Elwood P. Dowd, giving D. McCollough burnt orange mums. c) Myrtle Mae and Wilson, portrayed by T. Niswonger and B. Cretcher discuss her nutty uncle. d) "He's my best friend and you might say he's a Pooka also," explains J. Hayes to T. Muir. e) "Tell us where he is!" B. Cretcher and D. Gochenour demand of J. Hayes. f) Cast FRONT ROW D. Thompson, D. McCollough, D. Grubbs, T. Niswonger, A. Byrer. BACK ROW. R. Walter, J. Hayes, B. Cretcher, D. Gochenour, R. Rettinger, T. Muir, S. Cook. g) Veta Louise (D. Grubbs), is helped by Judge Gaffney (R. Rettinger) and T. Niswonger after a terrible experience at Chumley's rest home.

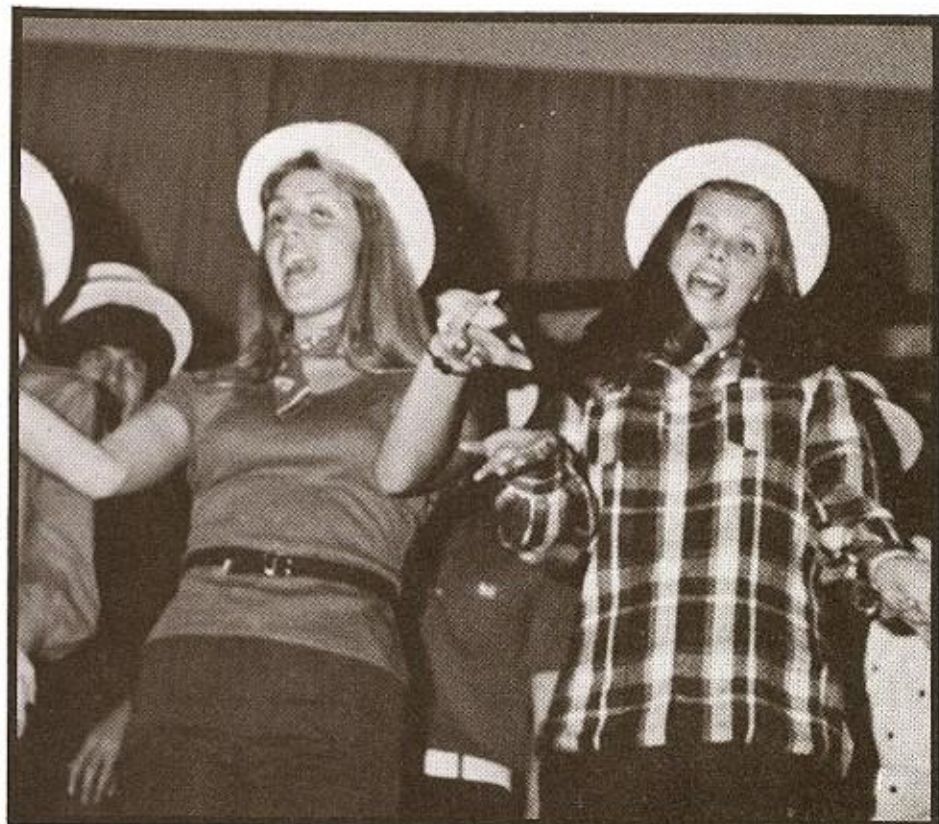

Imagine a play where not only the unseen, eponymous hero is a white rabbit, 6 feet 2 1/2 inches tall in his paws, but also when the most unseemly word used all evening is seven letters long and could almost — possibly even almost, almost — be used in these seemly pages. Those, gentlemen, were the days. Ah, nostalgia!

"Harvey" is a darling, cuddly play, meaning nothing but a desire for fantasy in a hard world, no bad thing when "Harvey" was new in 1944. Come to think of it, no bad thing in 1976.

Sounds of '76

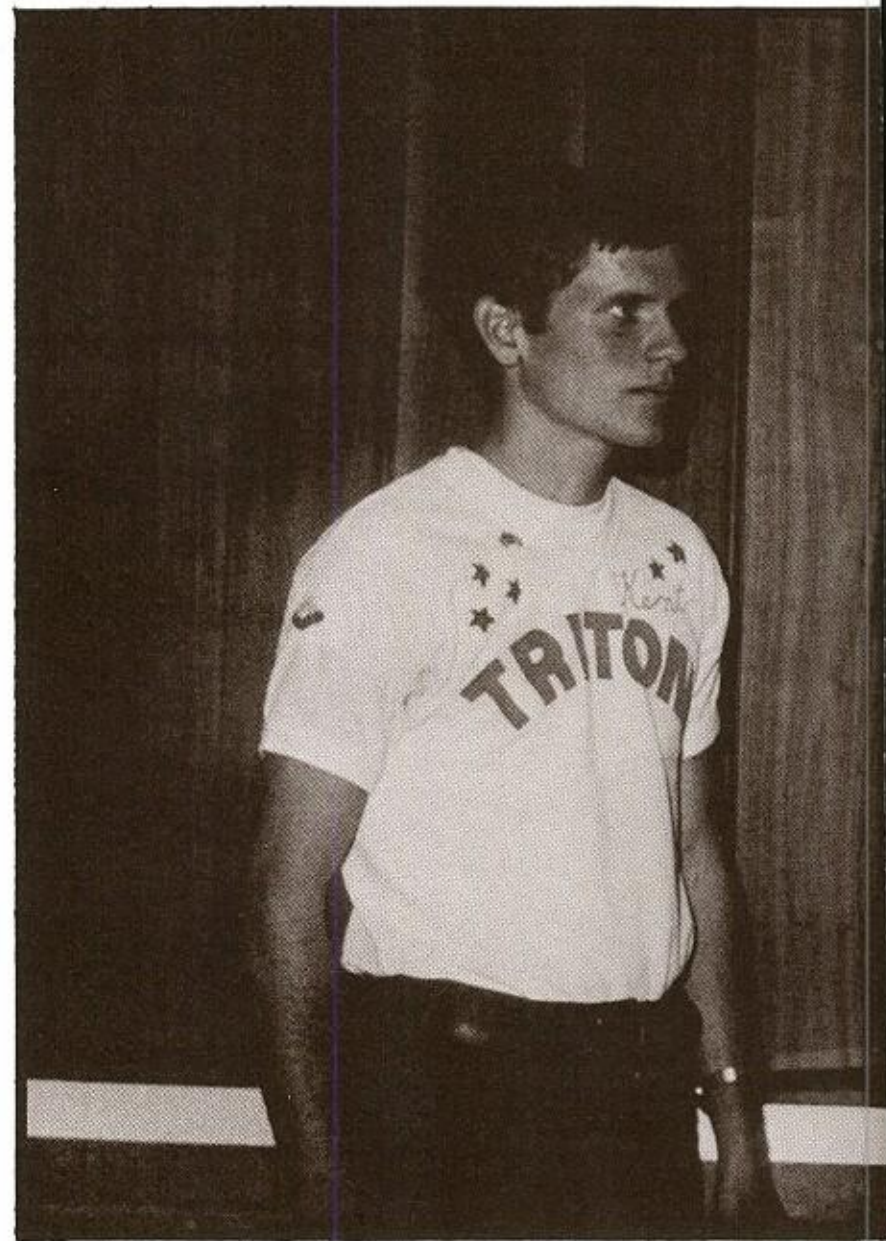

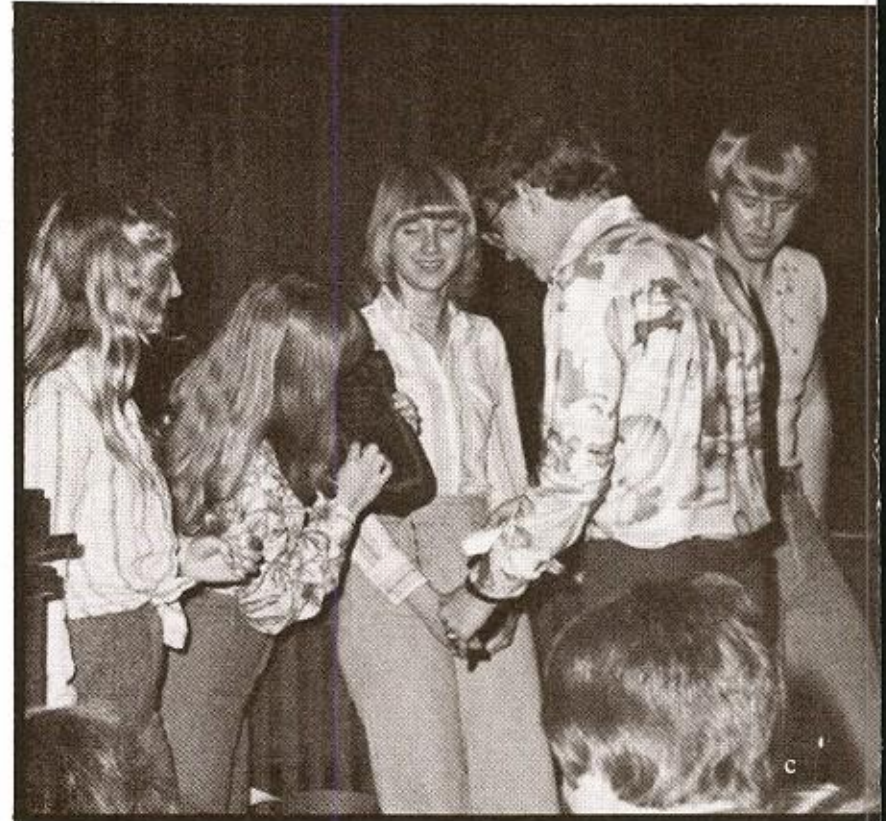

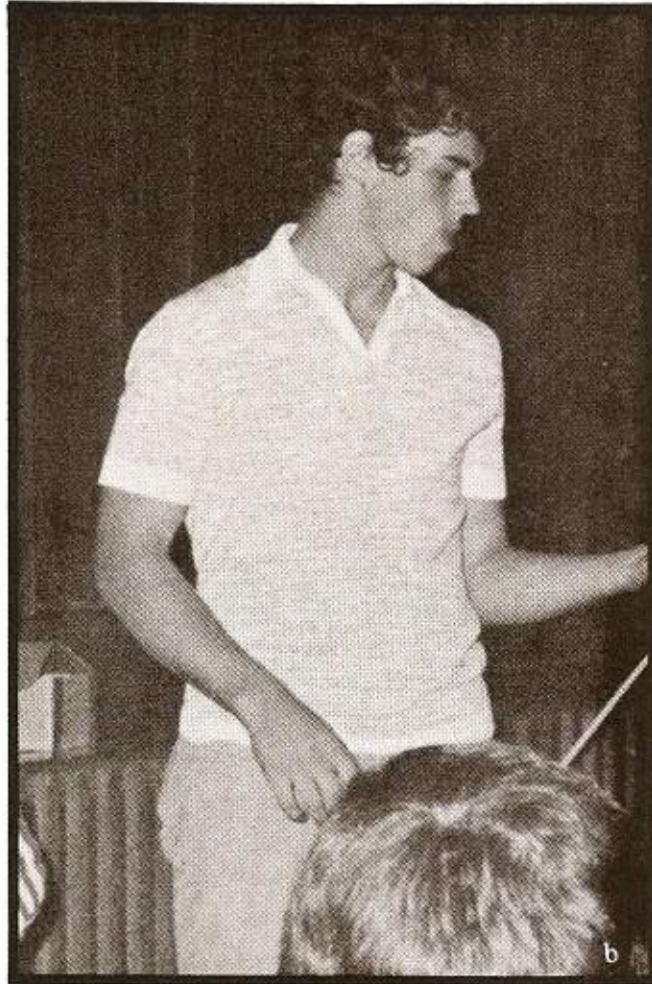

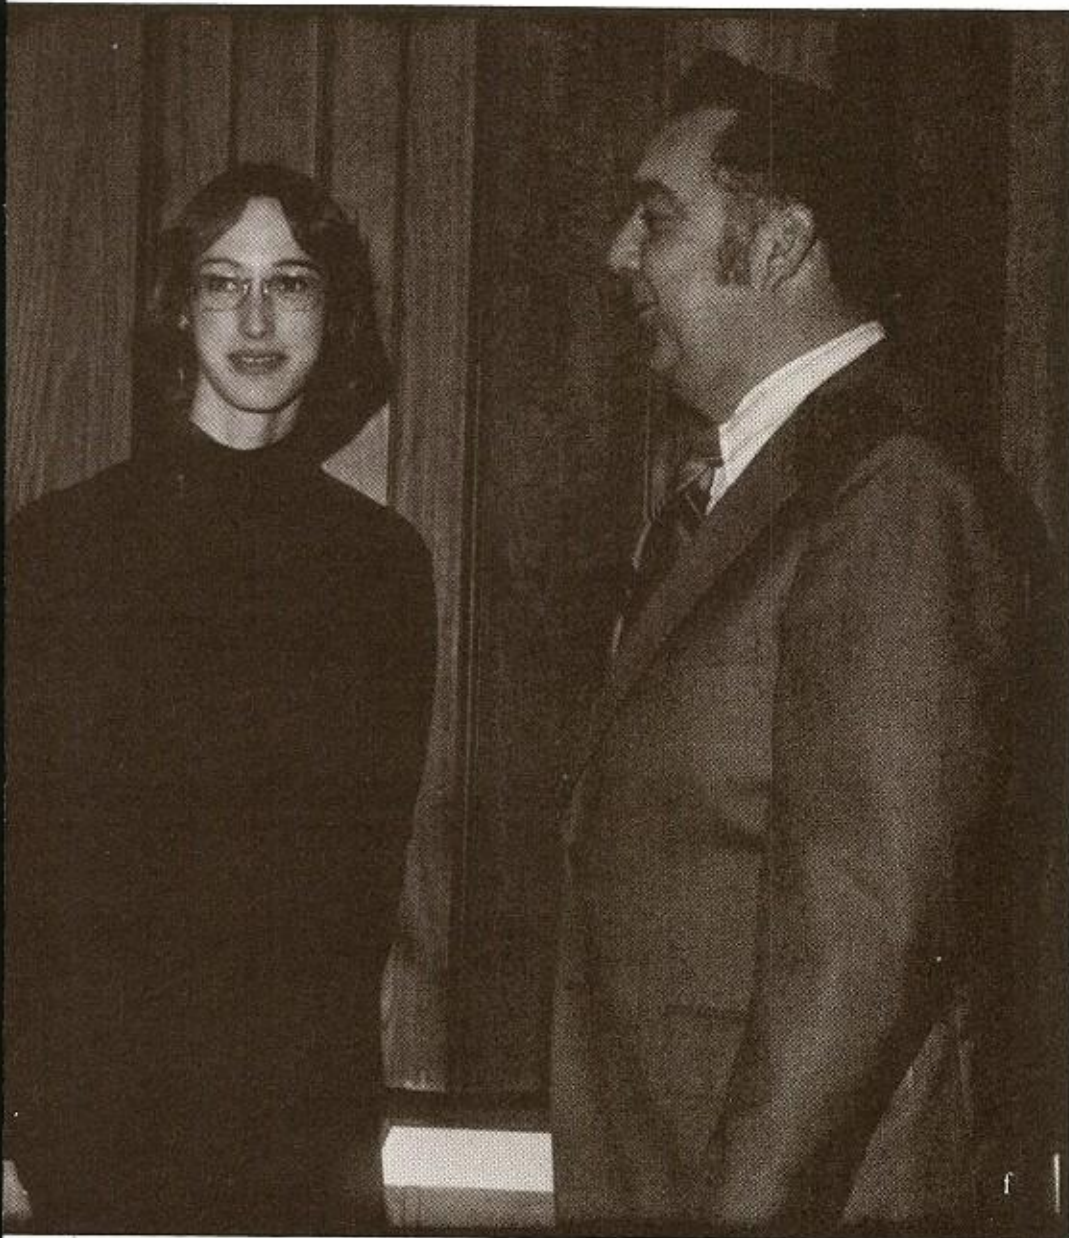

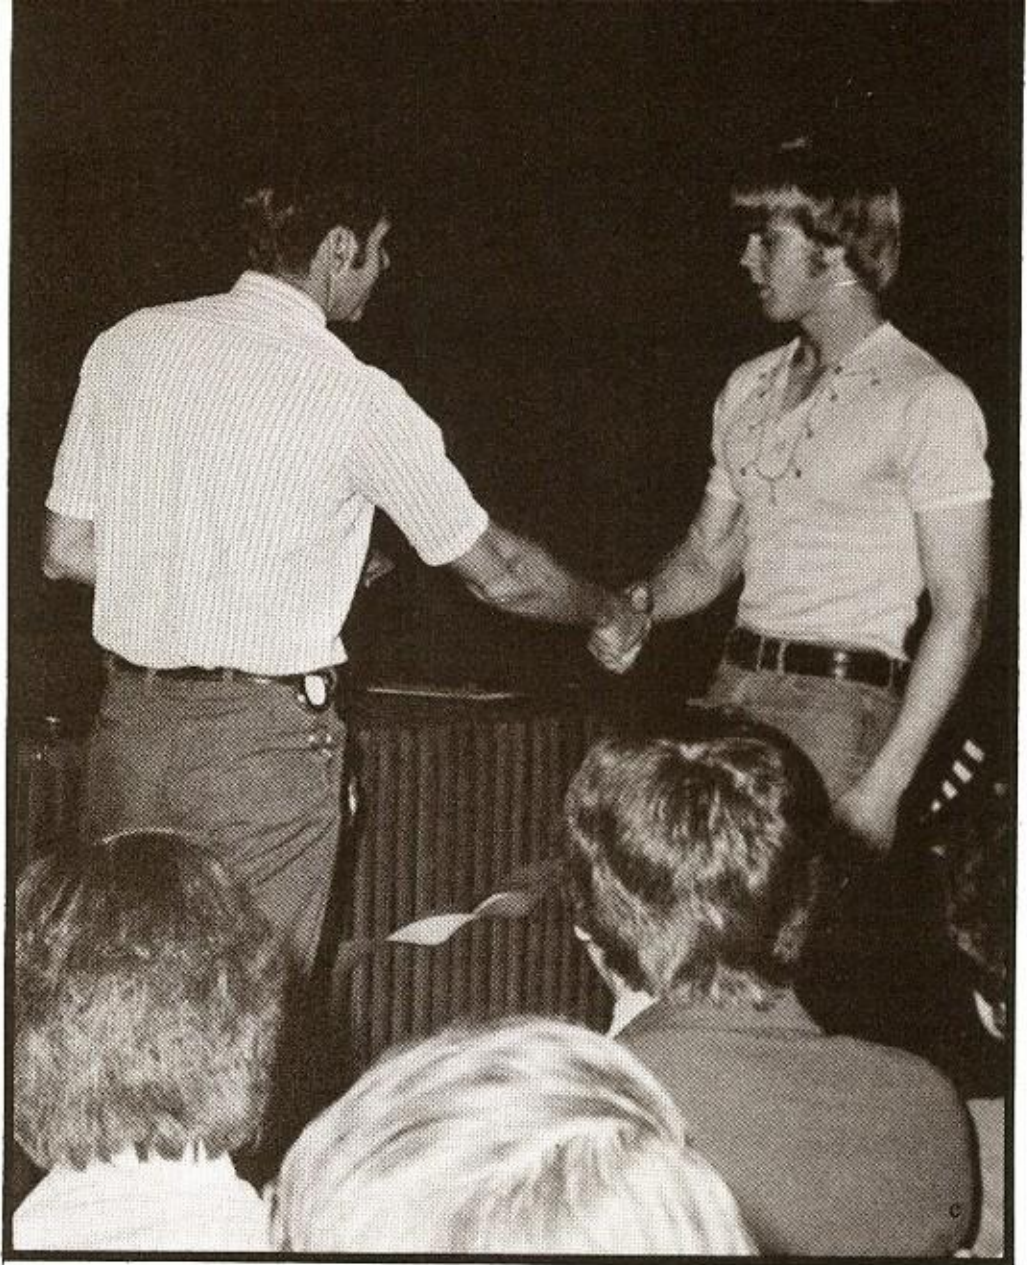

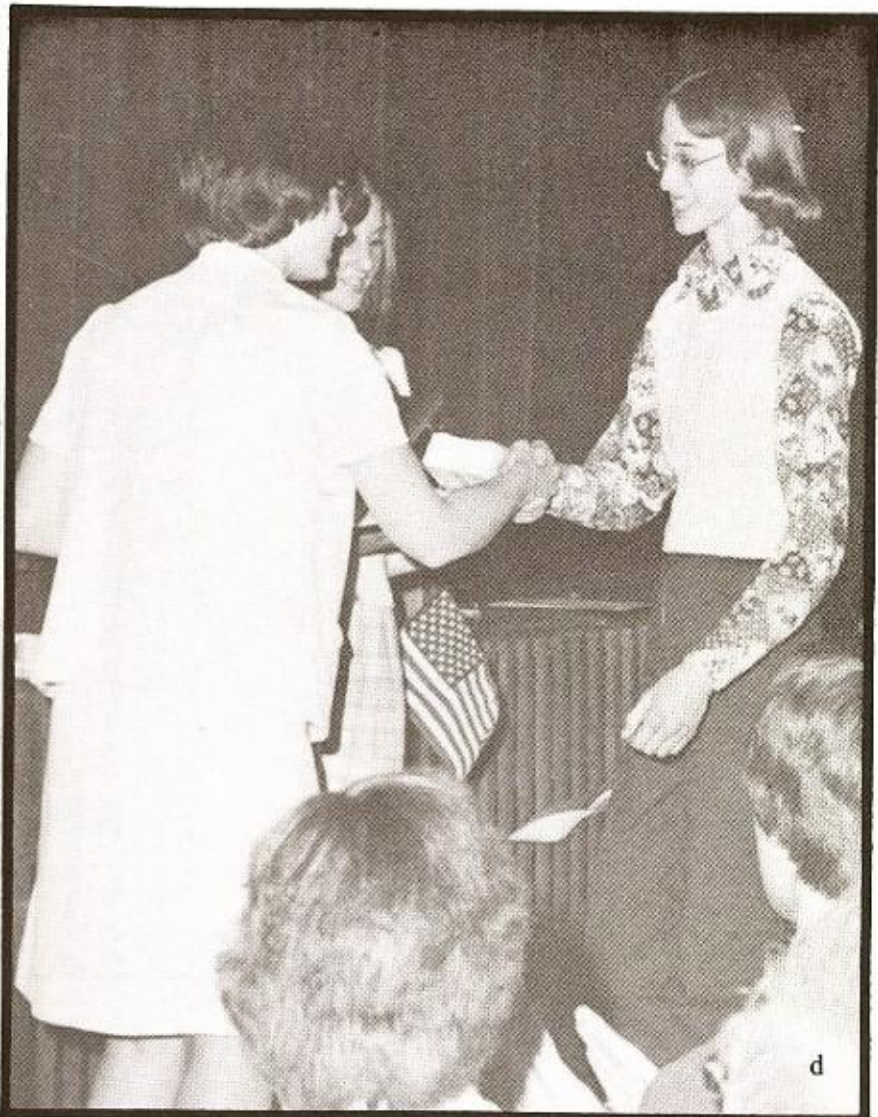

The music department has had a very busy year. They produced a variety of concerts, complete with funny skits, fast dances, and serious music.

a) Guest conductor Wolfgang Snidely Baukerwicker portrayed by N. Lawmaster. b) C. Carpenter dances to "Rock-A-Bye Your Baby". c) "I am King George" says Mr. Gebert. d) D. Carpenter and S. Carter doing a comedy skit "The Birds". e) 1976 Honor Band, directed by Donald Litherland. f) P. Carlberg and K. Miller sing "Another Opening, Another Show". g) D. Drochner as the Statue of Liberty.

Efforts Pay Off

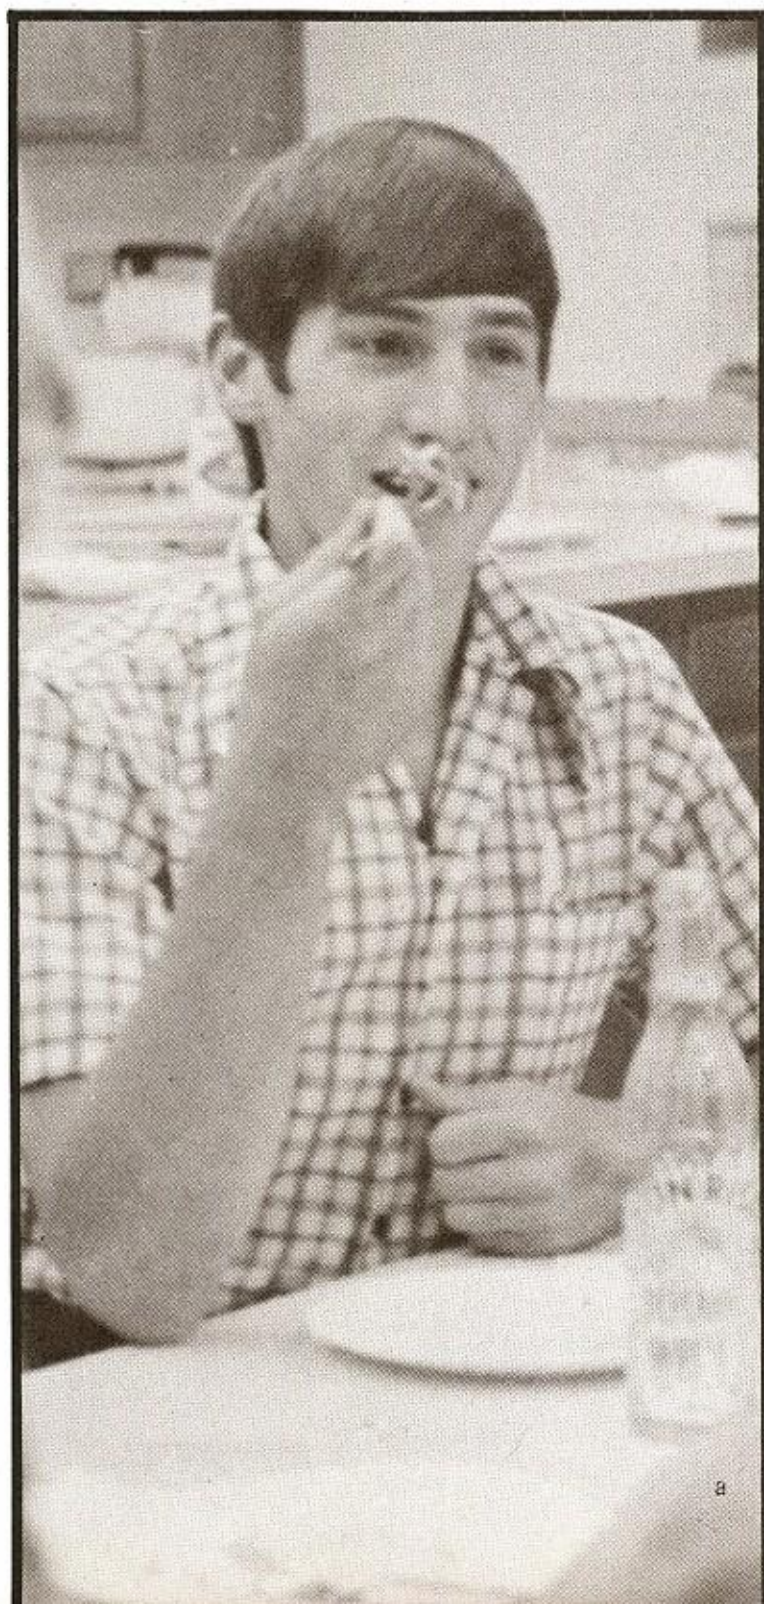

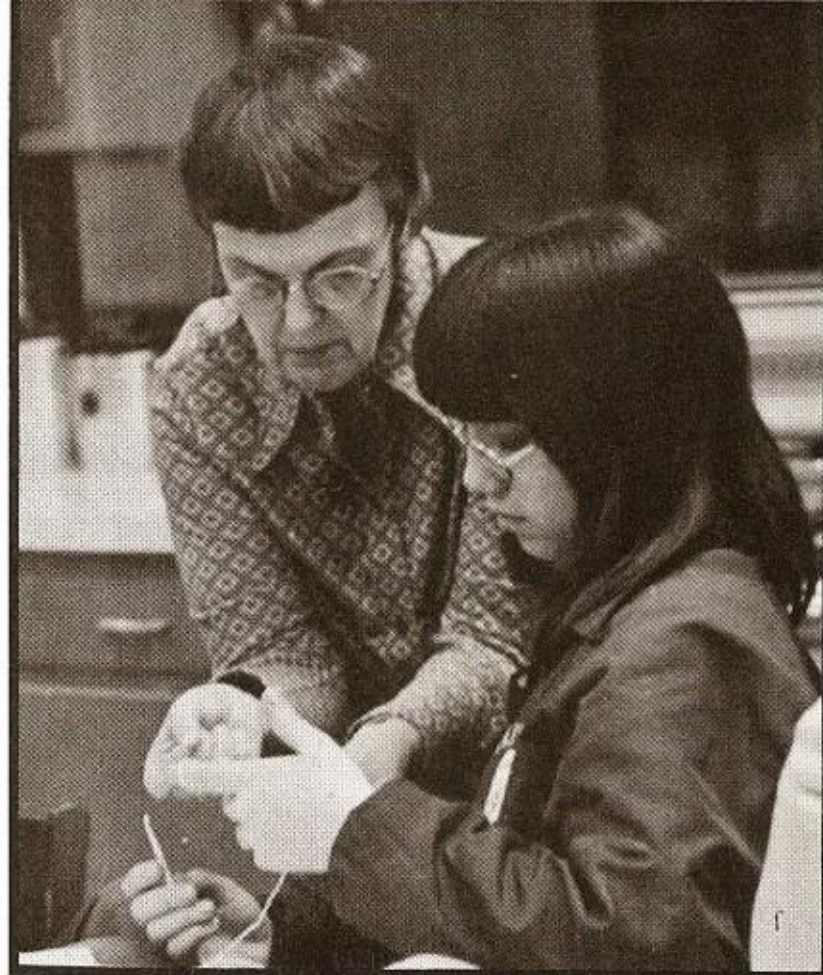

Junior High students received more acknowledgements through the efforts of the Junior High Student Council. Several new award plaques were added.

Many Junior and High School students were honored for their achievements throughout the year.

a) J. Barrett presents L. Kanaar with the Jr. High Art award. b) R. Roahrig hands out High School Art awards. c) Choir members J. Fettes, A. Byrer, D. Drochner, and G. Price present the Arion award to L. Berkey. d) Miss Person and S. Coplen present R. Sill with the John Phillips Sousa award. e) G. Price receives the math award from Mr. Smith. f) Principal Howard Liggett congratulates Valedictorian K. Hewitt and Salutatorian R. Sill.

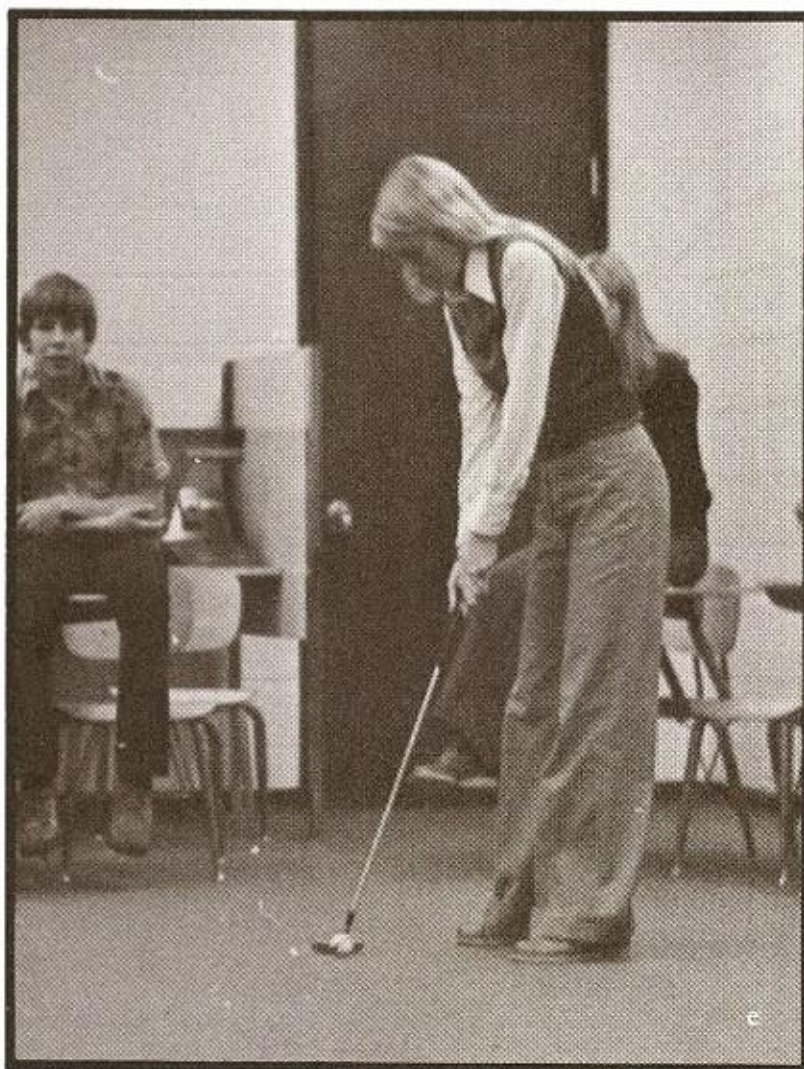

Mini - Madness

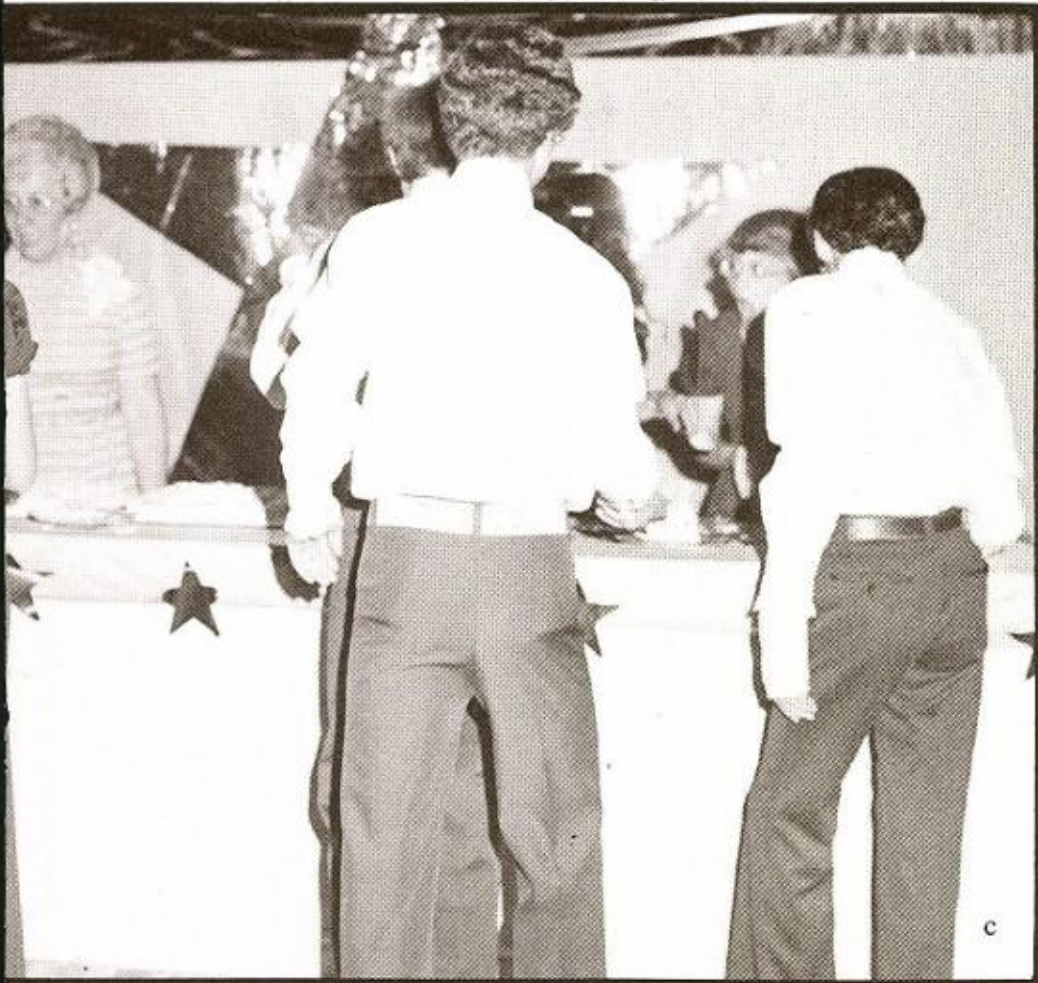

Once again Student Council organized the school for one of their popular activities, Mini Courses. This year there were many varied courses offered from karate to cake decorating. The two-day classe provided all a chance to see if they held an interest in a certain area. It also gave everyone a chance to interact with people in other grades.

a) B. Blackford enjoys a scrumptious meal he prepared himself. b) J. Bates concentrates on her knitting. c) S. Disher learning the fundamentals of cake decorating. d) Seniors S. Sharkey, D. Grubbs, C. Elemore, B. Blackford, T. Ellinger, M. Keene, and J. Vining enjoy fondue in fondue class. e) J. McClarnon watches as T. Klingerman attempts to putt. f) Books aren't Mrs. Wilson's only hobby as she helps D. Garver crochet.

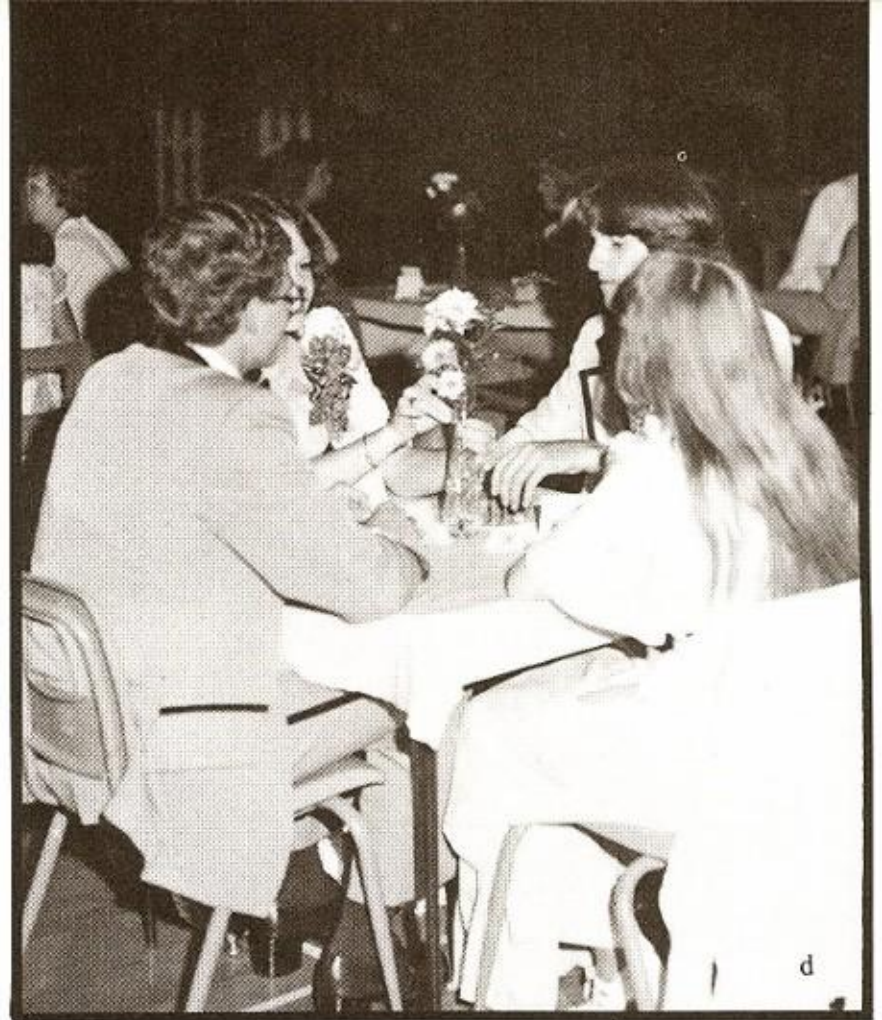

Dance With Me

The Junior Class held the annual Jr.-Sr. Prom May 15, 1976. FLIGHT provided the music for the Grand March, which was conducted by the announcement of King and Queen, Chad Riewoldt and Gina Roy.

a) Chad Riewoldt and Sam Cook watch as Sandy Coplen crowns Gina Roy. b) Seated at the Senior class president's table were D. Grubbs, M. Heckman, President K. Hewitt and T. Baker. c) Miss Wacknitz gives the prom servers their final instructions. d) Enjoying the evening are L. Berkey, T. Sharkey, S. Cook, and B. Carothers. e) Prom Queen Gina Roy and King Chad Riewoldt pose for a candid.

BRAIN POWER

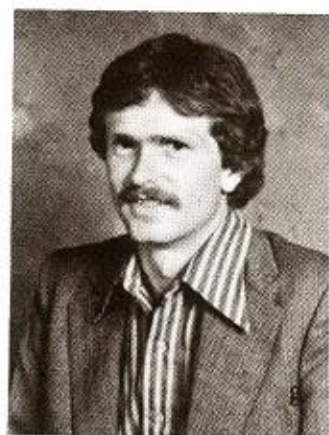

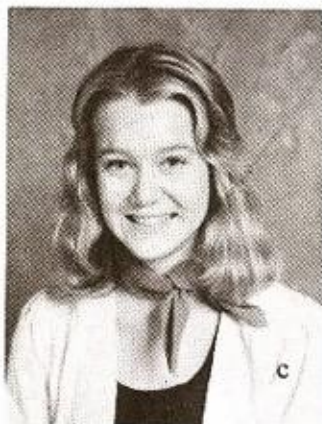

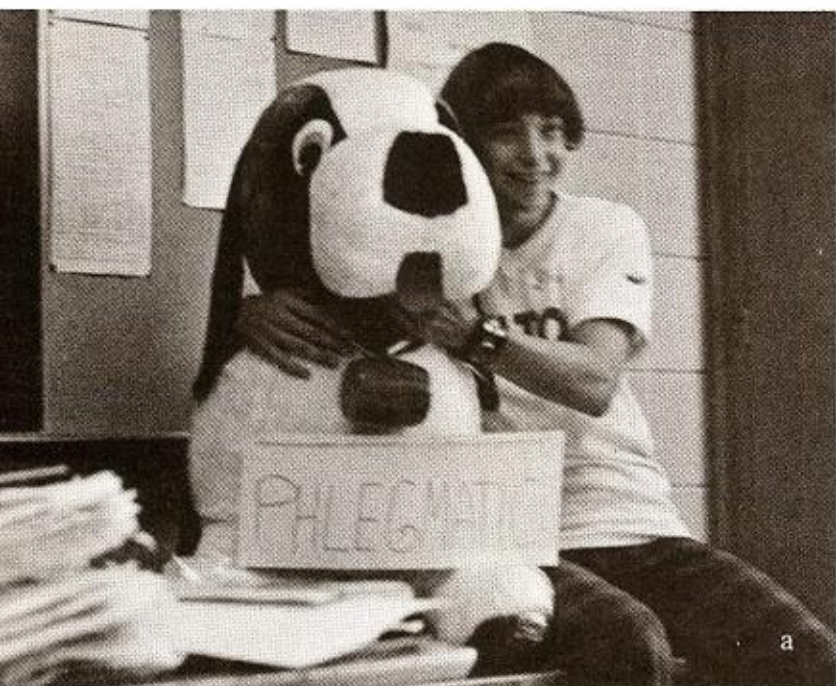

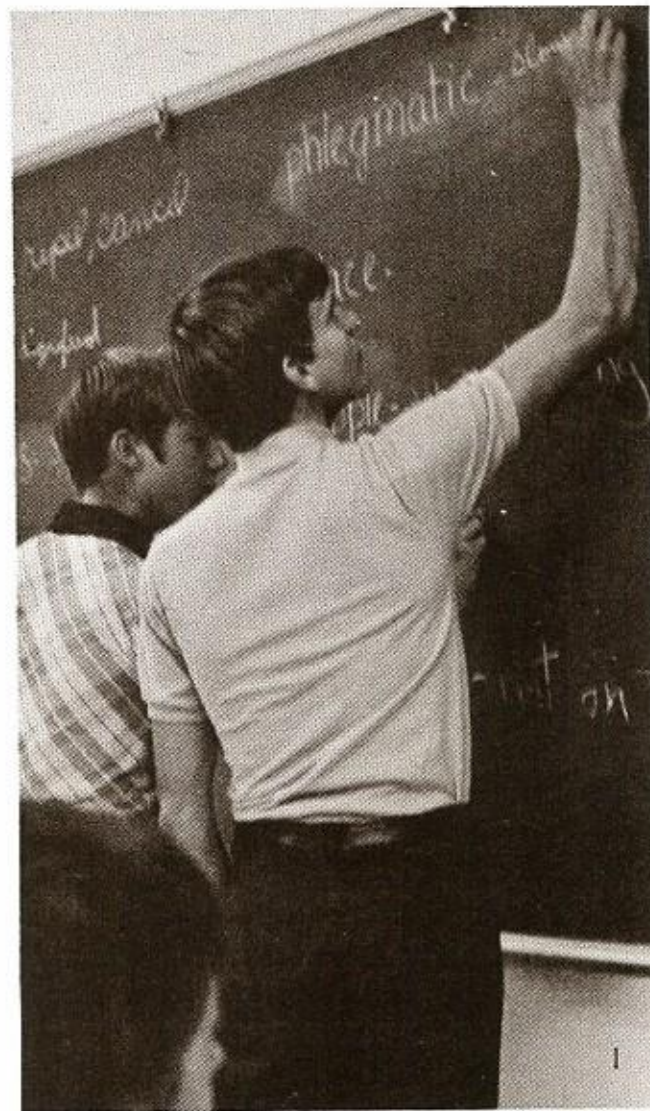

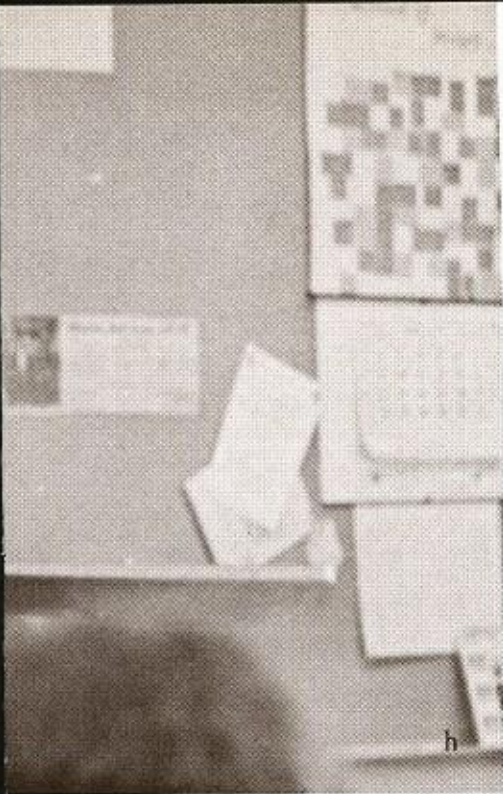

a) Randy Clarke skillfully lettering a drafting design.
 b) Oops! Lisa Banic goes over the vault one way or another.
 c) Jody Jeffries, winner of 1st place flute trio in State contest practices for her performance.
 d) Kent Hewitt, Tom Ellinger, and Stacy Richer measure momentum in Physics. e) Harold Shaffer welding in metals. f) Work, work, study, study, Deb McAuliffe has new position for study. g) Jerry Bradley demonstrates how to make ECLAIRES EN FRANCAIS.

ENGLISH

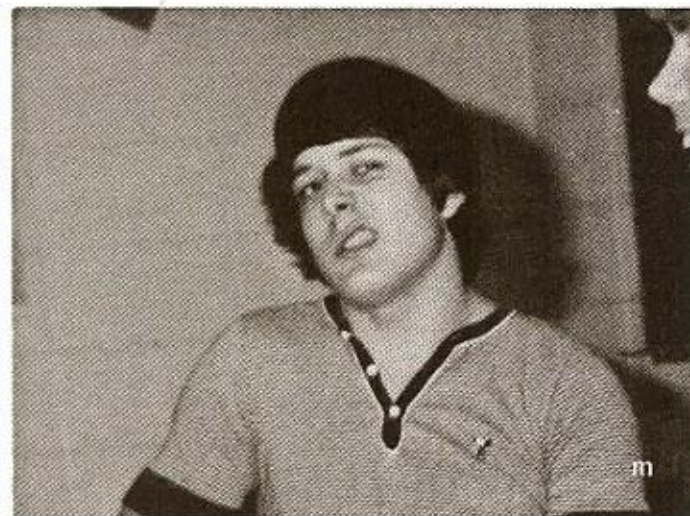

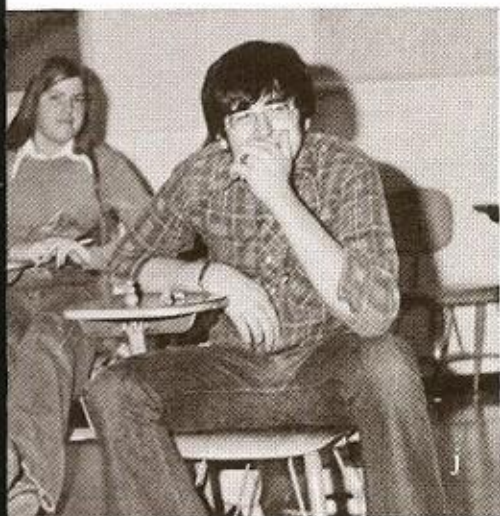

English. Most people think of it as boring but the teachers at Triton really make it come alive. The Freshmen have a great time each year with moderations of "Romeo and Juliet". And the Sophomores speech classes are always something to see. They have a wide variety too so everyone will have their specialities. They range from a record analysis and pet peeves to demonstrations. And Mrs. Conways junior English class took a field trip to I.V. Tech. for a tour to stir interest in furthering their education. The Senior class recreated 1984 by stimulating debate sessions with the Composition 2 classes to learn team work in debates.

a) Phlegmatic is not the word for Dave Ridenour. b) A bright smile indicates that Christie Smith is enjoying her English class. c) Ms. Gallo, Batchelors degree in English at I.U. d) Mrs. Conway, Master's degree in Education at I.U. e) Ms. Wynant, B.S. at I.U. f) Mrs. Beatty, B.S. from Purdue. g) Mr. Shuppert, B.A. in Speech and English at Purdue. h) Debbie Garver suffers through the introduction for her speech. i) Is it anamana pia or panamanaia? j) Attempting to recreate a 1984 atmosphere the one class thinks — HATE k) These girls get it together with after school discussions with Ms. Gallo. l) Let's see, Shuppert spelled backwards is — Treppuhs. m) Tim Fleagle is thinking — this is relevant, this is relevant, this relevant?

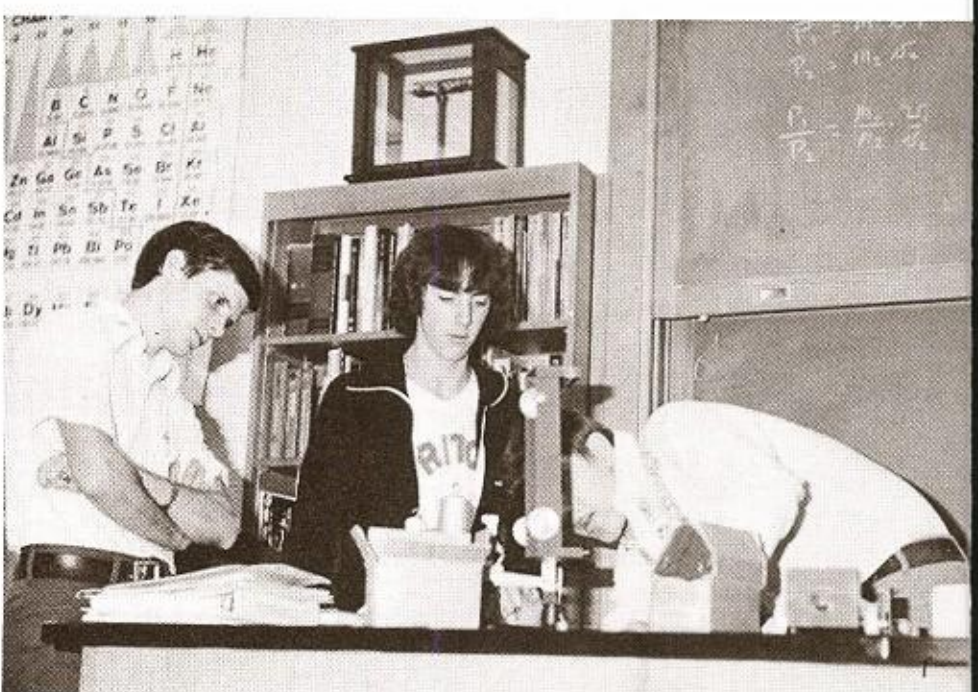

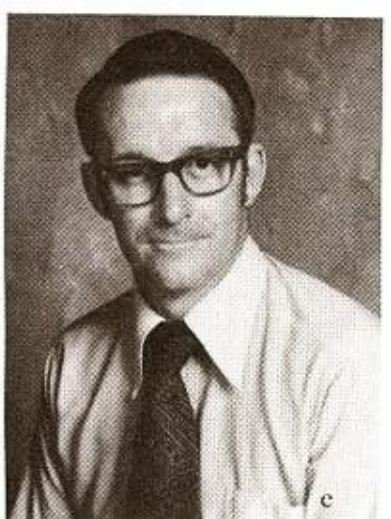

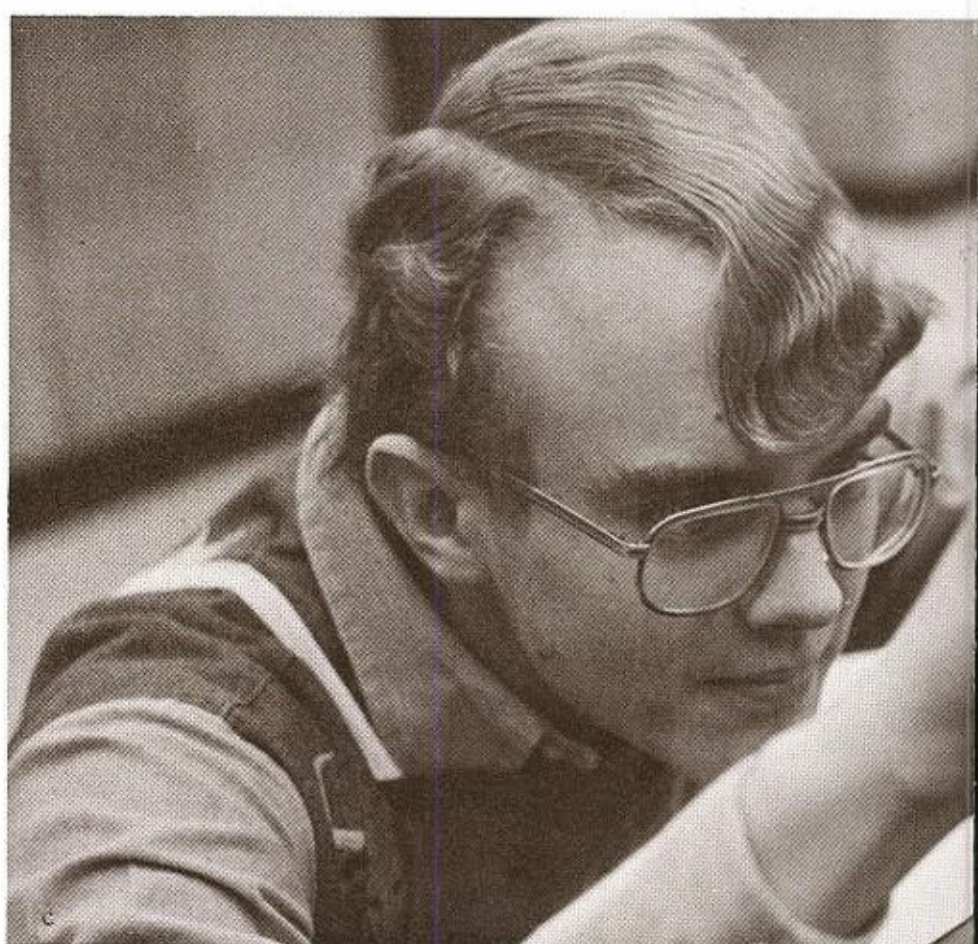

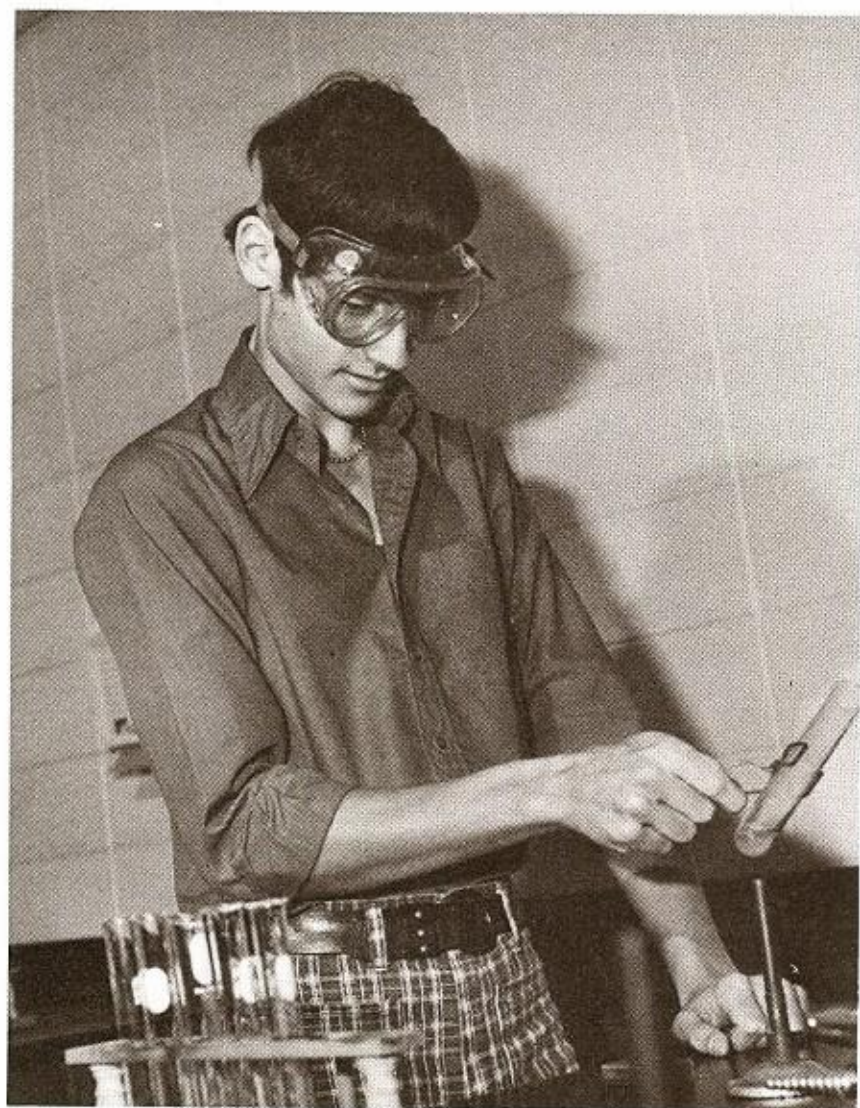

Wm. Hewitt

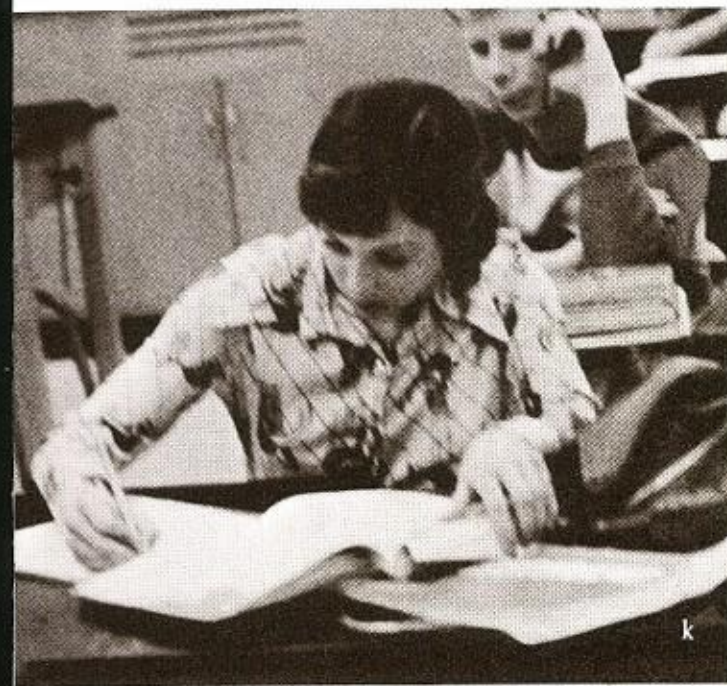

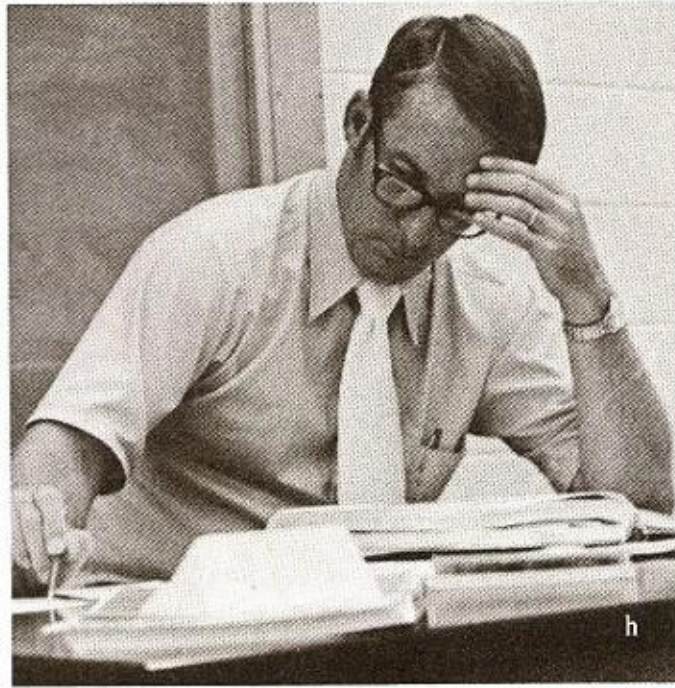

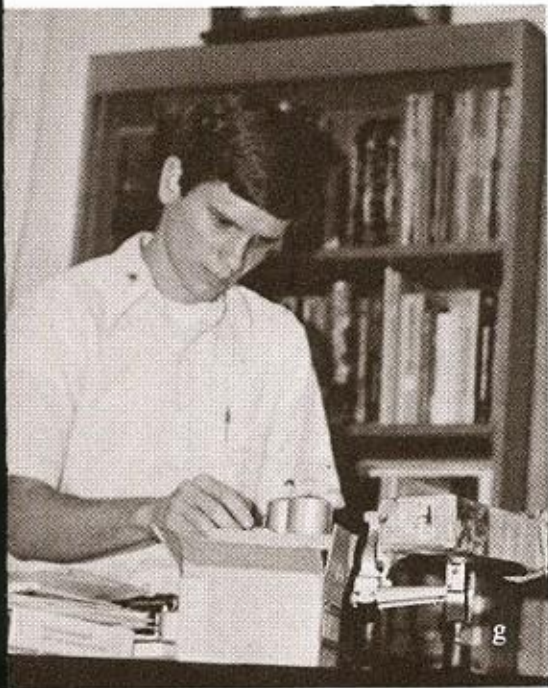

What do you think of when someone says "chemistry class"? beakers and test tubes full of acids. How about "biology"? Bisecting frogs and worms or doing a blood test. There is a lot of book work but the labs make it all worthwhile. The teachers deserve a pat on the back for leading the mass confusion, pricking the fingers of the weak-nerved people, and throwing out all the dissected worms.

a) Dave Carpenter heating a test tube. b) Mr. Whittaker, B.A. at I.U. c) Lenny Berkey concentrating on an experiment. d) Mr. Whittaker. 3) Mr. Burris f) Kent Hewitt, Mike Keene, and Tom Ellinger. g) Kent Hewitt h) Mr. Shively, B.S. and M.S. at Ball State. j) A little disagreement doesn't get in the way of these two. k) Nancy Montague studies biology. l) Mike Keene and Susan Bessinger.

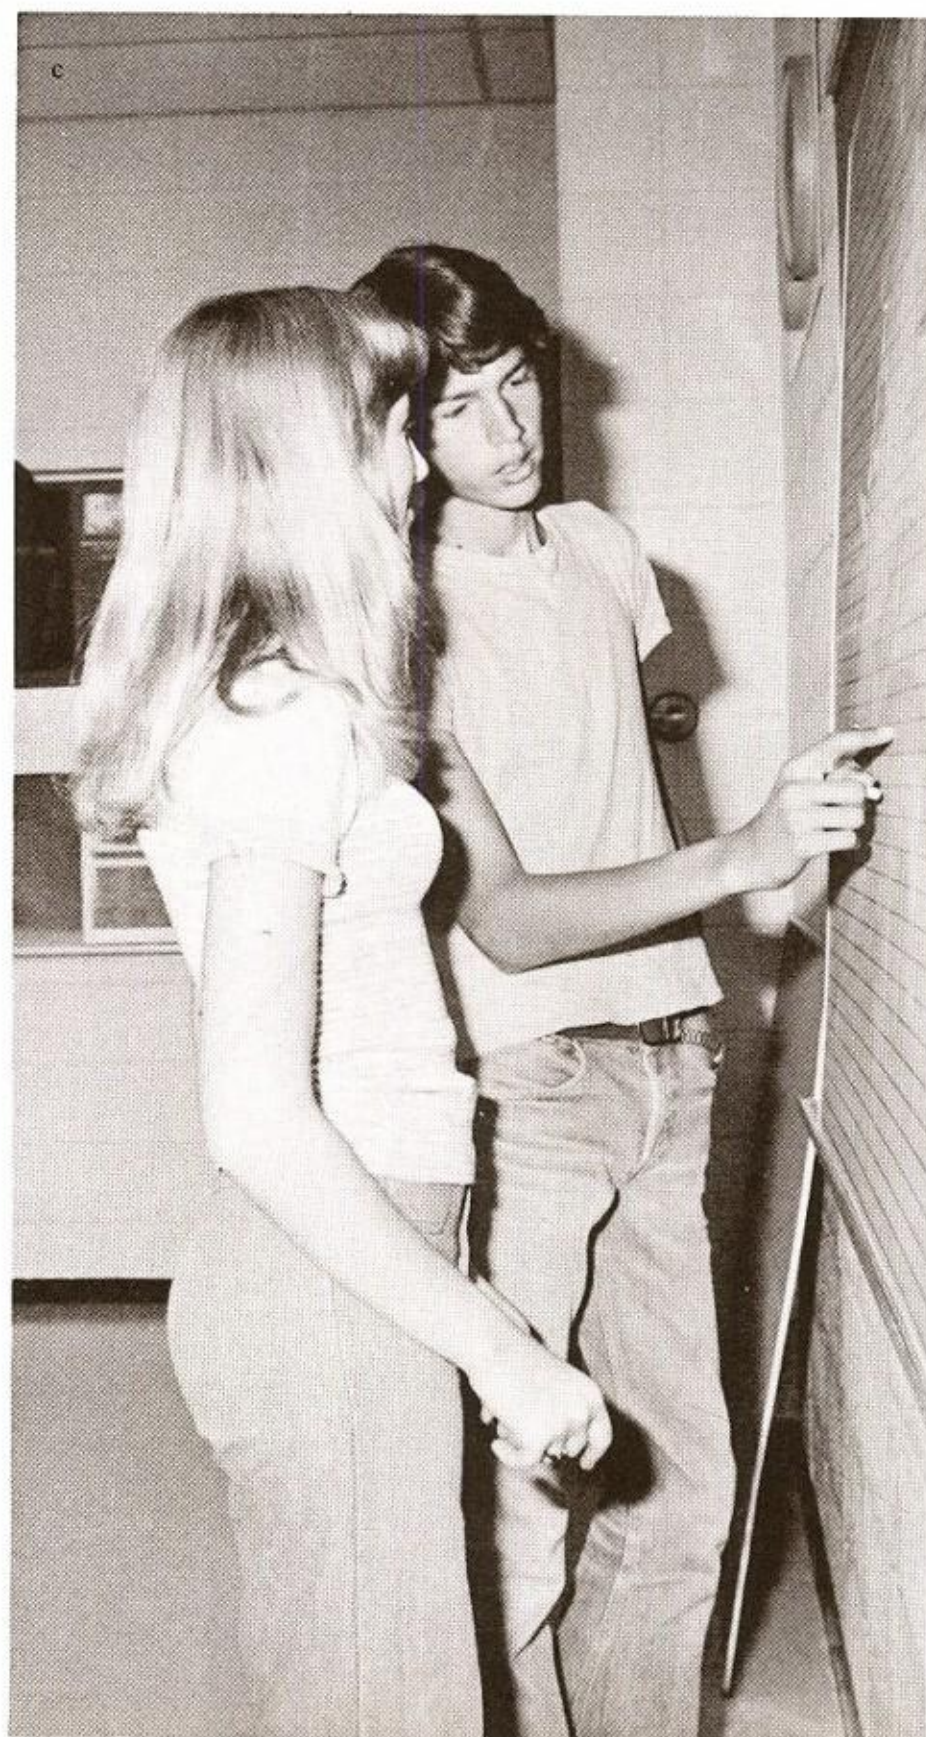

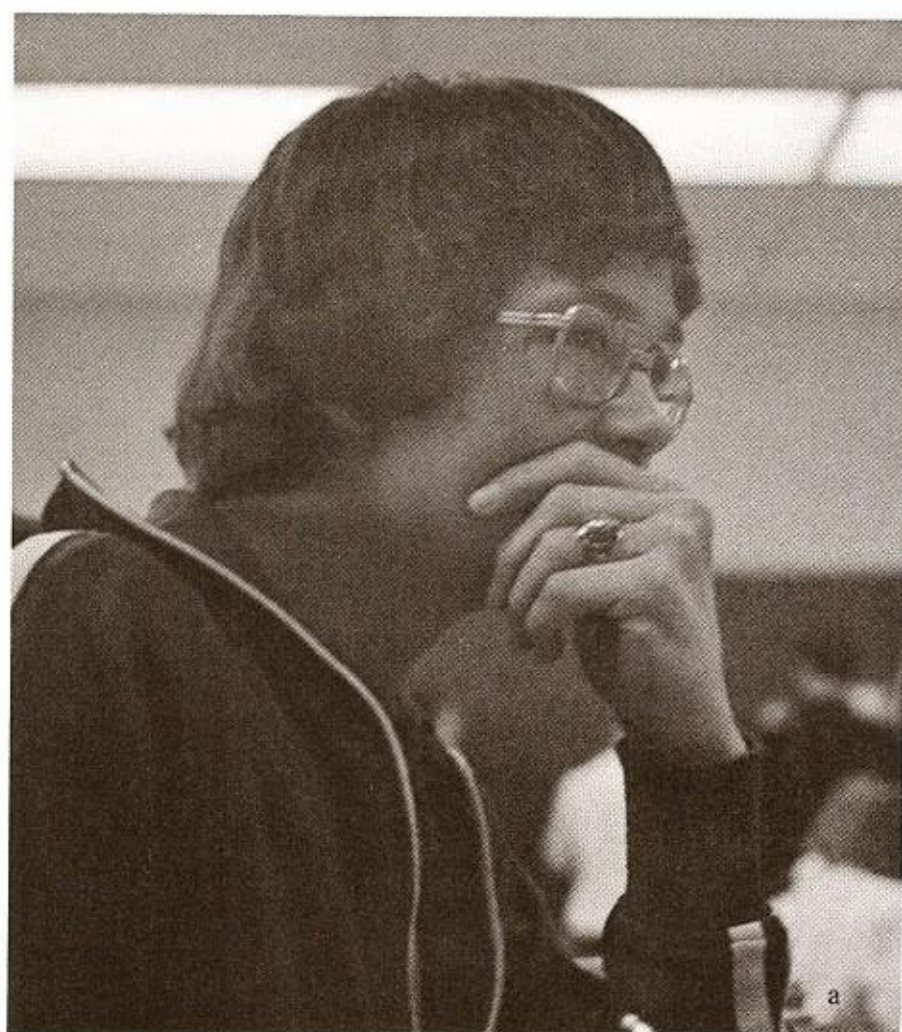

Science

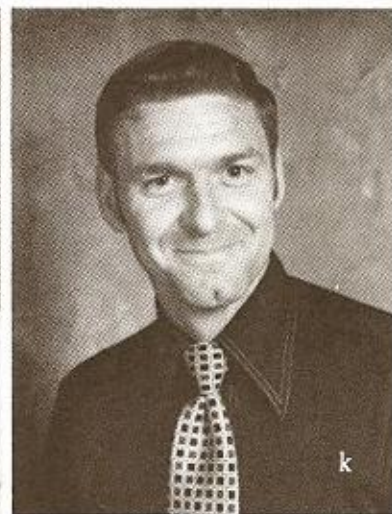

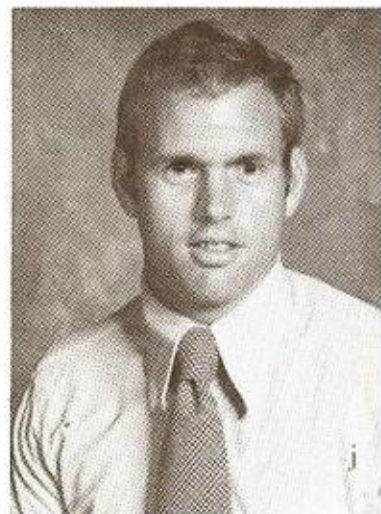

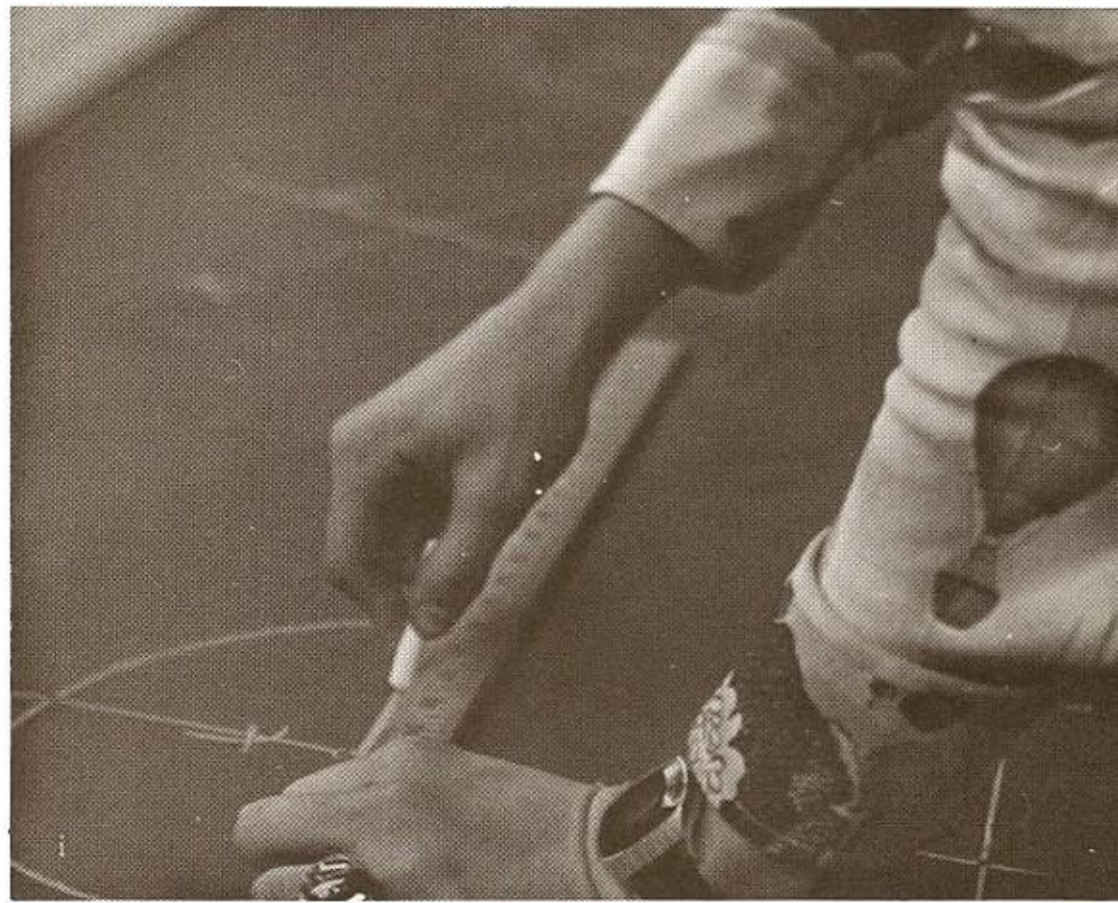

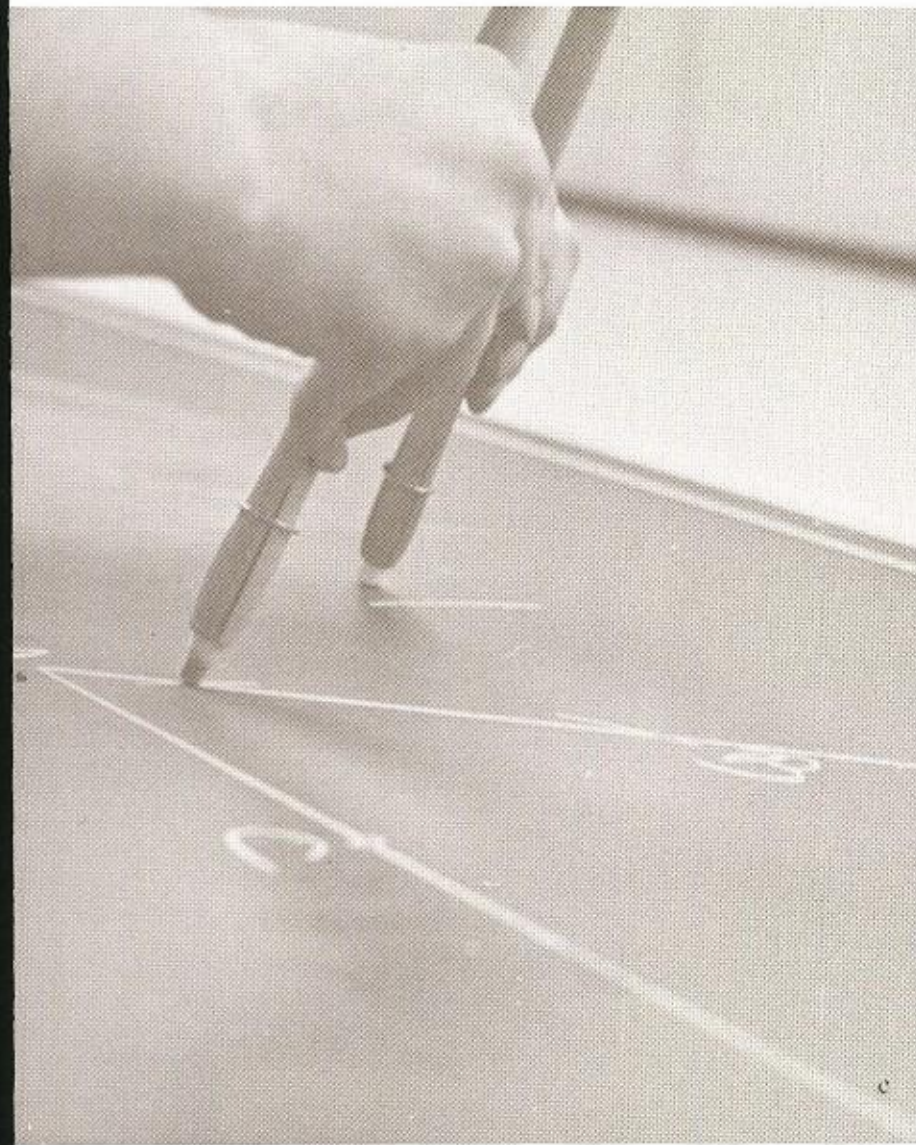

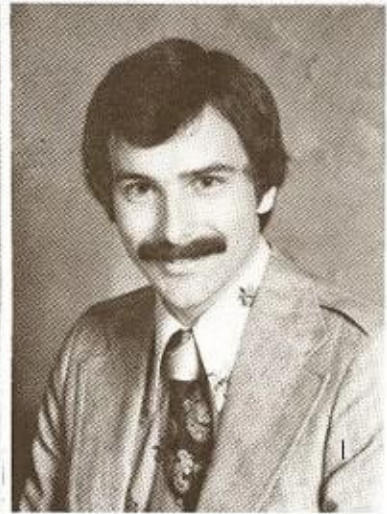

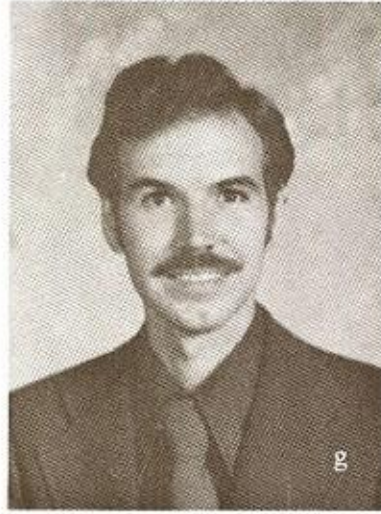

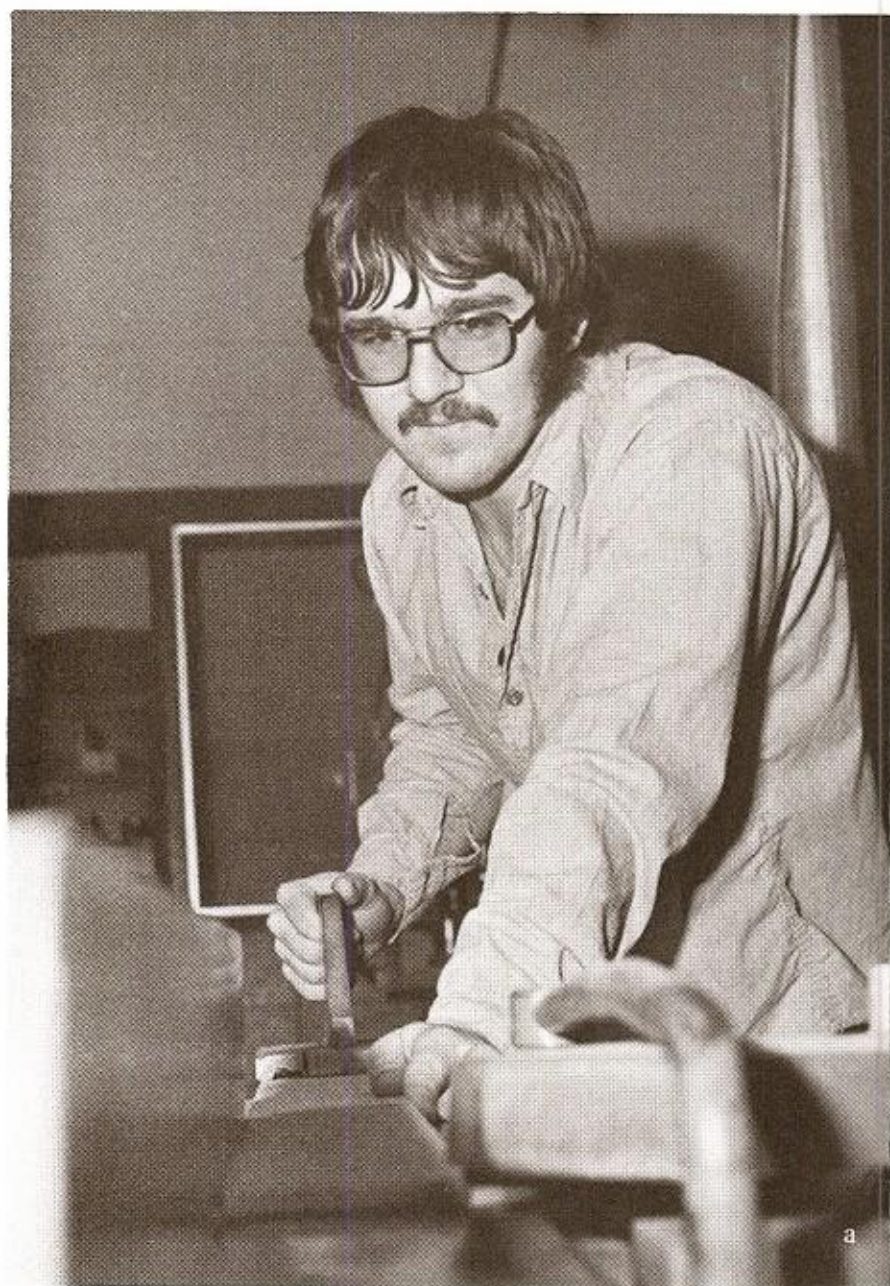

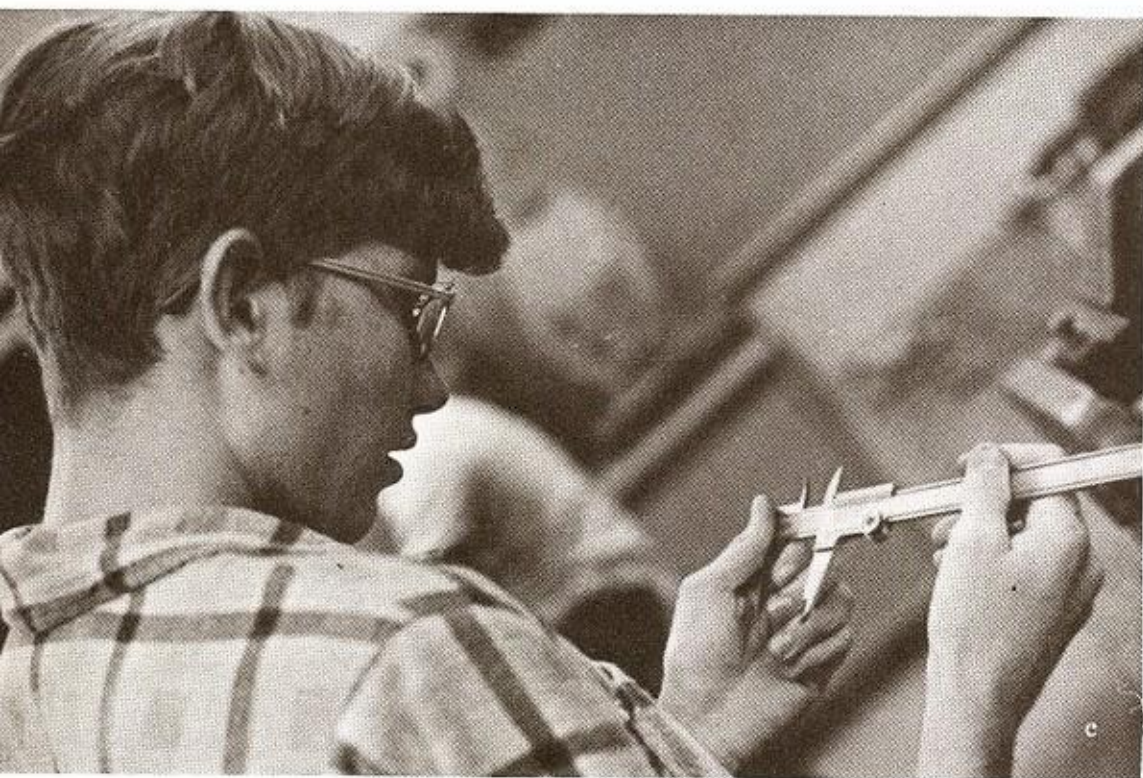

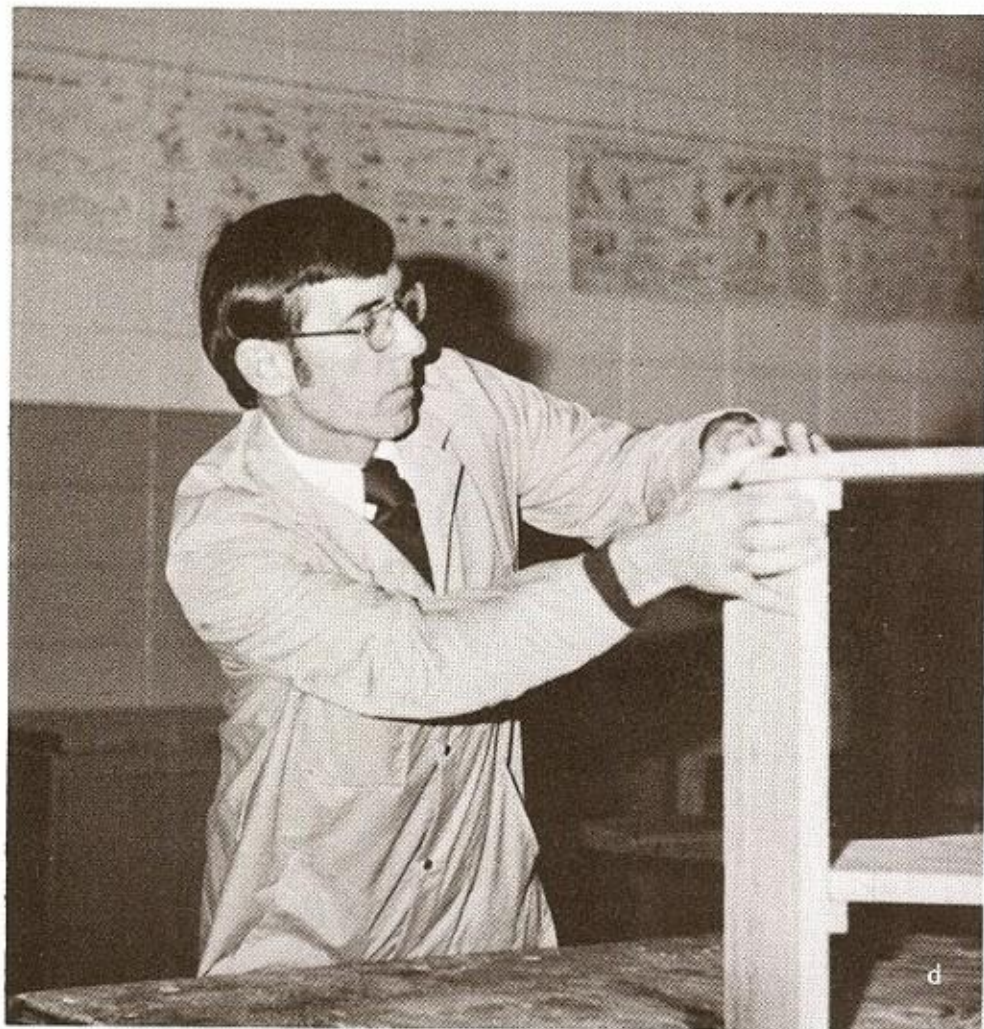

It is truly amazing to see all the things that the math teachers can FIND to do with numbers. And it seems they either assign a different thing each day or assign the same thing over and over again to make it stick. But few students realize the importance of what they learn can help them for the rest of their life.

a) I'm not gonna' tell him that's not a triangle. b) Mr. Smith demonstrates his artistic ability. c) Deb Anthony and Brett Ammerman pull together their geometry abilities to solve a problem. d) A FRUSTRATED Jeff Anderson works hard with his trusty calculator. e) B cognet C. f) Barb Downey g) Mr. Baughman — B.A. Western Michigan University, M.A. Western Michigan University. h) Mr. Bridge — B.S. Manchester, M.S. — I.U. and Prin. L.B.S. i) geometry Construction j) Mr. Lemler — B.A. Wofford College, Spartanburg, S.C. k) Mr. Smith — B.S. manchester, M.S. Southeastern State l) Mr. Burkhart — B.S. Ball State

Careers Unlimited

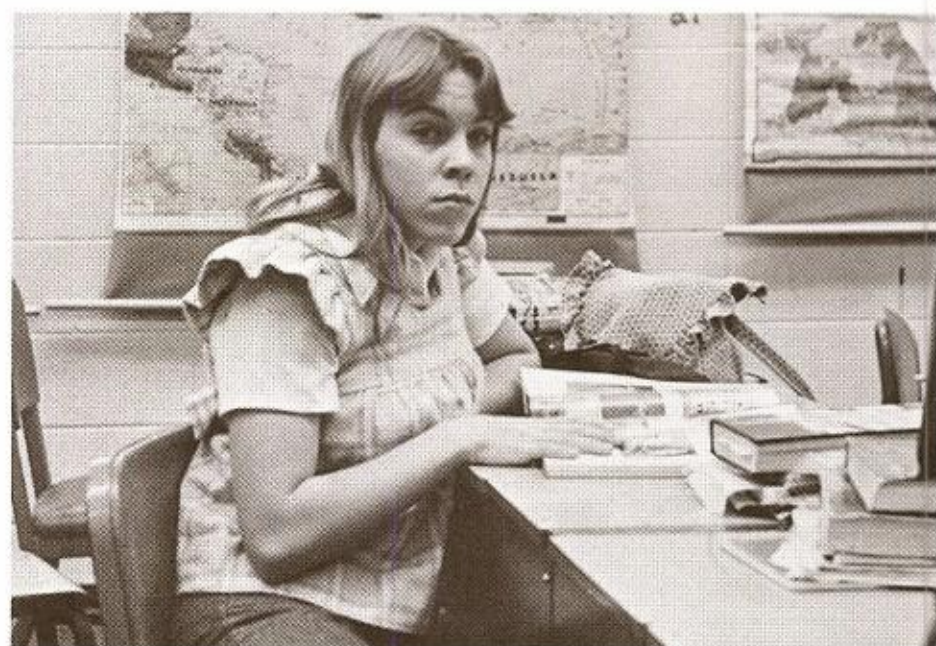

Mass production was the idea of the Jr. High shop program this year. An assembly line made up of different groups of kids who each had a separate assignment. The projects ranged from jewelry boxes to letter holders to nut crackers. And it is always a race to get drafting drawings done on time. The agriculture department is really involved in the F.F.A. program. They are continuing the corn plot again this year. Livestock and crops judging also play an important part in the agriculture program.

a) Tim Sauer eye balling the table saw. b) Hands hard at work. c) The teachers of the Industrial Arts Department: Hank McClenning, B.S. from Illinois State University, who teaches Agriculture, David Nolte, B.S. from I.S.U., who teaches drafting, and Sam Davis B.S. from I.S.U. and a M.A. at St. Francis, and he is in charge of auto mechanics and metals. f) Kent Shaffer. g) Mark Scott showering himself with wood chips but slowly working away. g) John Chapman giving special help to Richard Cummins. h) Doug Johnson on precising a house perhaps.

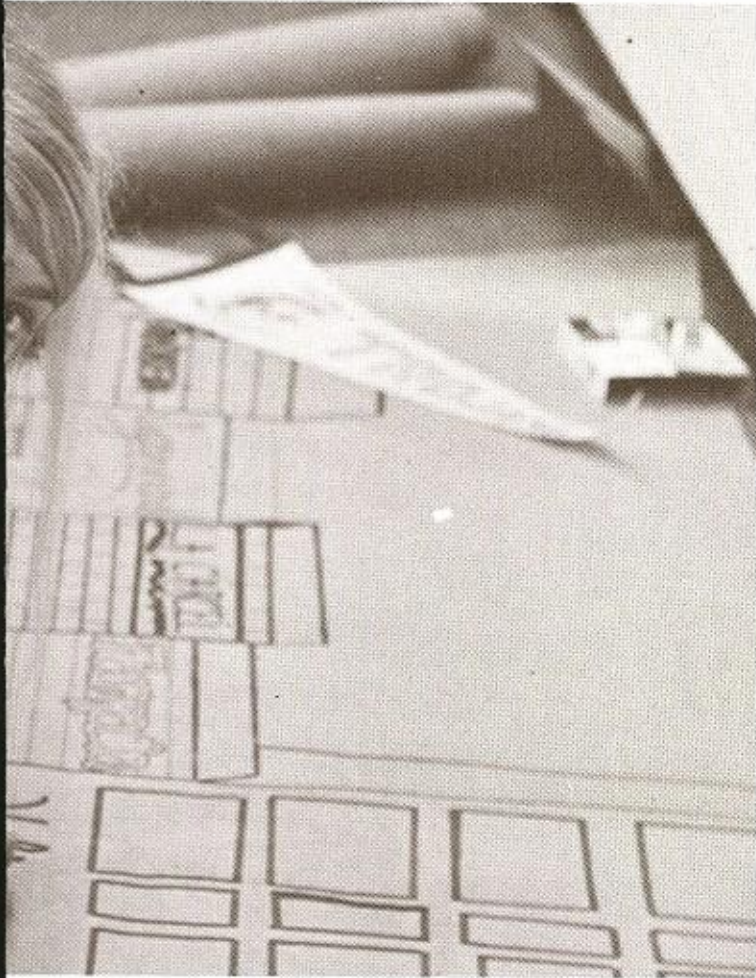

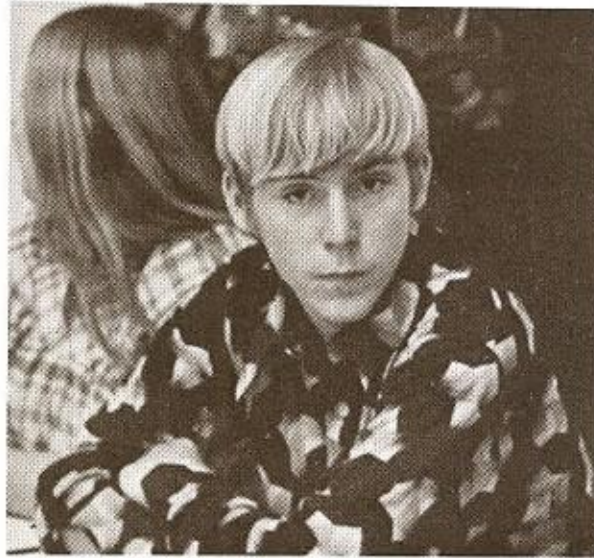

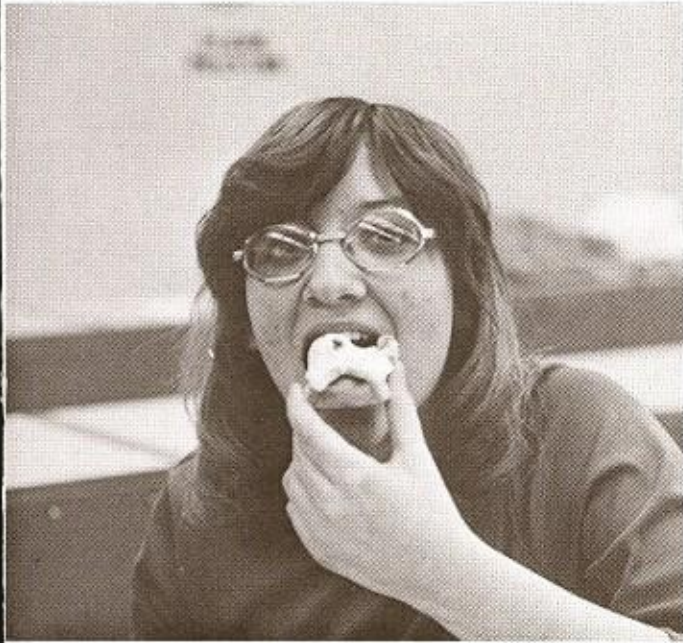

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

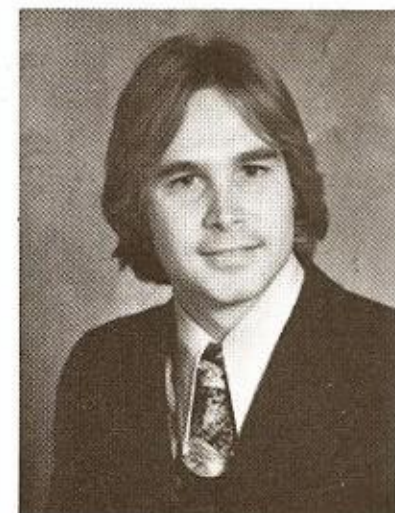

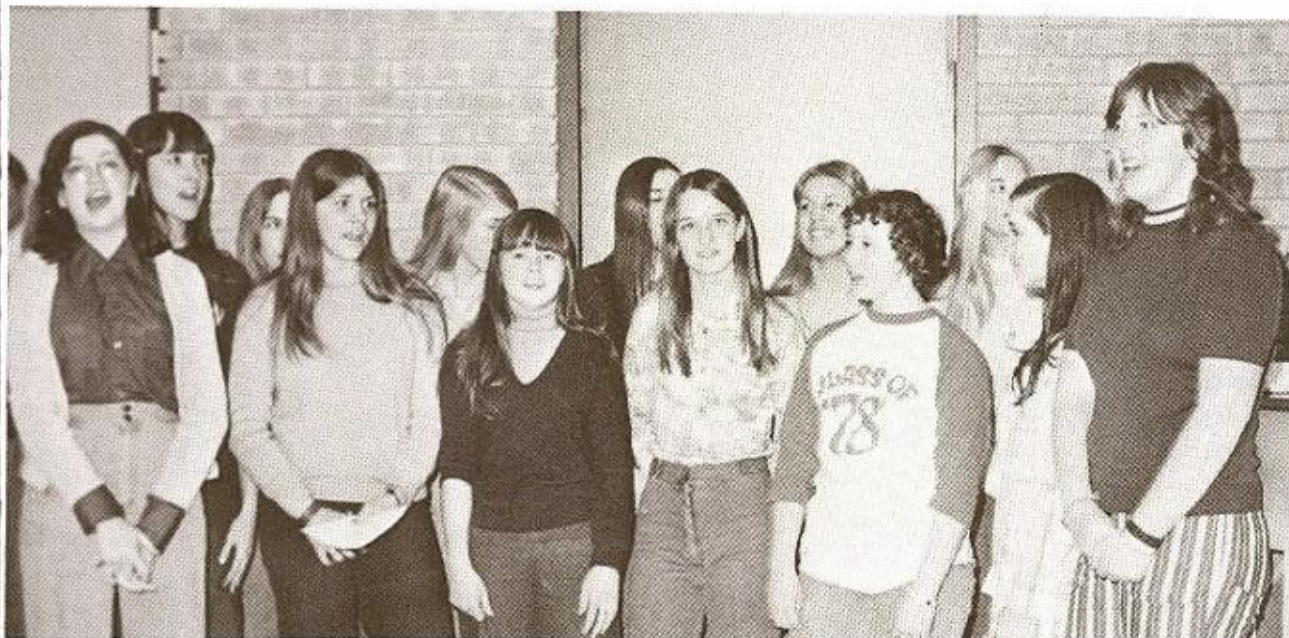

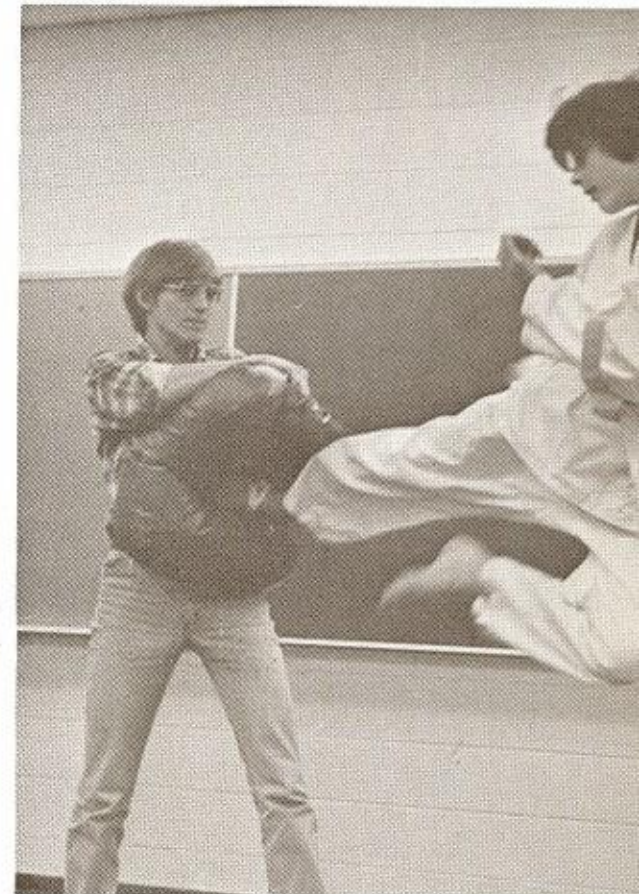

Ah, the delicacies of foreign dishes! Each six weeks is just full of projects. They range from soggy tacos to valentines to Christmas carols. Any foreign language student knows the joys of (and discomforts) of tasting the professional attempts of their fellow classmates to create a great dish. But you are in no way confined to cooking. One first year class had a great time with valentines.

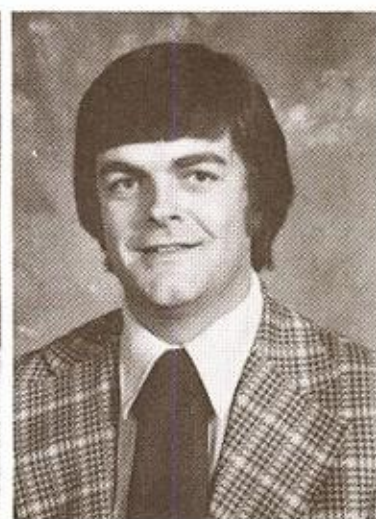

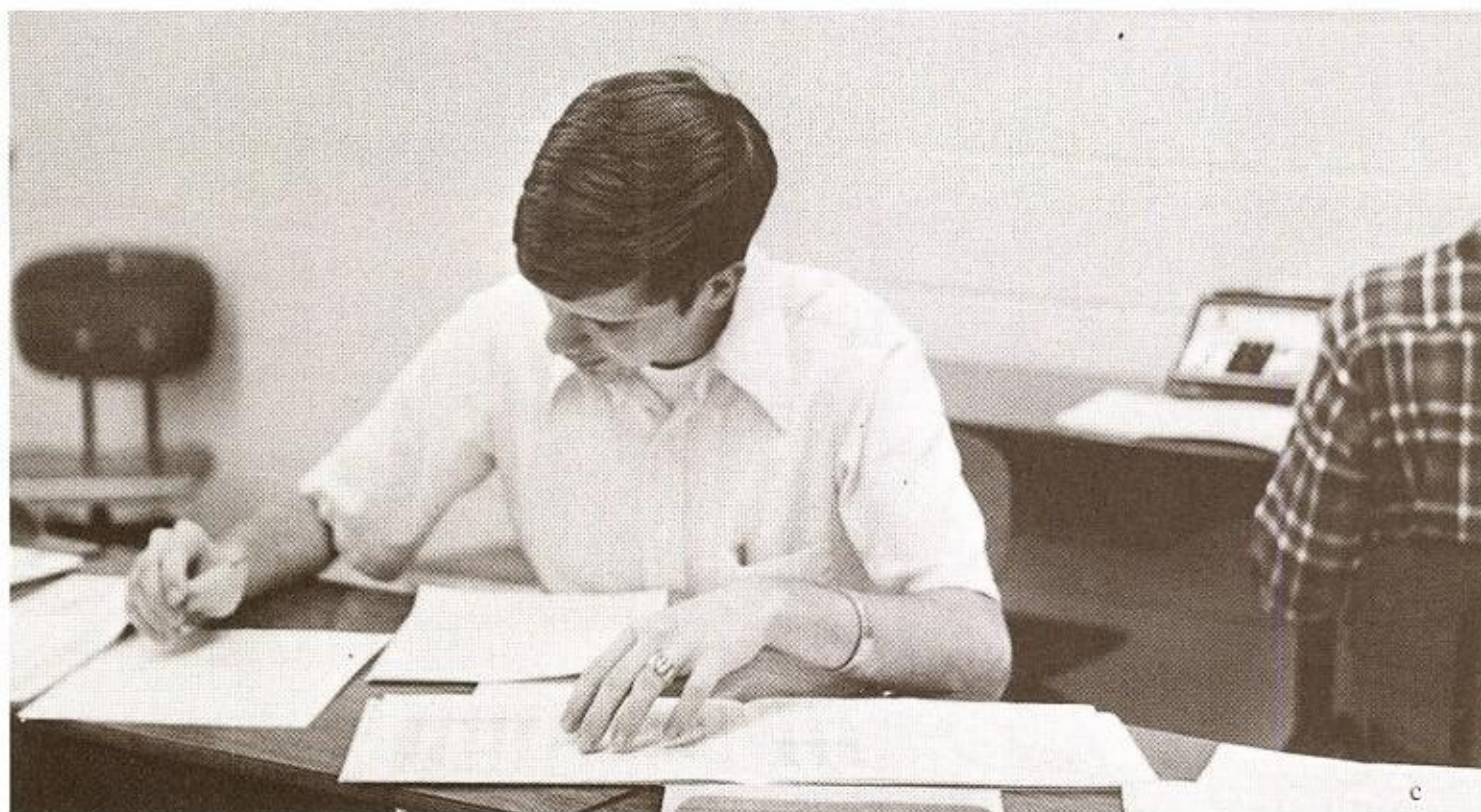

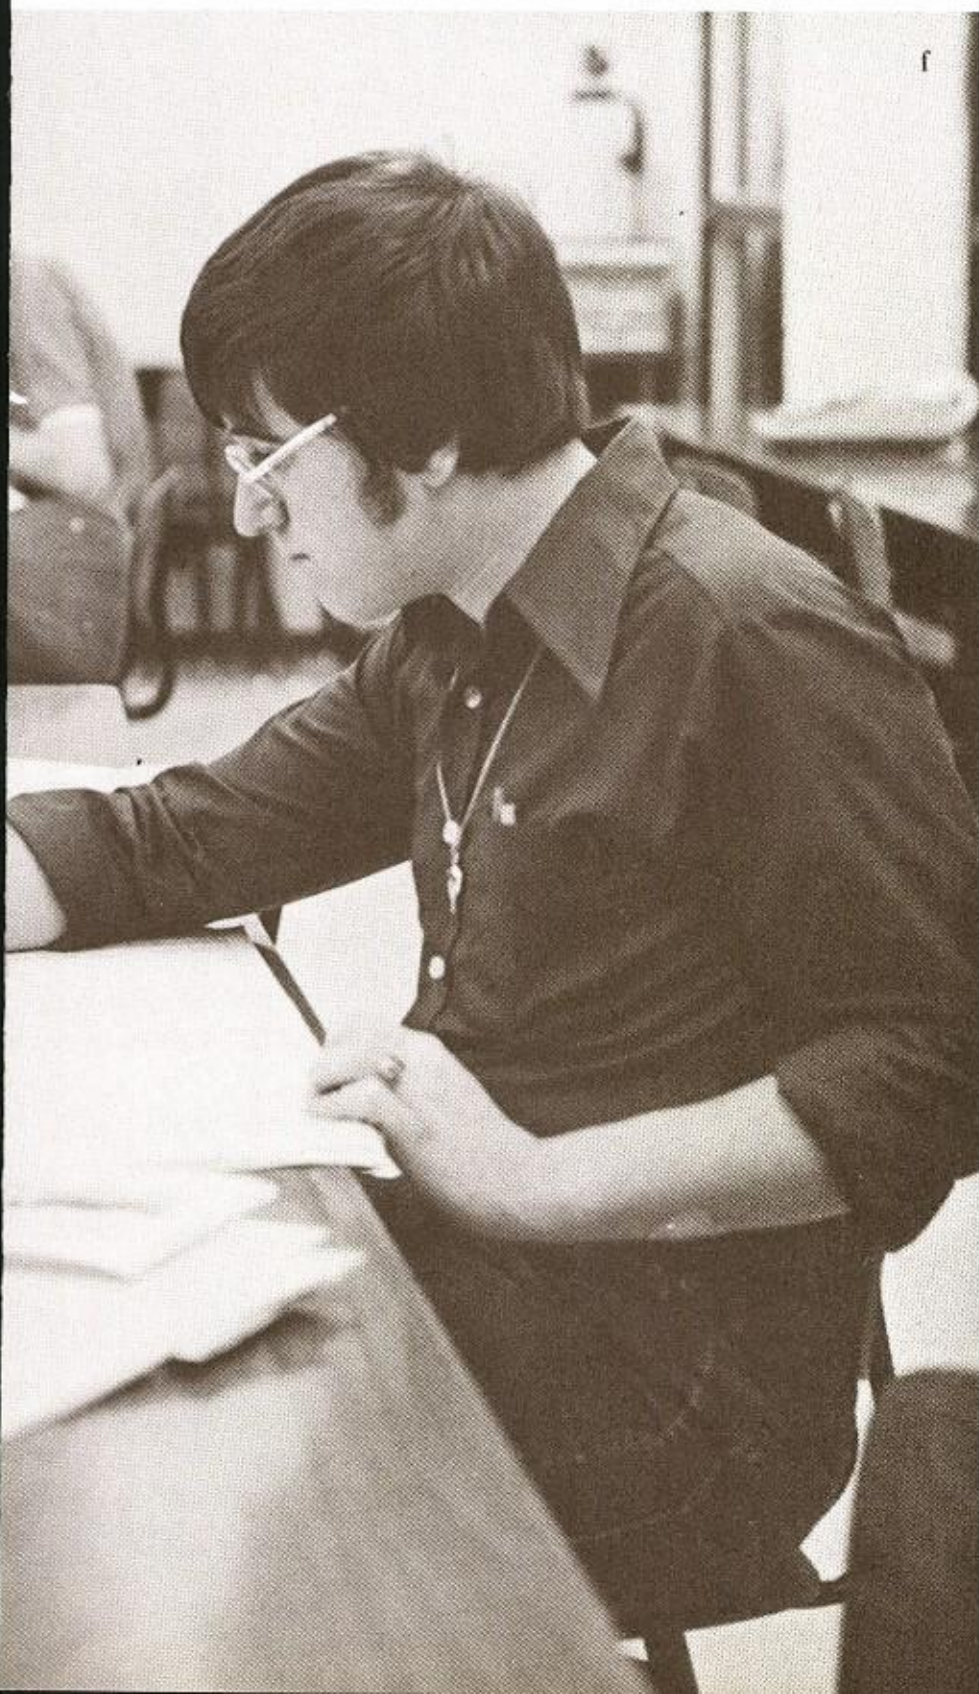

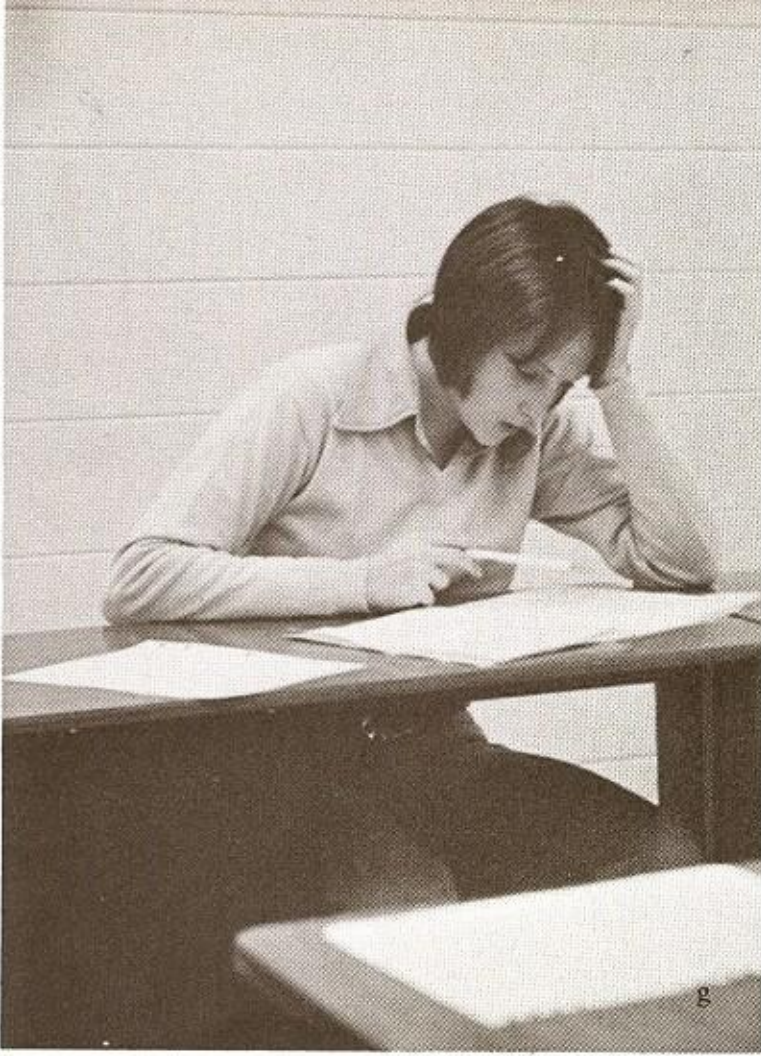

i. Do I have to? j. They'll never know the difference.

New ideas, determined

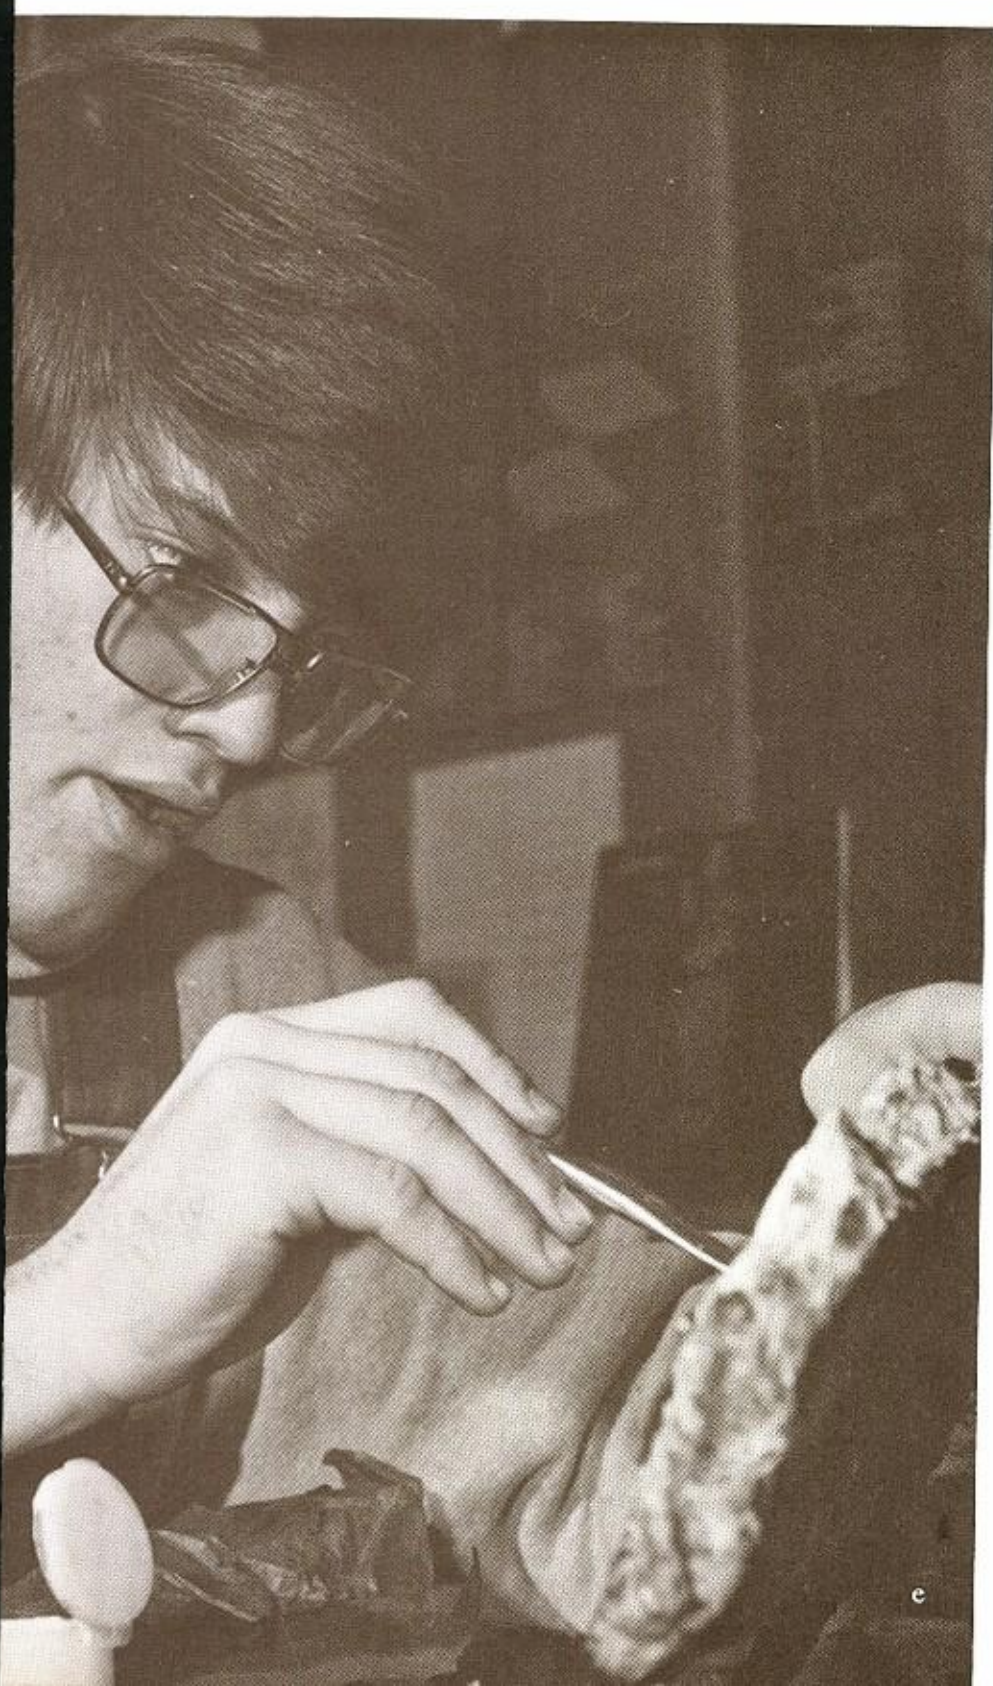

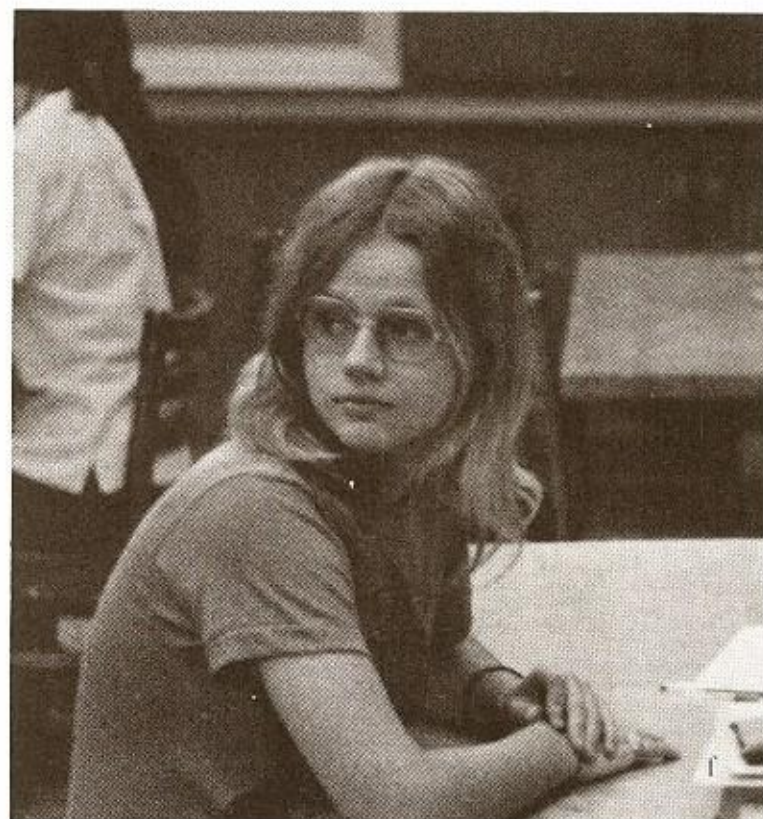

"Eyes on your copy, hands on the keys, ready, start." Now that is a familiar sound to any typing student. Typing to the music can be fun at times and frustrating at others. There are other business courses which require a lot of concentration also. Such as notehand, all the lines and letters begin to look the same after a while, pencils go from 7 inches to 1 1/2, and erasers are gone in one day. And the accounting tests as you can see, take a lot of patience and nerves. But these skills that they learn are well worth the time and effort. Skills learned in business will help the students all the rest of their lives with records and jobs.

a) Jean Ann Vining is skeptical over her answers. b) Gary Price hard at work on an accounting test. c) Kent Hewitt shows a positive attitude. d) Mrs. Mason, a B.S. at Manchester. e) Mr. Boyer, a B.S. in Business Education and M.A.E. and Office Education at Ball State. f) Checking and rechecking. g) Nerve raking and tense is how to take a test. h) Jo Bates experiences the hardships of testing.

Different but it's art

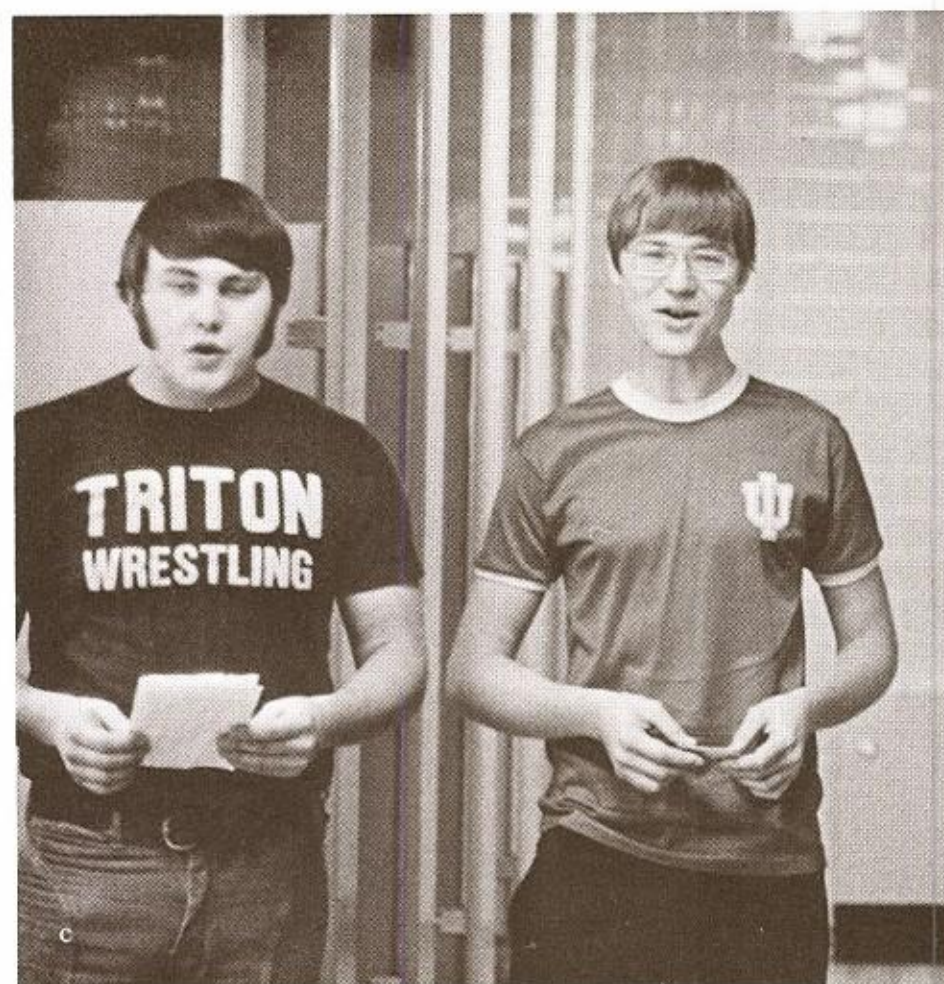

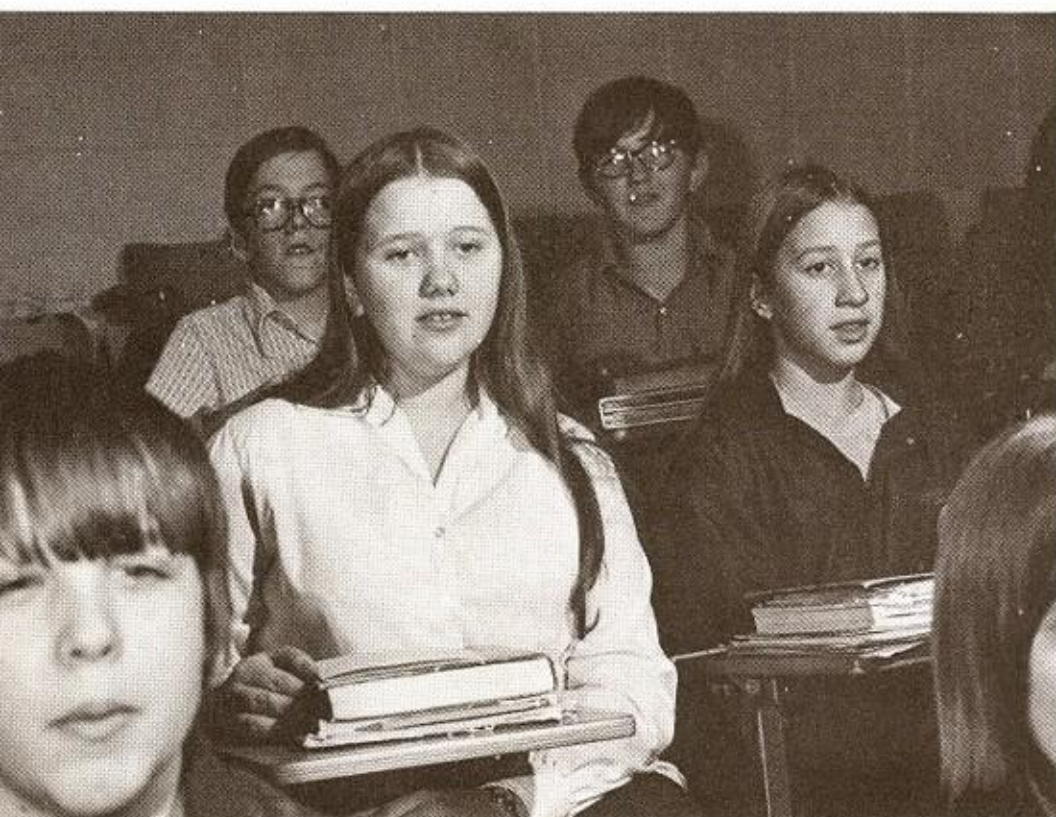

Art. It doesn't take a lot of talent, just the urge to create. You have to have the willingness to try anything. This includes a lot of people who have a lot of different tastes. Everyone's got to do his own thing and art has something to satisfy them all. There are five courses to select from. Oil painting, sculpture, ceramics, and design and color interest a lot of people. The art department also received a new air brush and an electric wheel for ceramics. A few of the students painted a Trojan on the side of the gym wall. They are also selecting a picture taken from one of those exhibited in the Bremen Art Show to donate to the school.

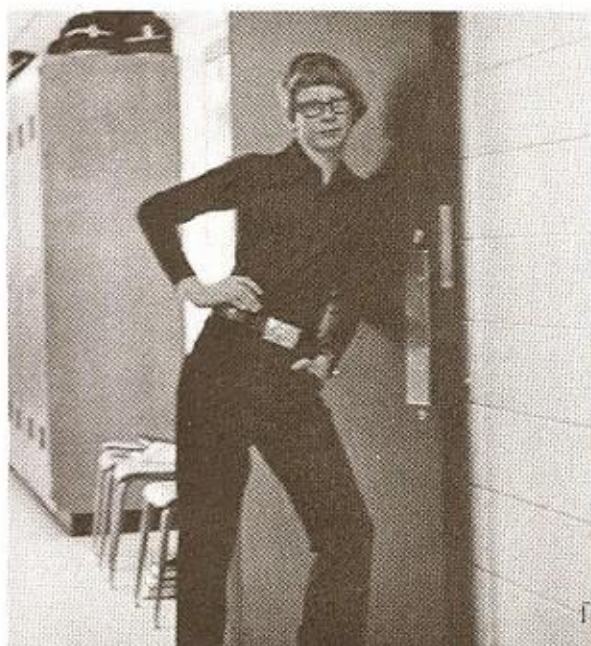

a) Jon Riewoldt contemplates his next project.
 b) Karen Hammond shaping Christmas ornaments.
 c) Tim Fleagle, Todd McIntyre, Roger Harlan and the bull (alias Jon Riewoldt) are ready for a Trojan halftime show. d) Mrs. Madaline Fisher always ready to go. A.B. and M.A. from Ball State. e) Jerry Fisher learning the basics of sculpture. f) Beth Clingenpeel contemplates next assignment. g) Ben Cretcher places finishing touches on a masque.

Practice Pays Off

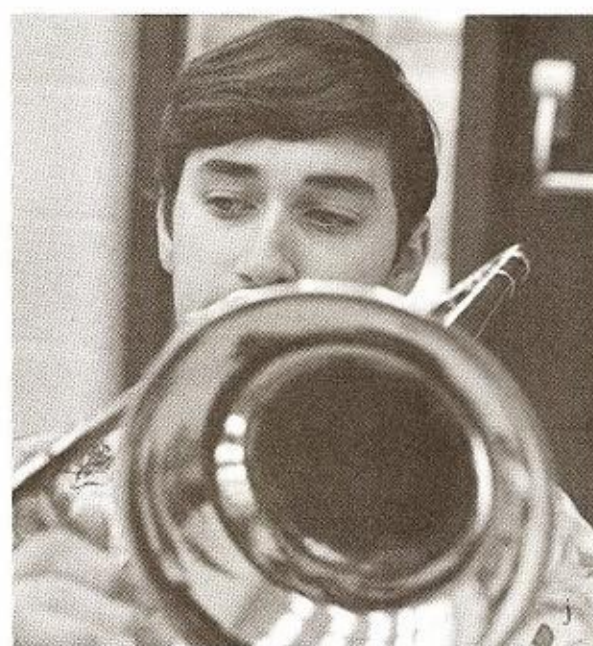

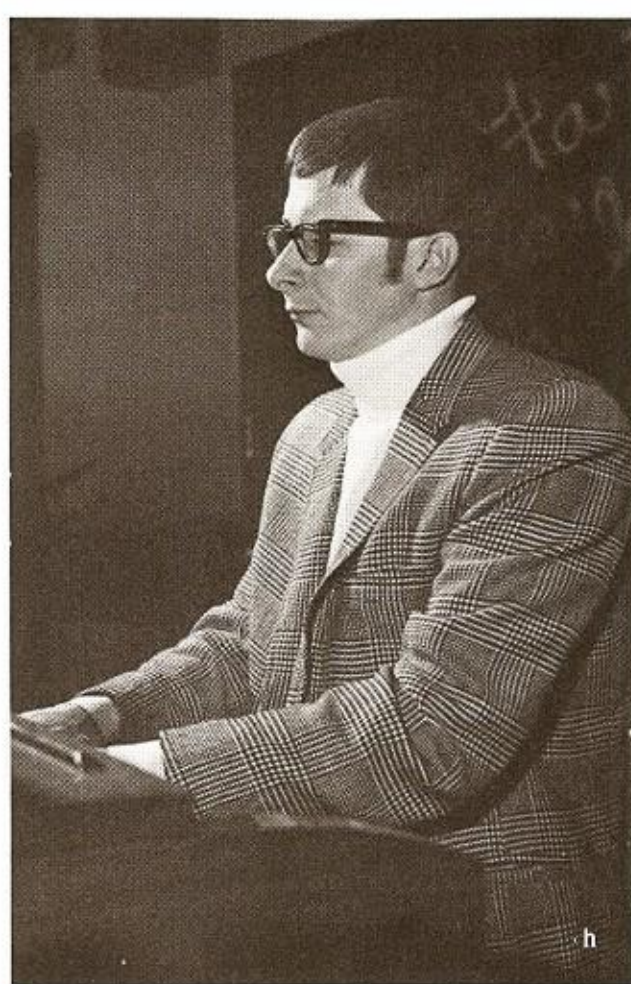

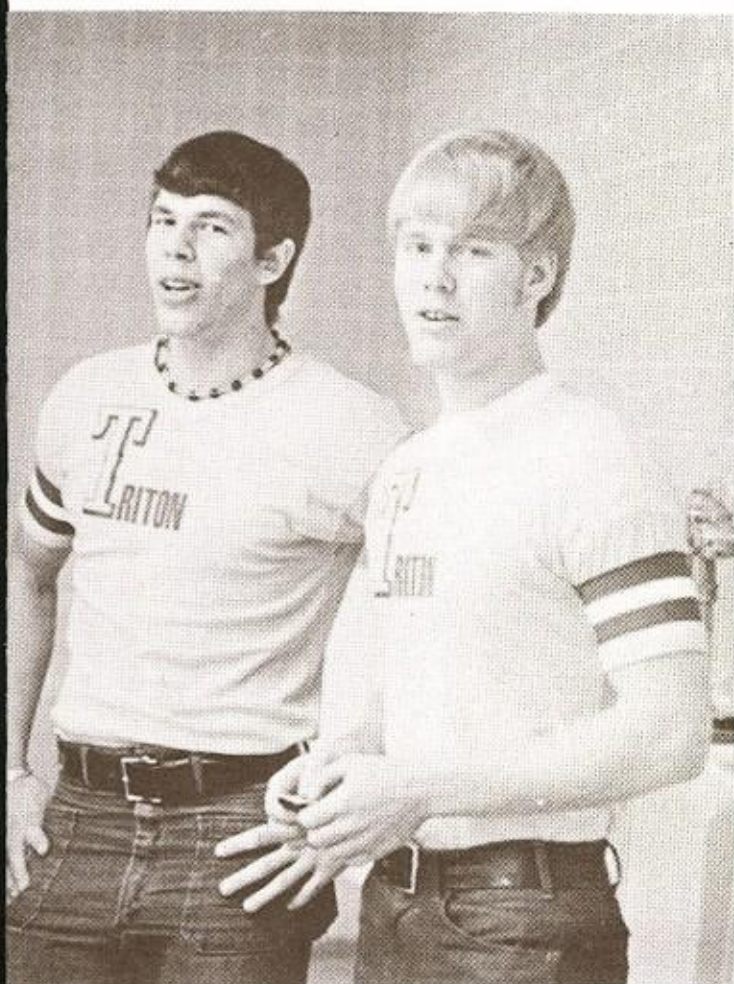

Everybody knows the old saying "Practice makes perfect". And it really payed off at this year's musical production of "No, No Nanette". Both the band and choir made a grand appearance at the NISBOVA vocal and instrumental contests.

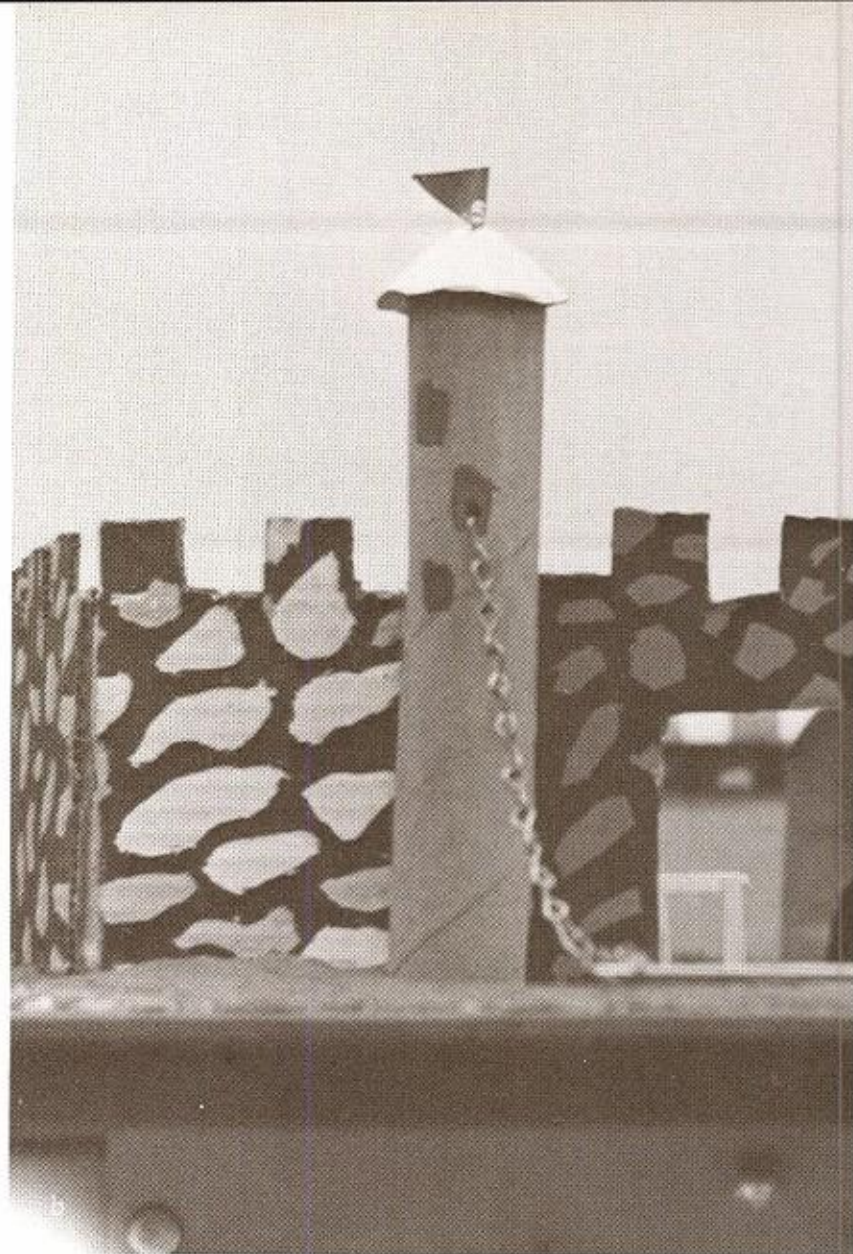

a) Seventh graders study music history. b) Teresa Anderson, Carolyn Thompson, and Sandy Coplen work on difficult music. c) Men's Quartet picks some weird places to practice for the contests. d) Bev Burcham who placed 1st in the woodwind trio and second with a basson solo. f) Dan Harmon. g) Ms. Donna Person B.M.E. at Ind. University. h) Mr. Donald Dowdy B.S. in Music Education, and M.A. Ball State U. i) Summit Hill Church Agriculture and Military Band circa. 1919 j) Tim Moore who received two firsts at this year's solo and ensemble contest.

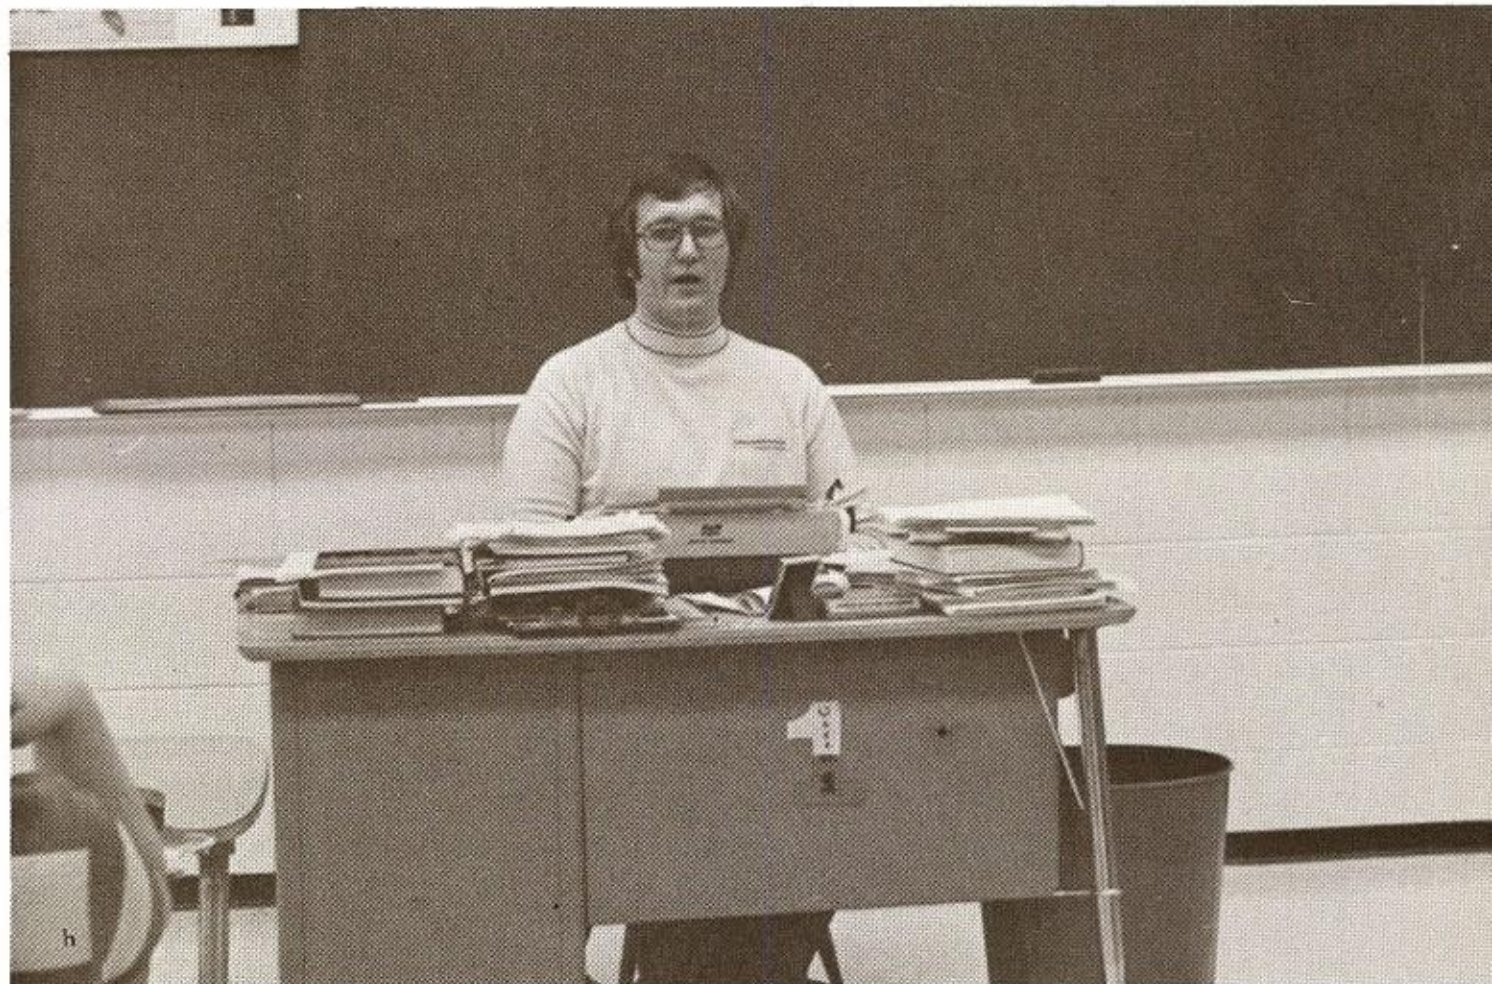

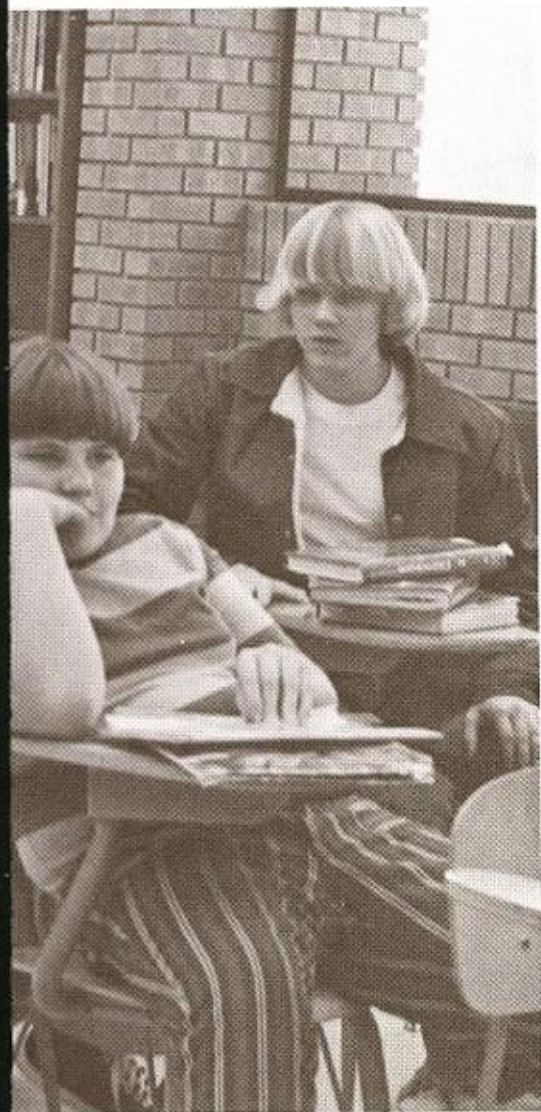

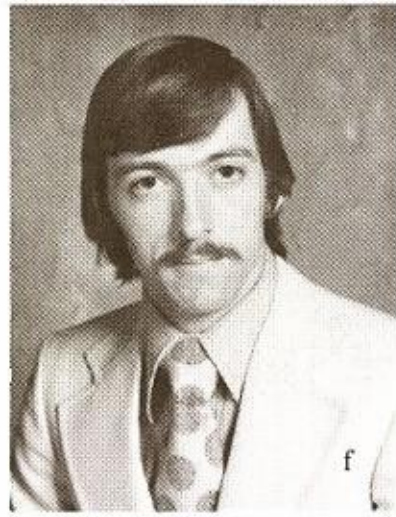

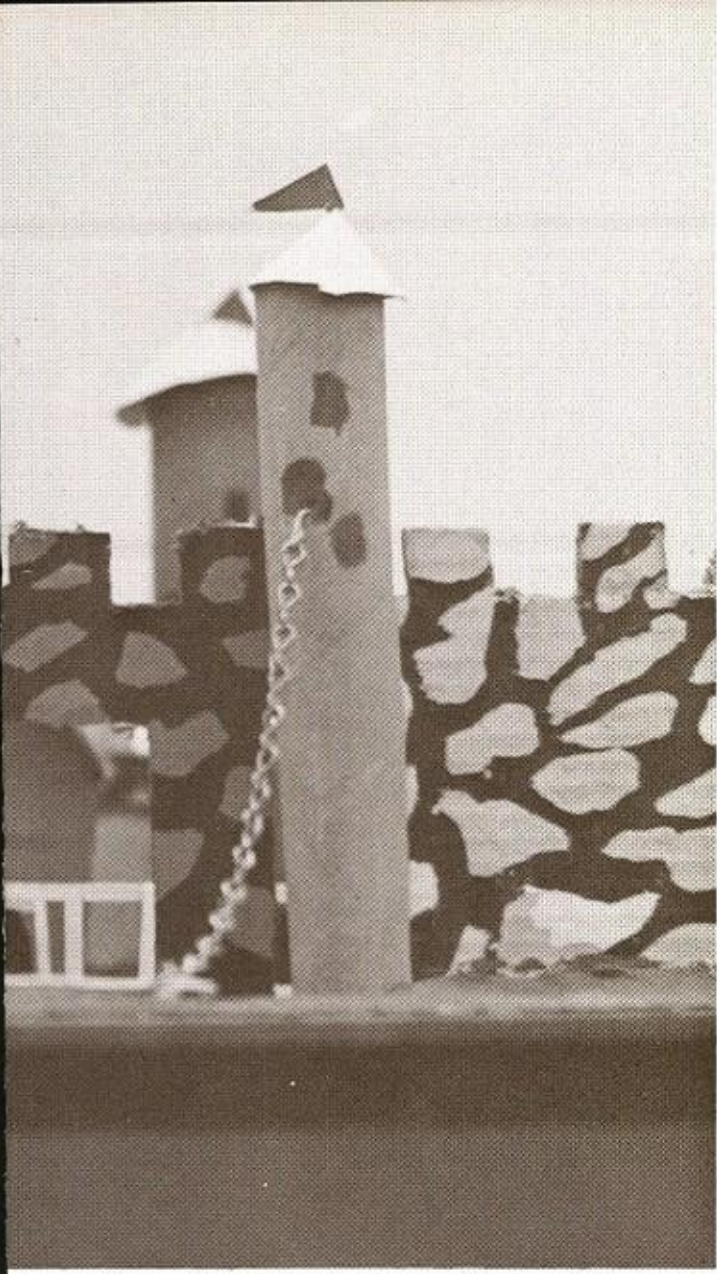

HISTORY

History may not be very important while you are sitting there in class trying to learn it, but you learn a lot more than you think. And this year the American heritage has a lot to be considered. So think about it, it is this country's history that made us free.

a) Steve Knepp doesn't look quite as sure of himself as Mel Trowbridge. b) One of the World history projects. c) Larry Rock really gets involved. d) Mr. Fetters, B.S. and M.A. at Ball State and extra graduate work at The American University and Ball State. e) Mr. King, B.S. at Ball State and M.S. at St. Francis. f) Mr. Watterson, B.A. at Anderson. g) Mr. Wattenbarger, B.A. at Grace and M.S. at St. Francis. h) Mr. Wattenbarger ready for anything.

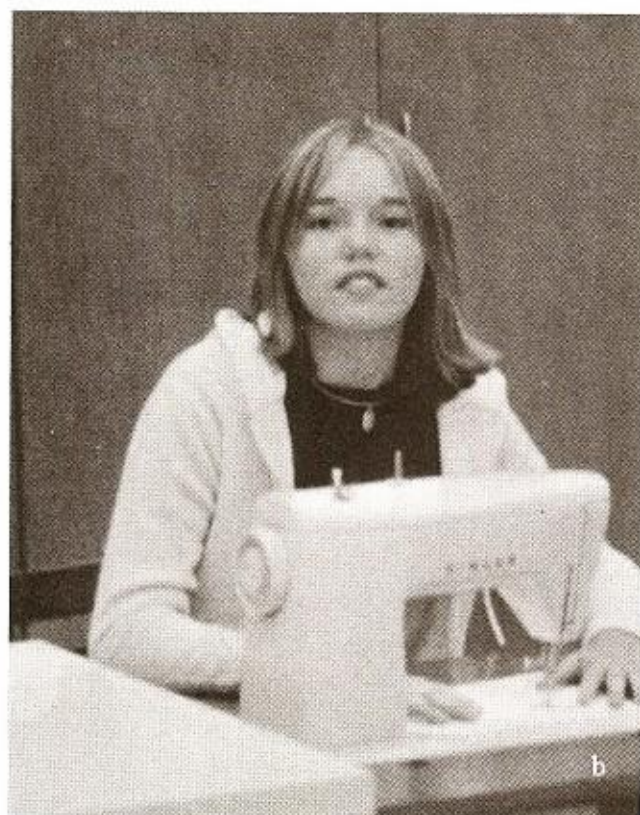

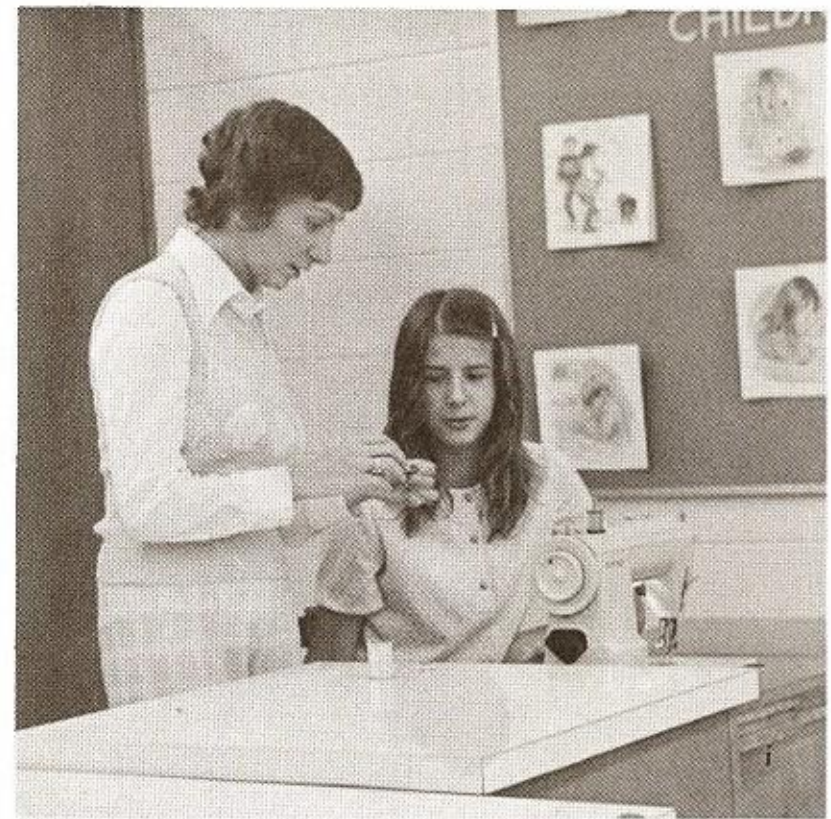

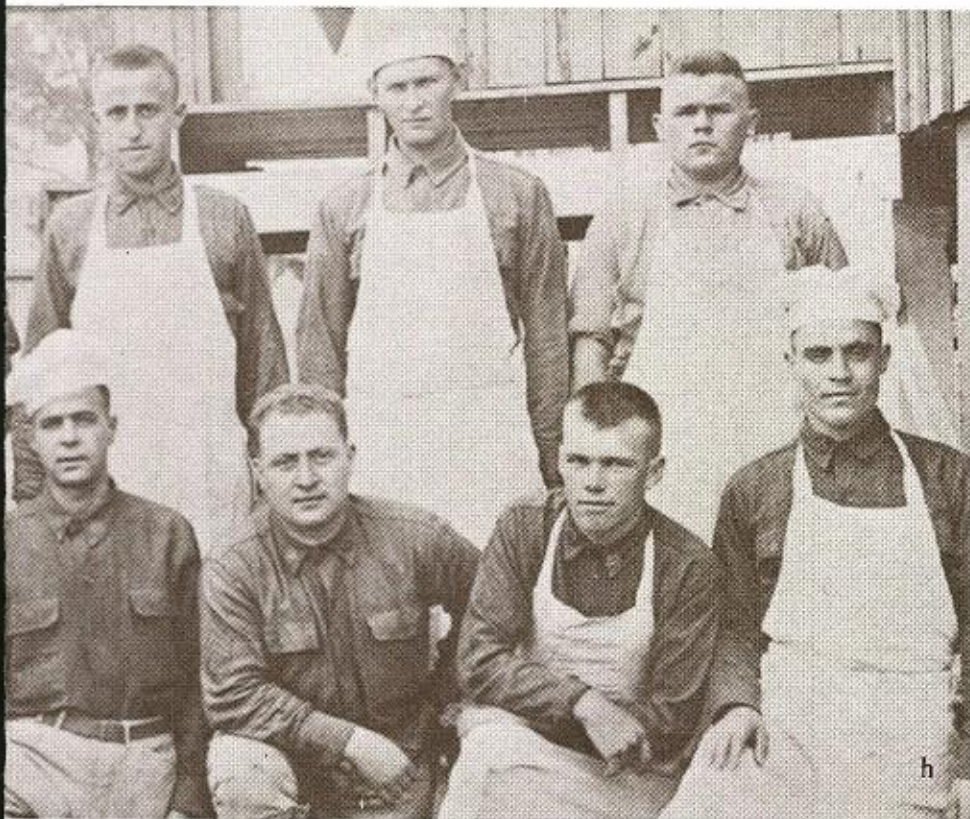

Got to try it

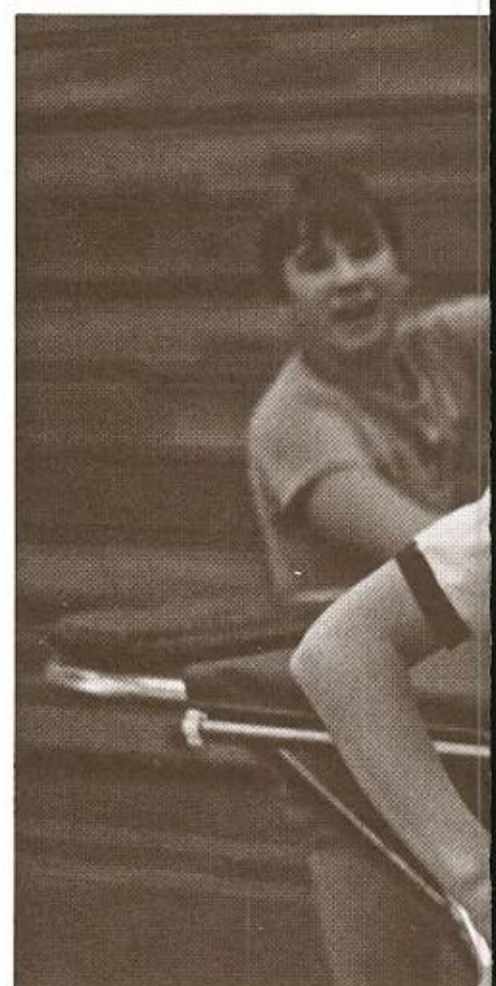

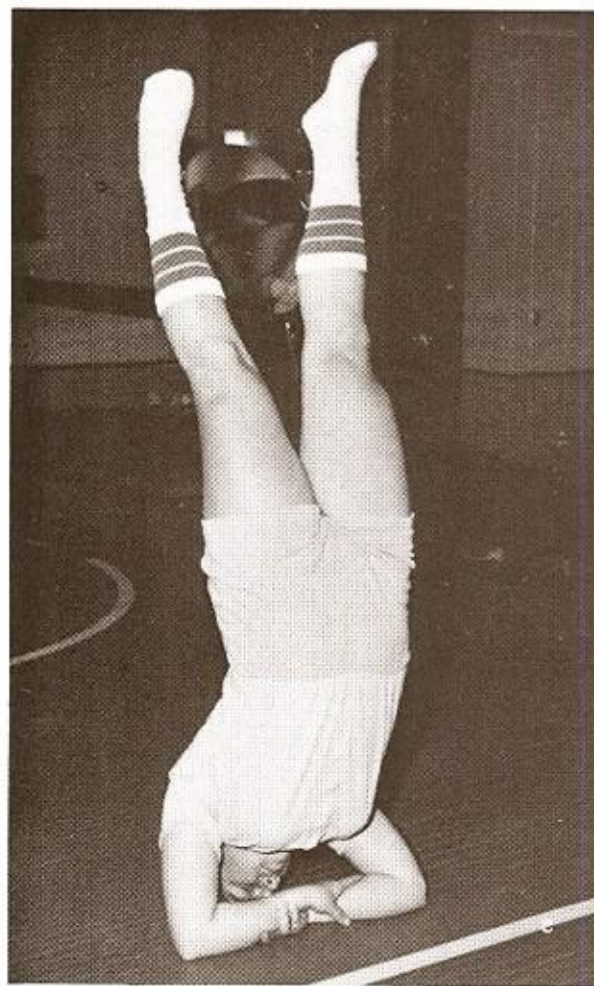

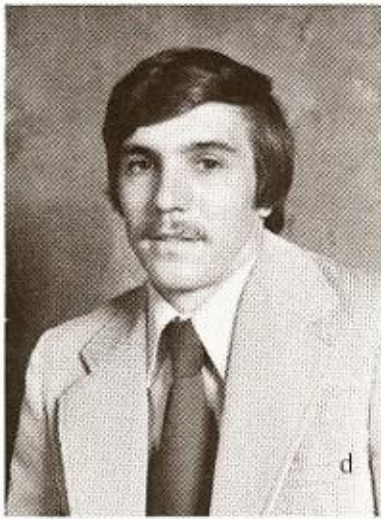

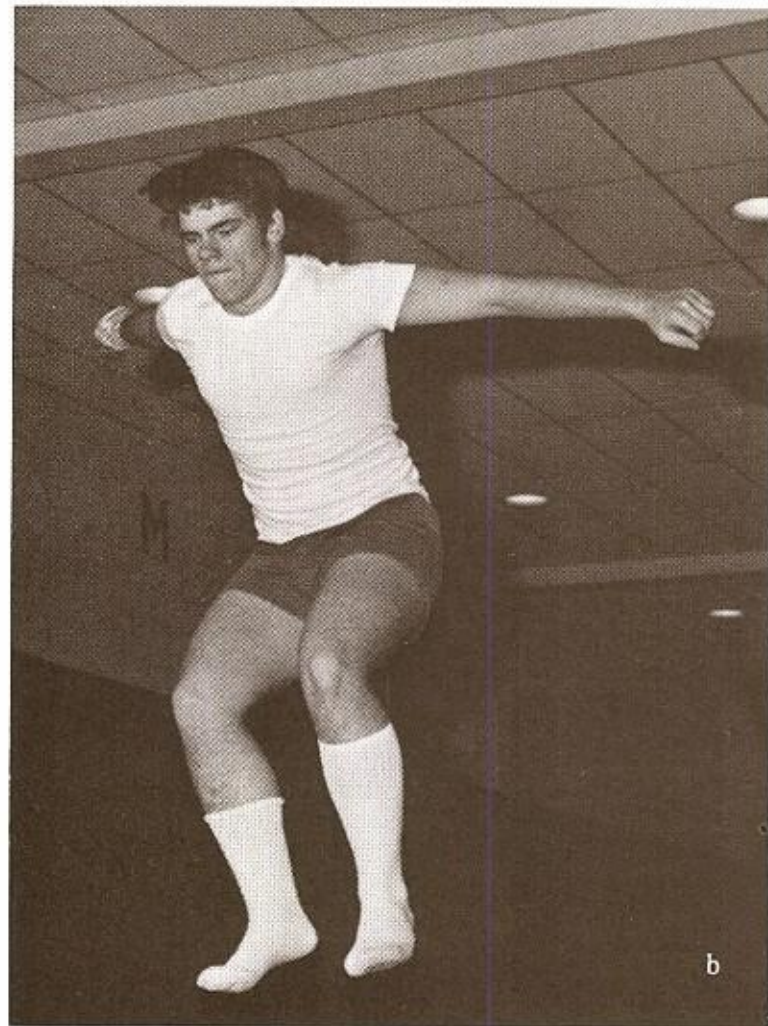

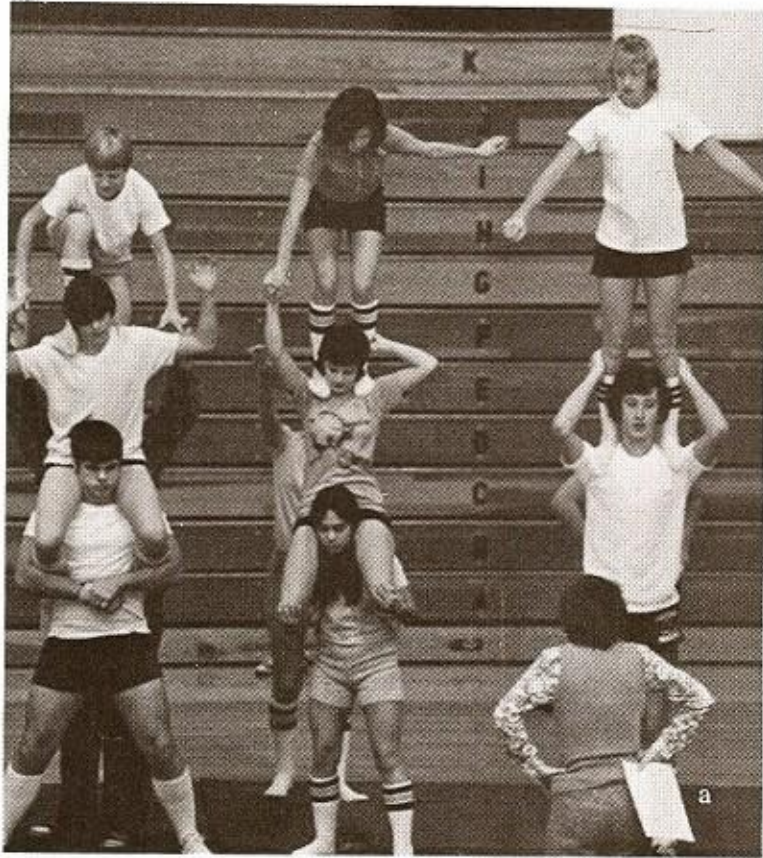

Experience is the best teacher. How true. Learning to cook and sew is a talent that isn't in you from the start. It takes experience. That's the fun part of Home Economics. It doesn't always turn out right. There are a few flops that get scraped out now and then. Learning to sew can be a real hassle when you haven't even touched a sewing machine before. Things really start to tie when the sewing starts. Needles and bobbins get lost, and everybody has a question at exactly the same time. But it's all worth it because it all sticks with you for a lifetime.

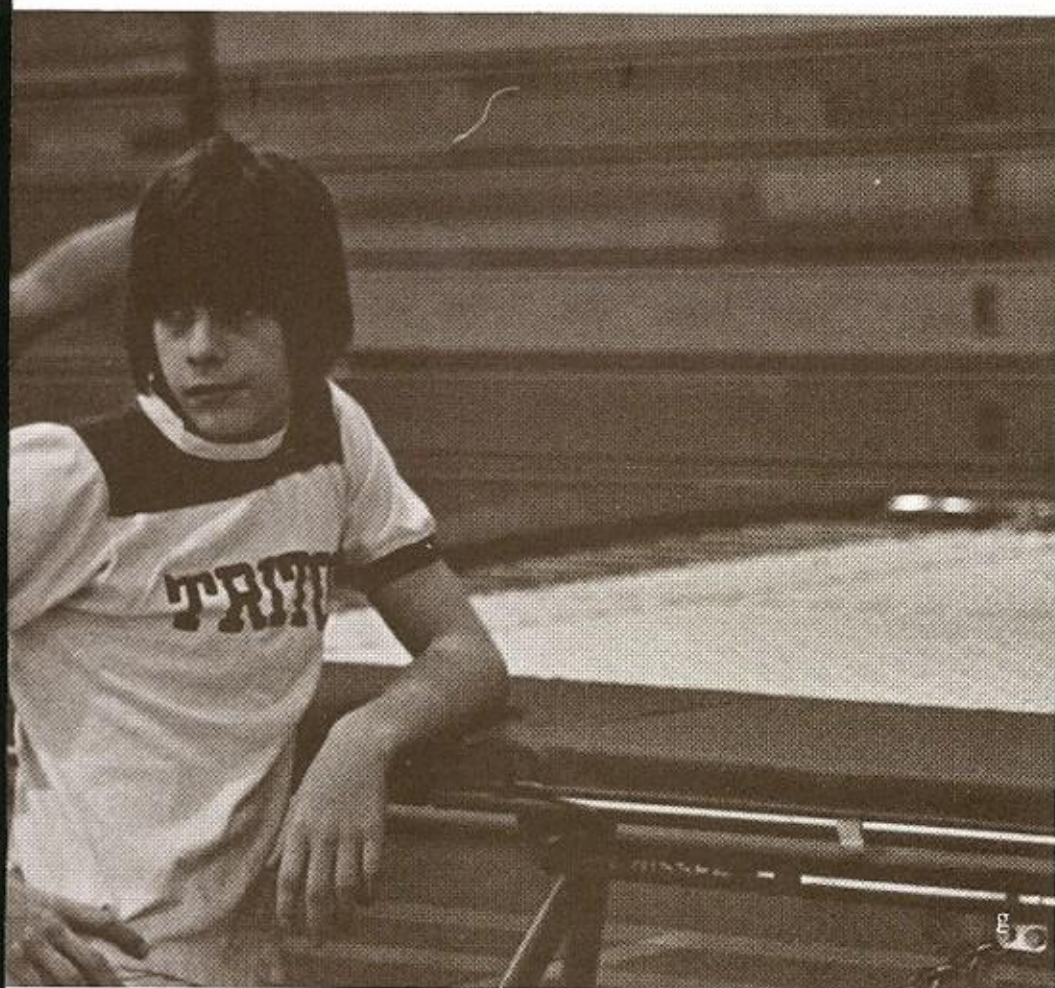

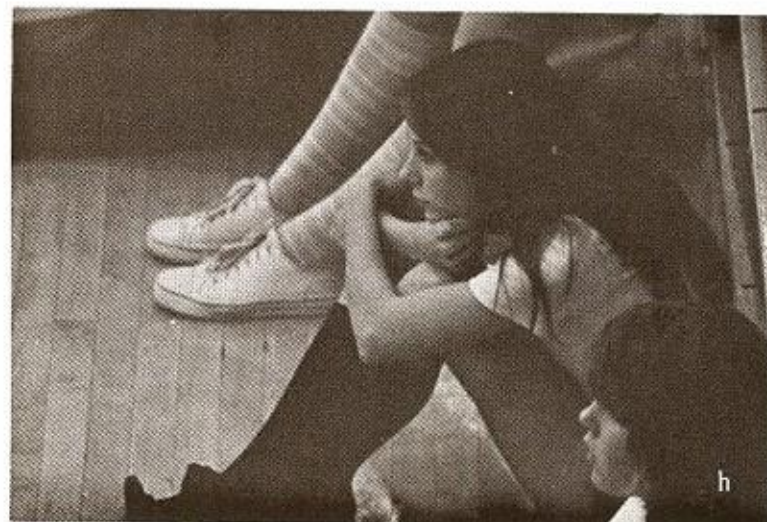

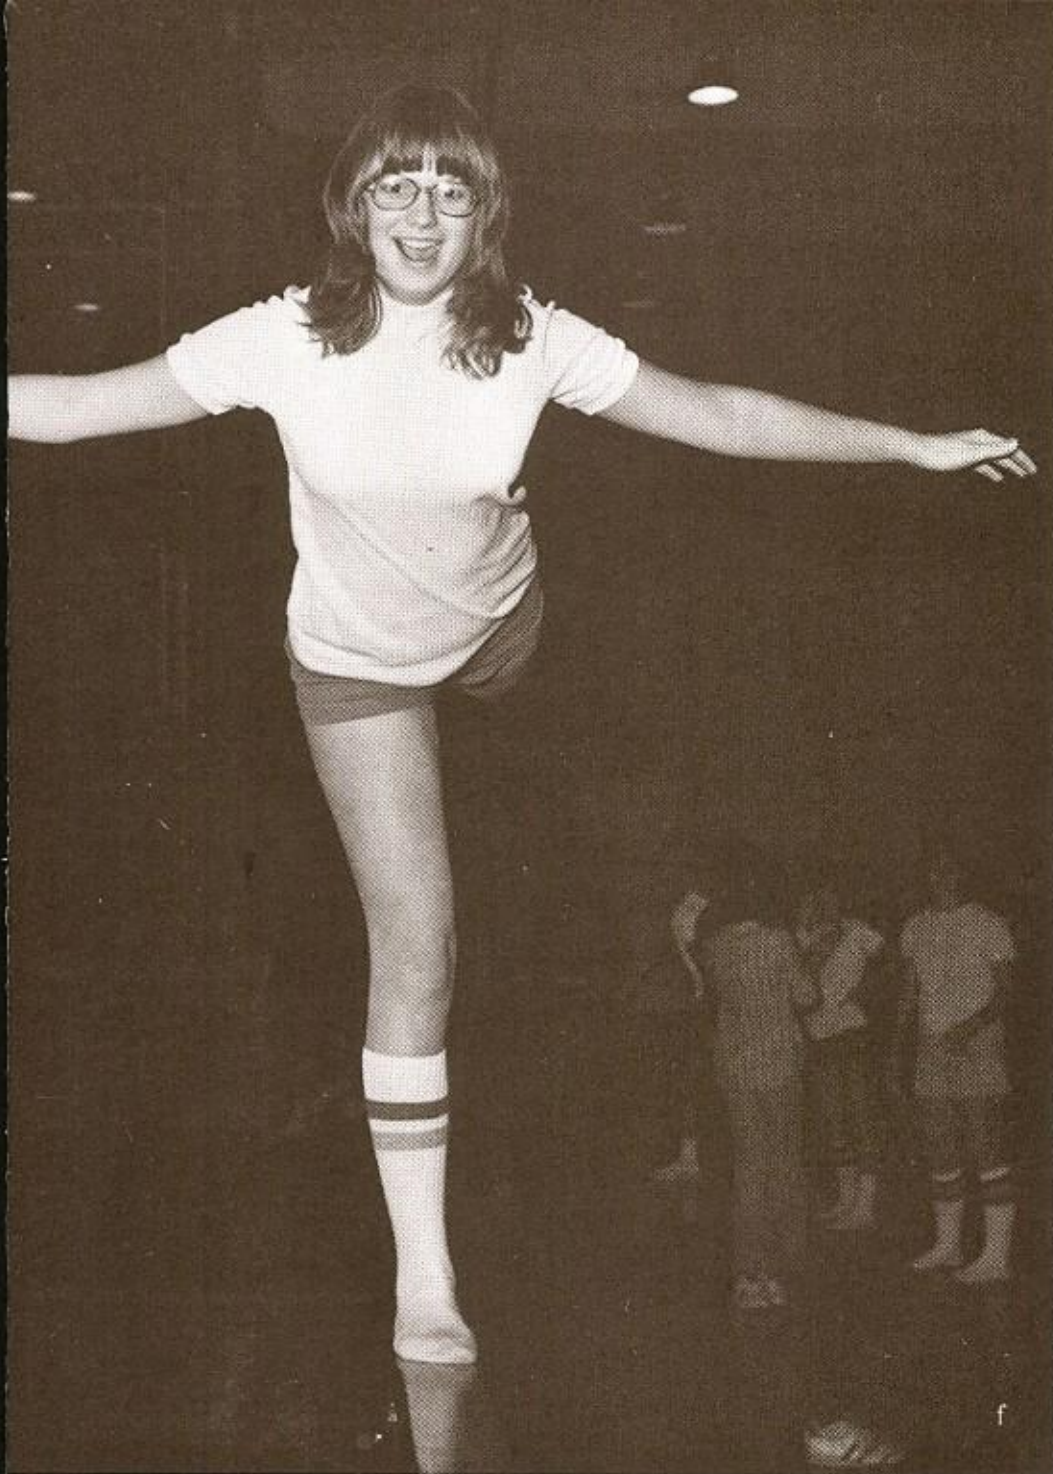

a) Amusing twins is fun and difficult for Wanda Schuh. b) Susan Thompson is perfecting her sewing. c) Debbie Klotz hopes her salad is done. d) Barbara Perkins and Laura Griggs use lots of spice on their cinnamon rolls. e) Mrs. Vivian Shull who has a B.S. at Ball State and a Master of Education at St. Francis. f) Miss Naomi Waknitz who has a B.S. at North Central and a Masters of Education at St. Francis. g) Mrs. Shull demonstrates the different styles of stitches to eighth graders. h) Nine local culinary artists of Etna Green from the past. i) With a little help and patience, Bobbi Baucher learns to sew.

Mind willing Body unsure

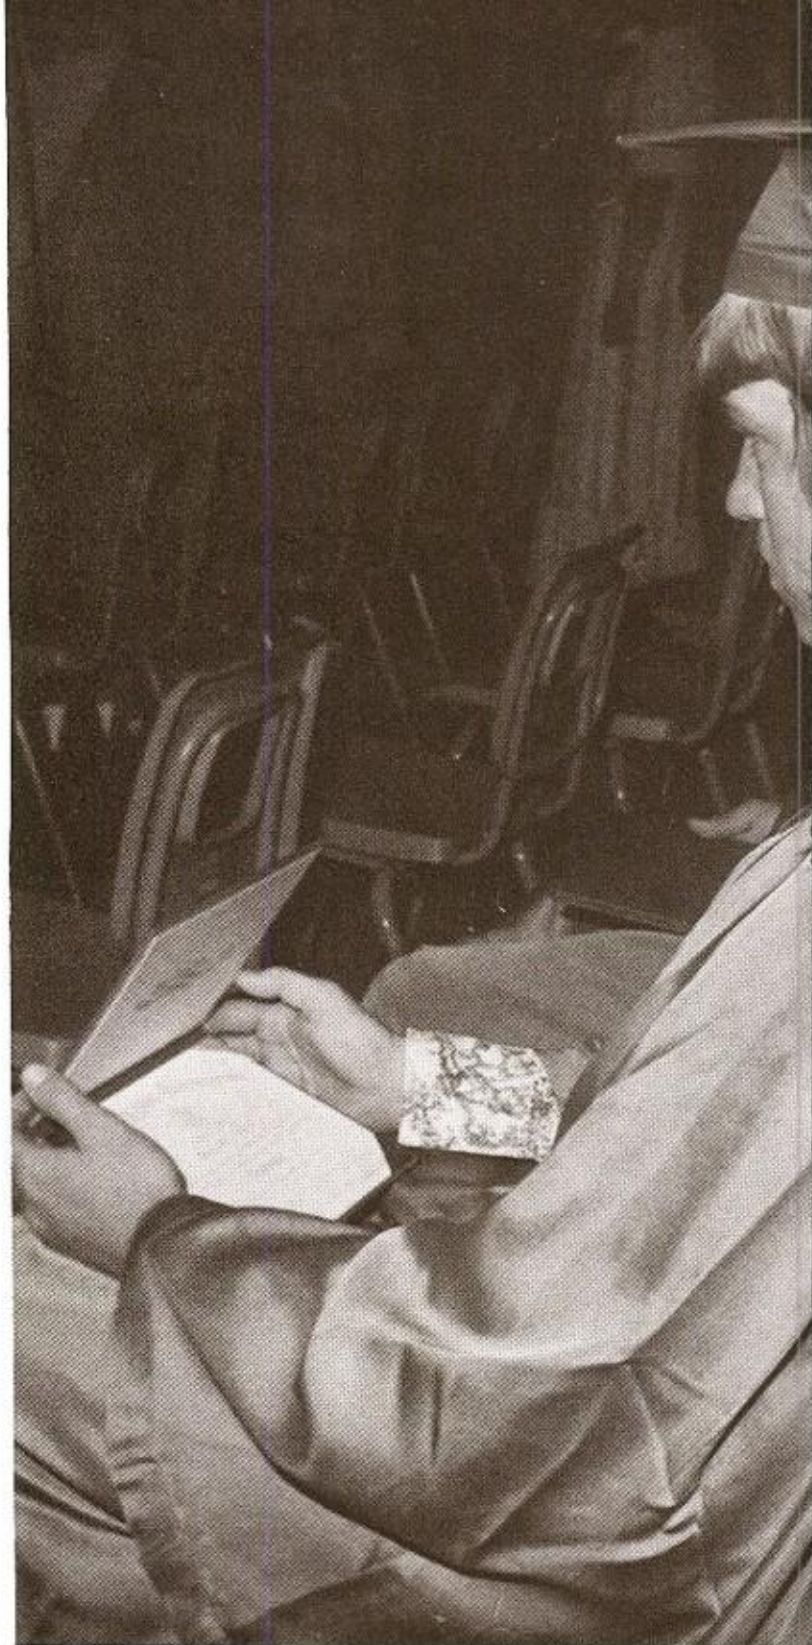

Whether it be a bounce off the springboard or a spring off the trampoline, there's always something for everyone. And everybody got in on the action at this year's gymnastics shows. One was put on for the elementary and the other was open to the public. As before, the show was under the direction of all the Phys. Ed. teachers. Ms. Caudle is head of the girl's activities, Mr. Burris is in charge of the 9th grade boys, and Mr. Meshberger is in charge of the Jr. High boys and the advanced P.E. classes.

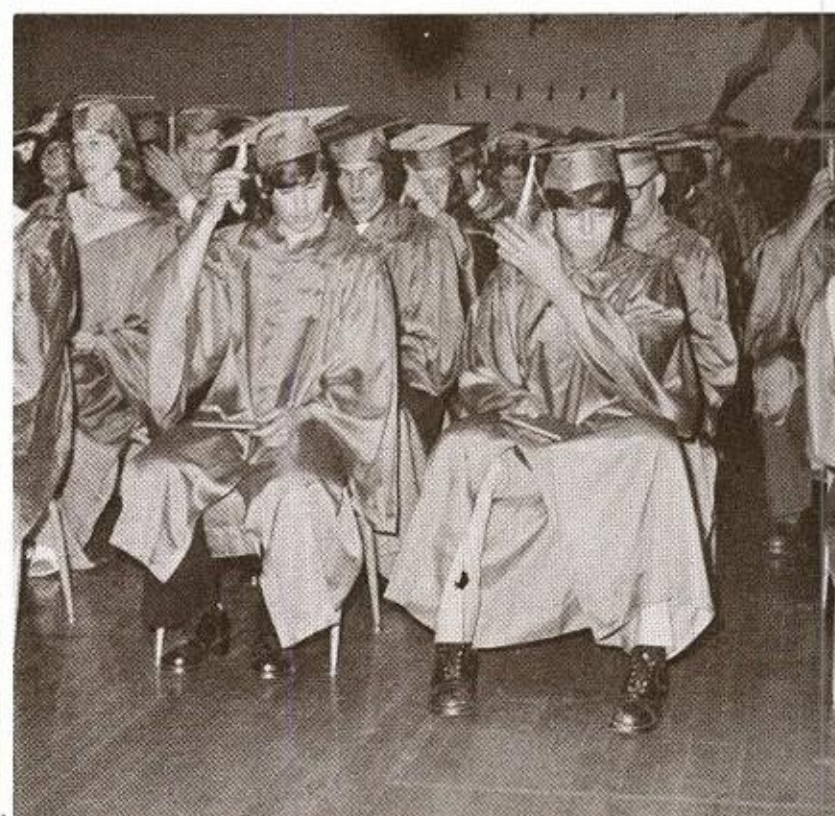

a) Ms. Caudle watches shakey pyramids form. b) Jon Wells is unsure of his next move. c) Ms. Caudle with a B.S. at Murry State. d) Mr. Meshberger with a minor in Physical Education at St. Francis. e) Betty Downey demonstrates mind over matter, or good poise. f) Jody Jeffries with a front scale. g) Dennis Thompson eyes these performances with scepticism. h) Lisa Schaetzle waits for her turn on the balance beam.

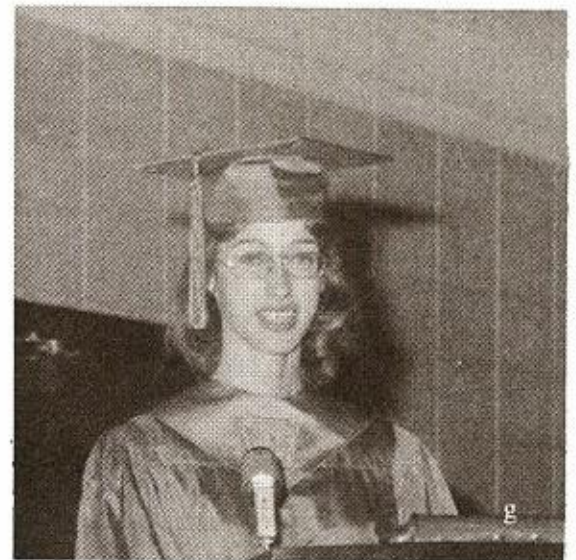

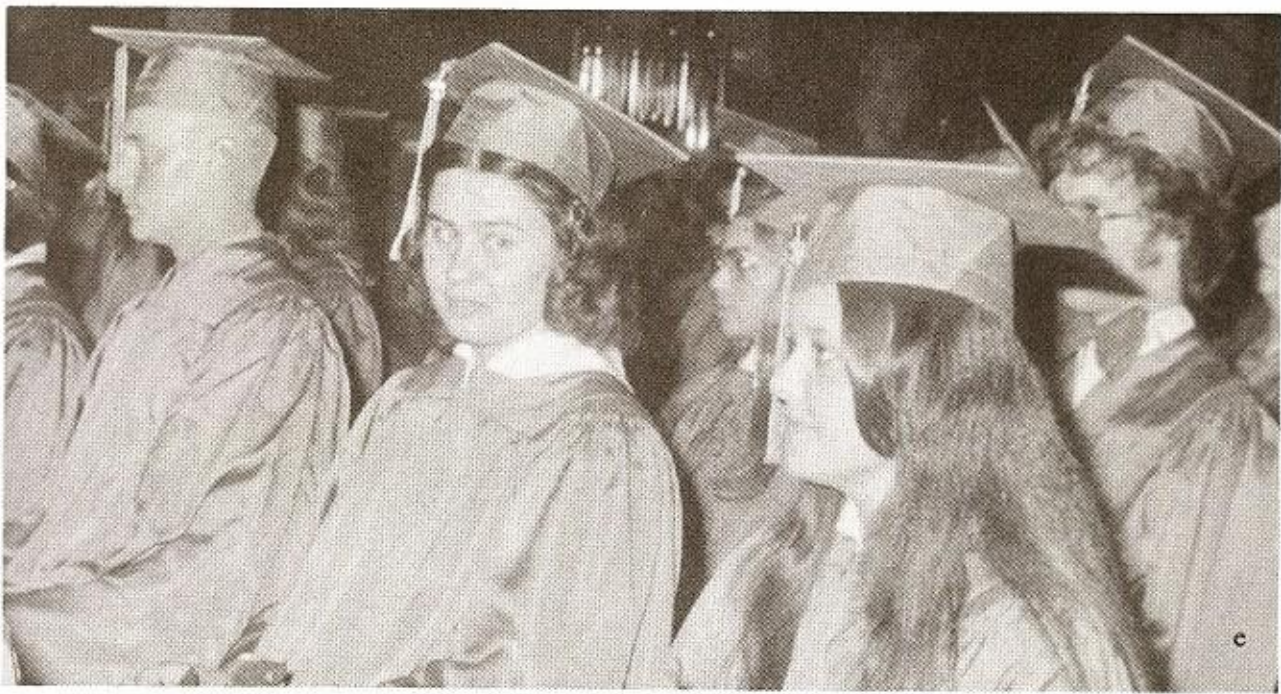

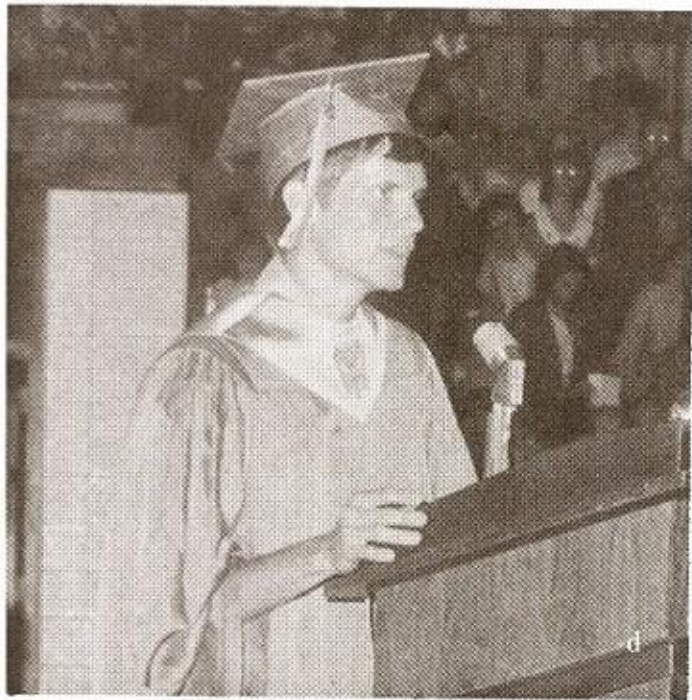

CLASS OF "76"

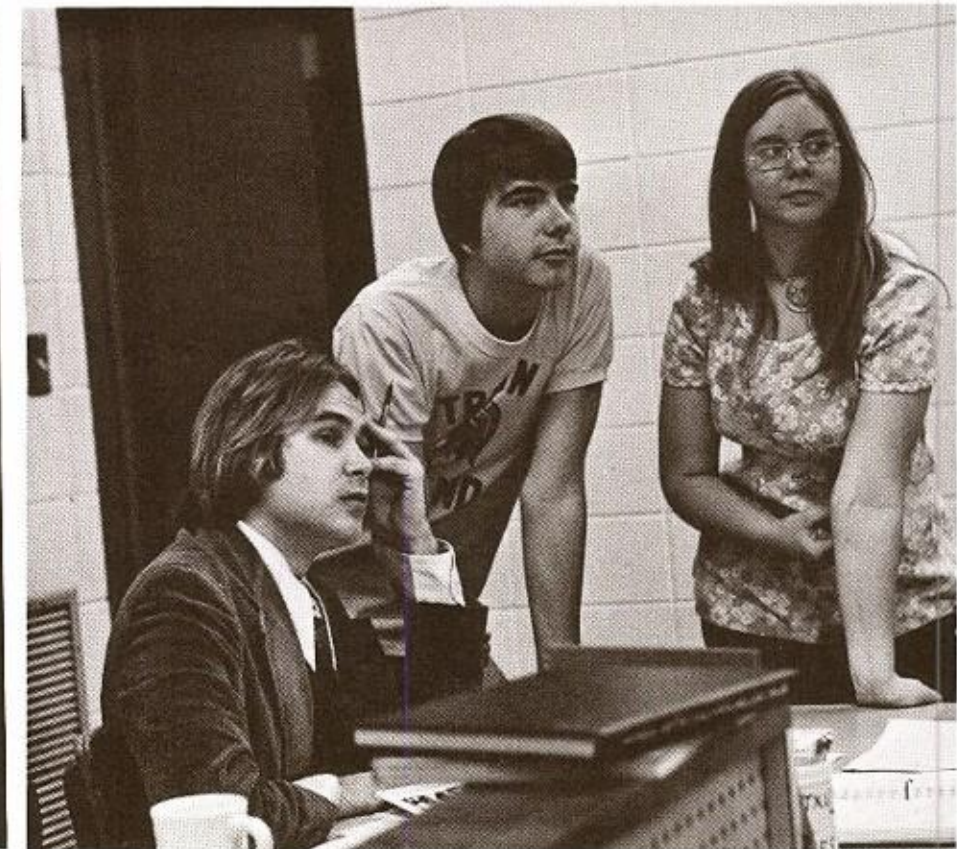

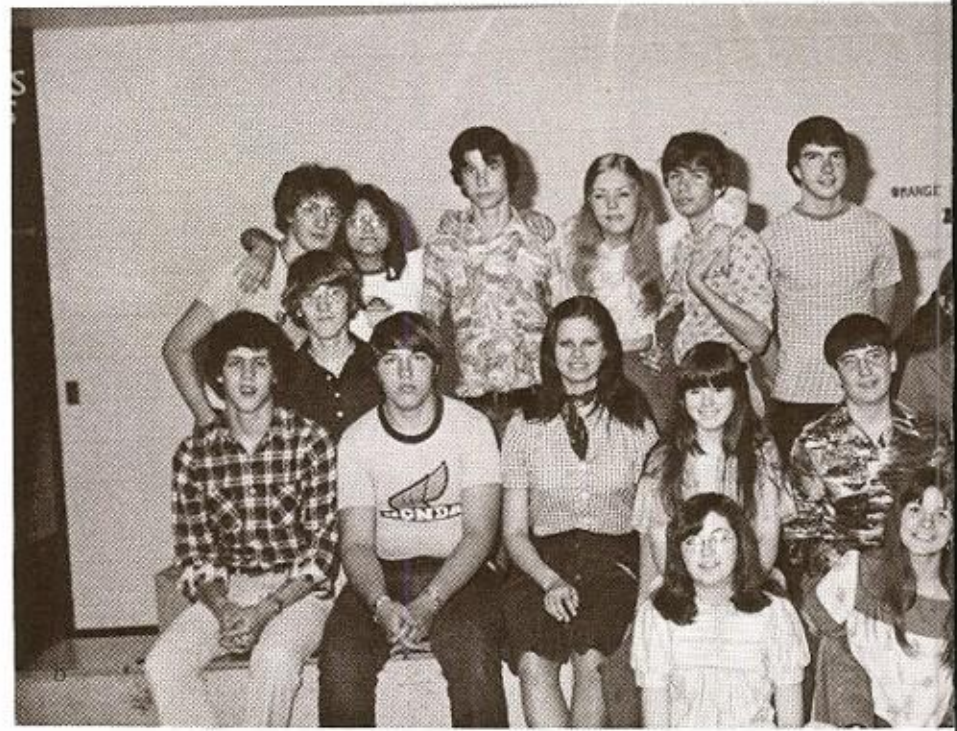

Graduation is the turning point in the lives in all high school students. Not so long ago each graduate was a freckle-faced kid, playing baseball and eating ice cream. By some miracle that child has grown into a young adult, ready to take on new responsibilities and to make important decisions.

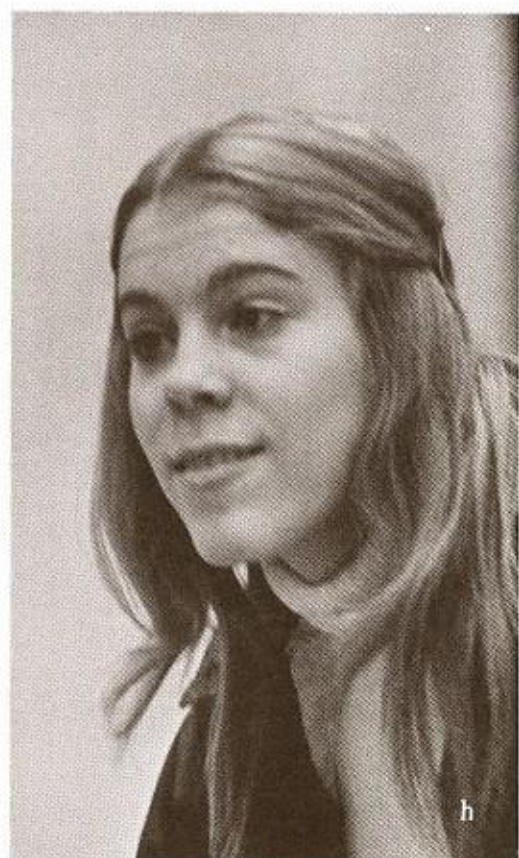

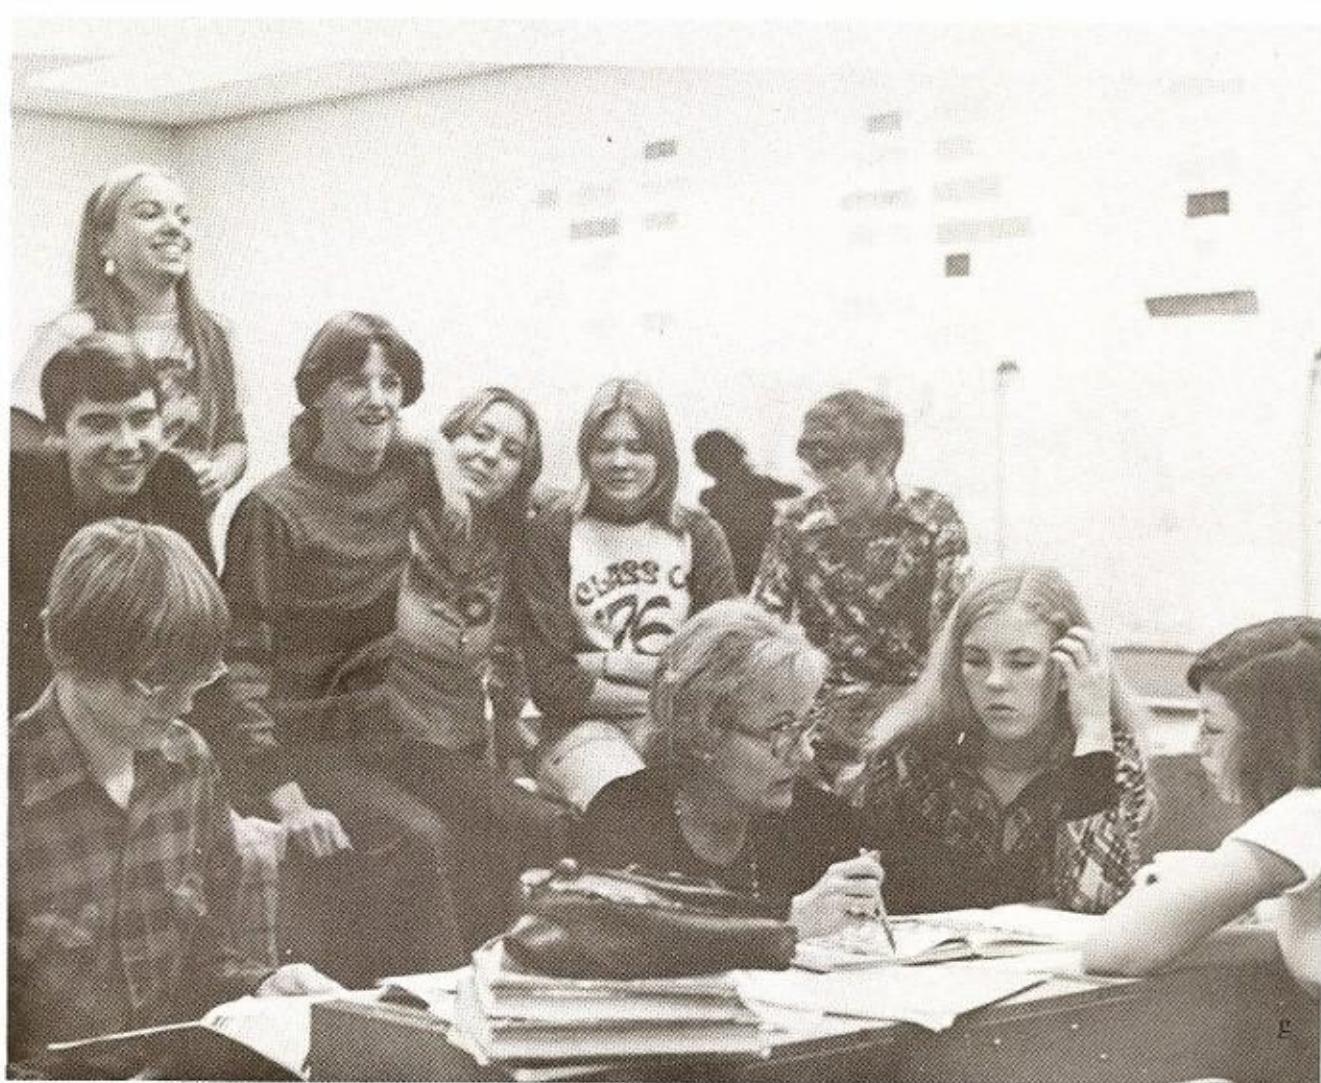

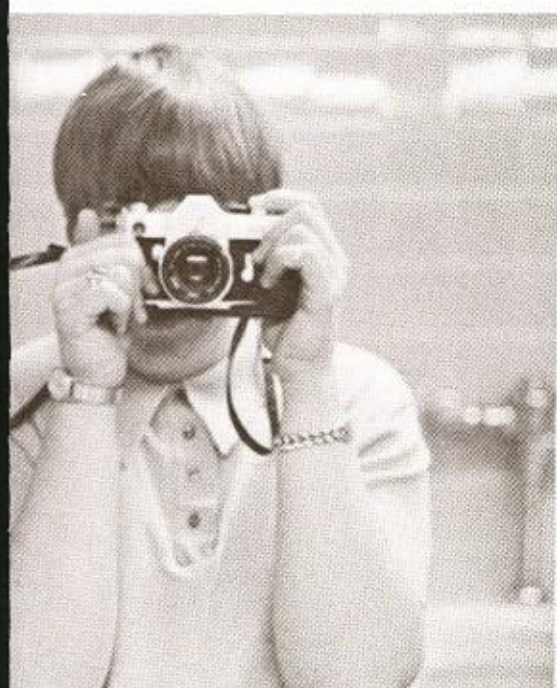

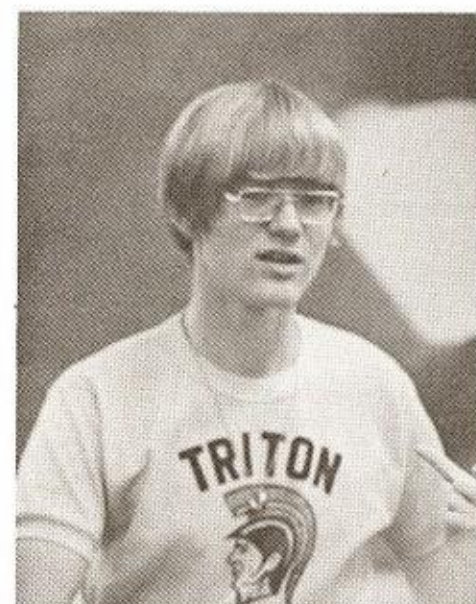

a) Graduate S. Bessigner receiving her rose. b) S. Disher checks to see if his diploma is signed. c) The turning of the tassel. d) Valedictorian K. Hewitt delivering his speech. e) J. Gainey ponders the seriousness of the ceremony. f) The choir sings praise for the graduates. g) Salutatorian R. Sill delivering her speech.

To a lot of people, the Delta is just the school book that comes out once a year. They may buy it, they may not. But except for the determined Delta Staff workers, very few know all the work that goes into this book. They don't know the time involved, especially before a deadline, when not only homework is forgotten but pleasure, and even home-life. There is a lot of blood, sweat and tears involved, but a great book is a great reward.

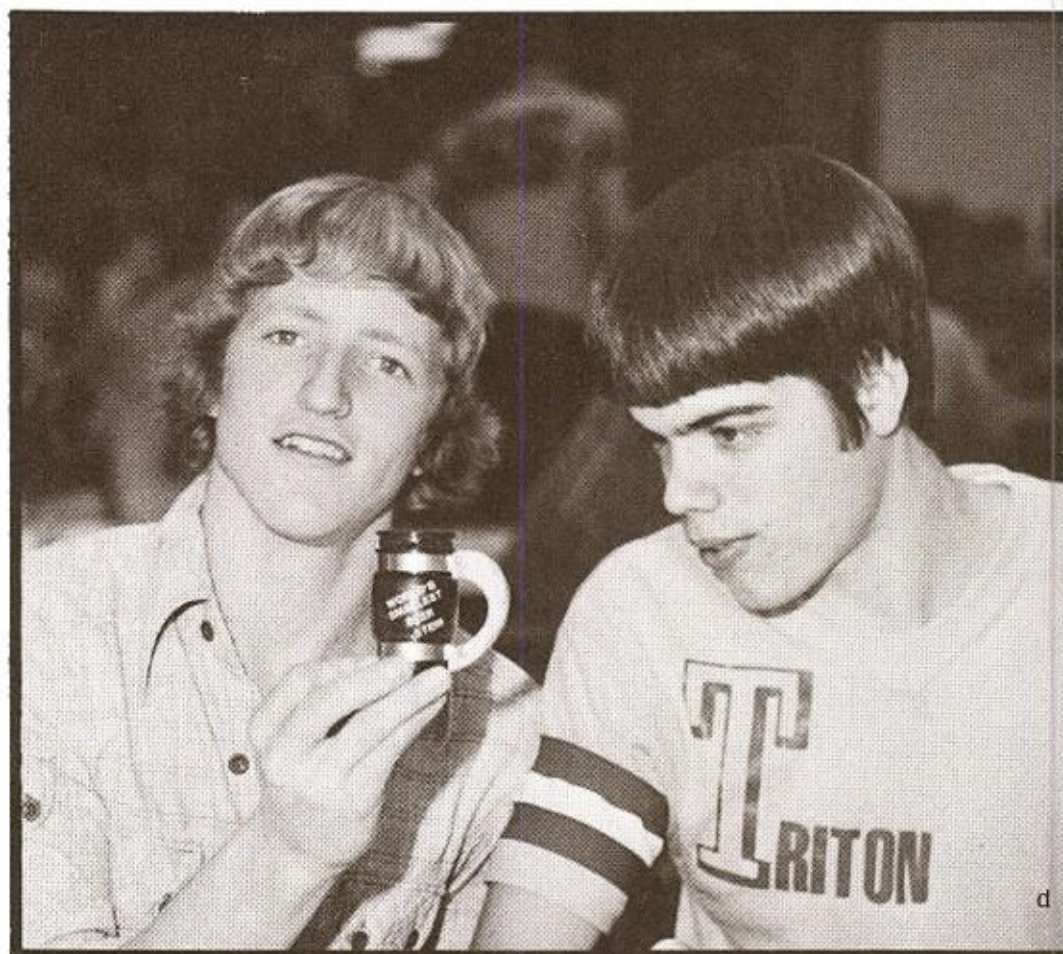

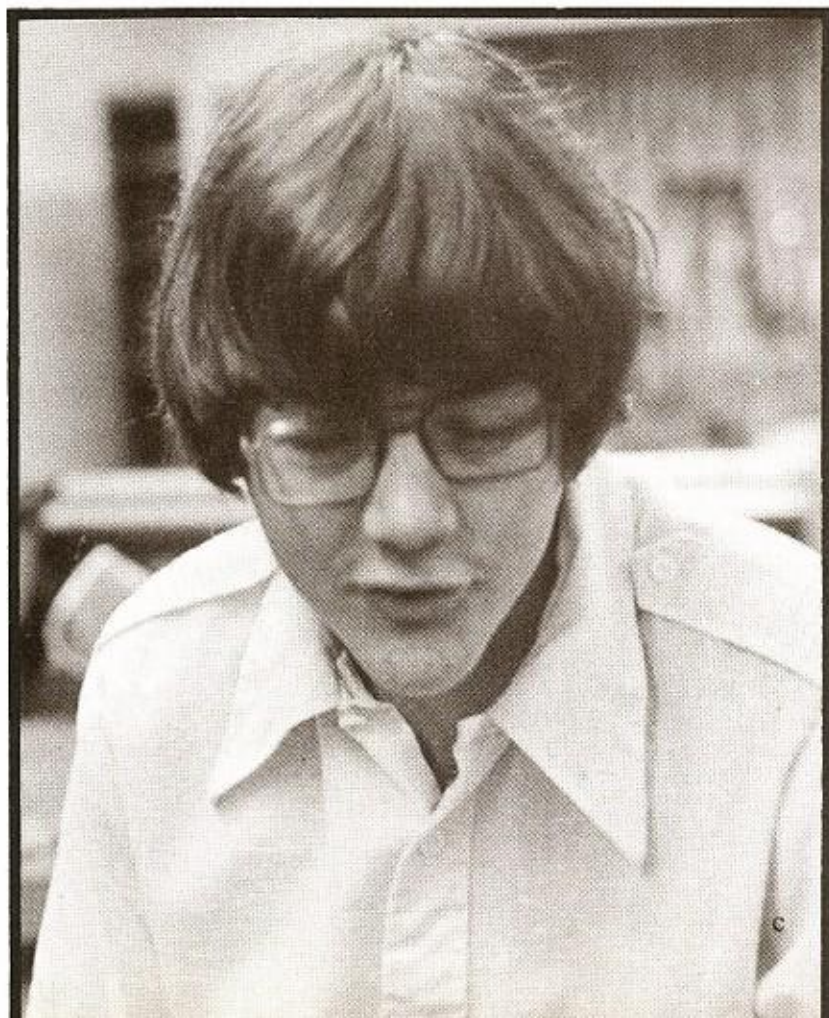

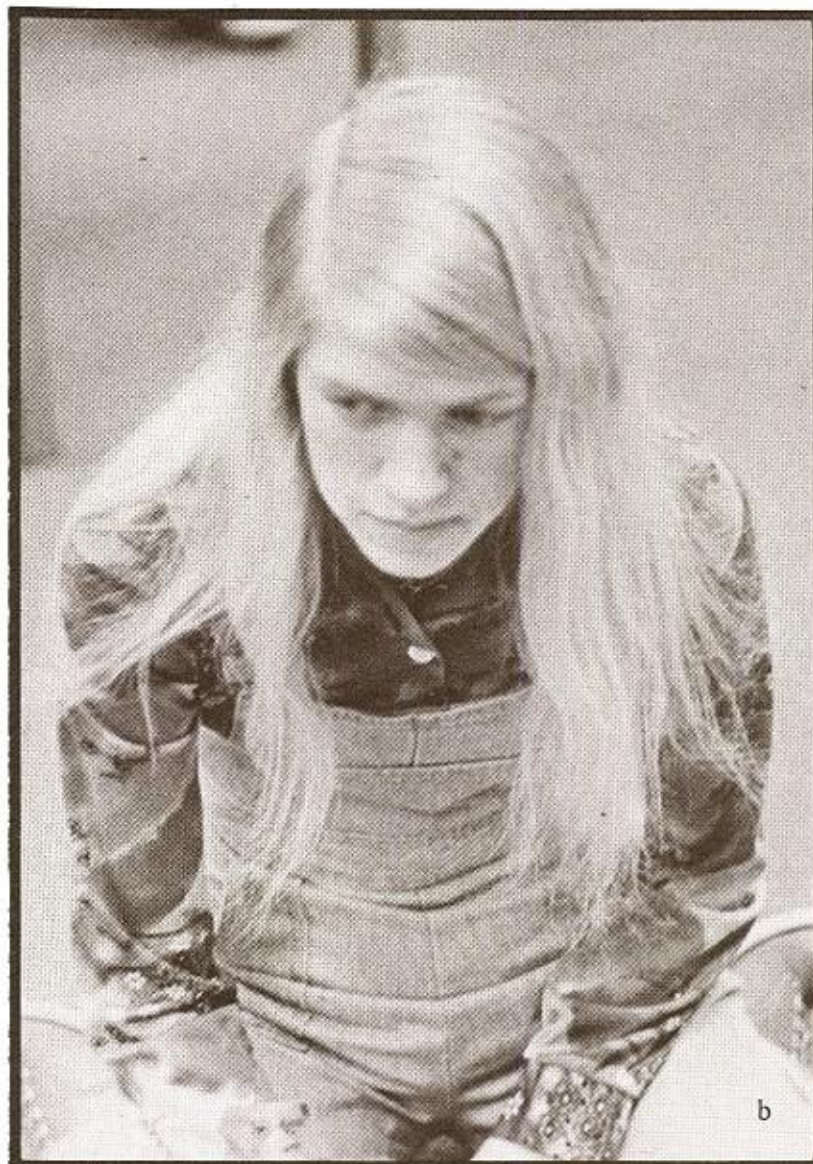

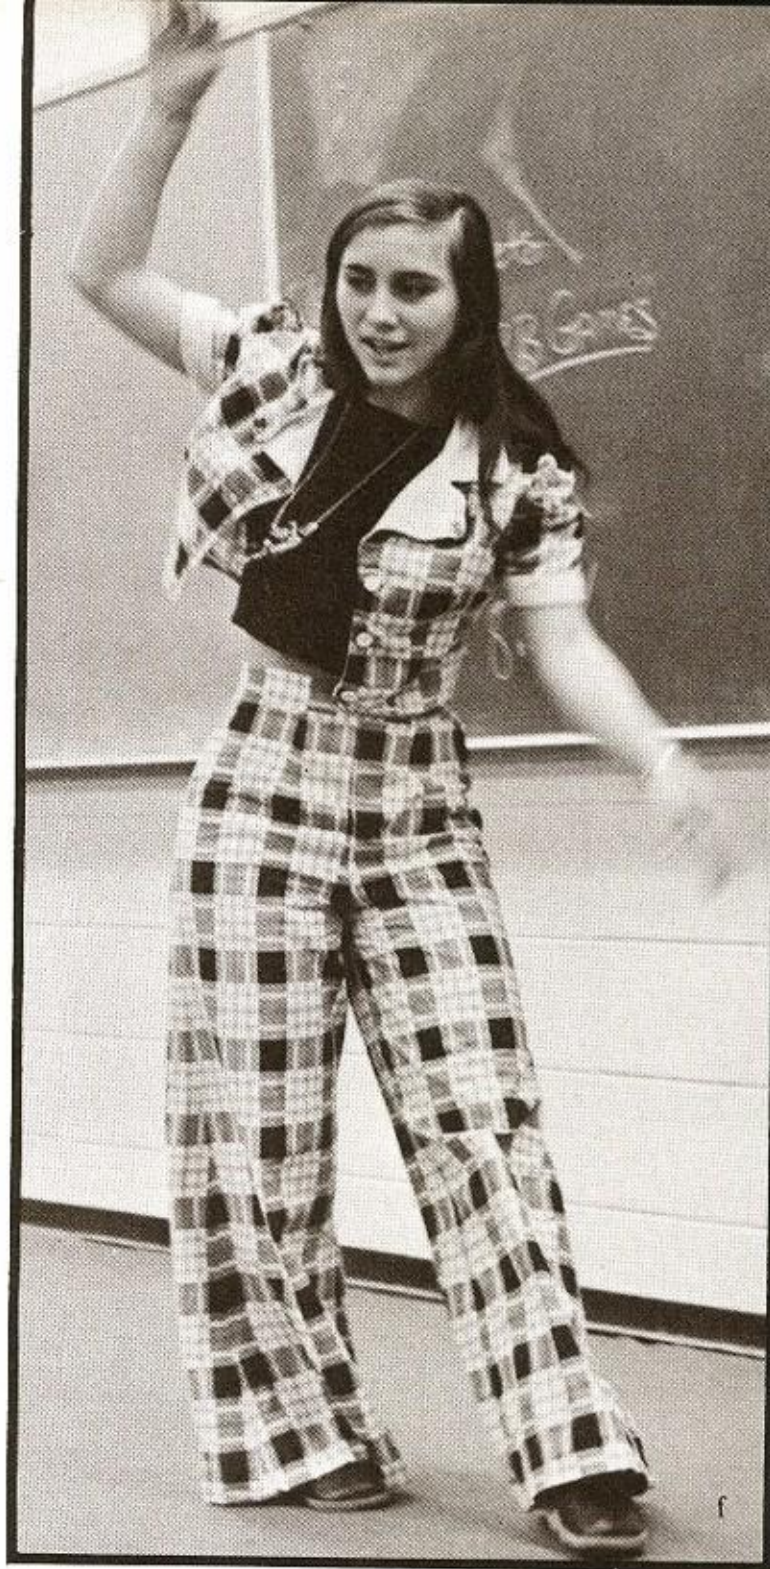

a) Doreen McCollough, always the first person to begin working in the morning, nevertheless the first one to enjoy social activities. b) Devotion to the cause is one of the major key of success. The meeting of the third deadline left the remaining one-fourth of the Delta staff exhausted. c) Jon Rettinger, d) Luke Workman, e) Phil Stine, Todd McIntyre, are always working, but still able to get into a few pictures, even if they take it themselves. f) Sr. Gould, Jim Hayes, Doreen McCollough ponder one of those important decisions at the beginning of the year. g) Pat Lindemann goes over layout design for oncomming year. h) Lois Hepler, anchor woman for sports section fights for her idea. b) Delta Staff BK. ROW — K. Markee, K. Harroff, Todd McIntire, T. Beagle, M. Baker, J. Hayes, B. Thomas, Roger Rettinger, 2ND ROW P. Stine, L. Workman, P. Carlburg, L. McDonald, A. Kuhn, R. Lemler, J. Roberts, B. Younce, D. McCollough, Sr. Gould SEATED, D. Thompson, K. McCollough. i) Roger Rettinger strives to be the Editor-in-Chief.

Lox and Bagels?

Excitement was in the hearts of Triton's new seventh graders as they went to their first full day at Triton. They experienced all the funny misadventures as the upper classmen had experienced them. They all had trouble with their lockers, had people stack their lockers and had trouble finding their classrooms.

They were teased and often jokingly called "squirts" or "small stuff". They finally got used to opening lockers, finding classrooms and learned not to give away their locker combination. They showed spirit at all athletic events and we were proud to have had them as our seventh grade. We were even proud to know that they would always be there to show spirit.

Good Ole Days

Remember good old eighth grade? The transition between high school and jr. high. The gobs of diagnostic tests given to see how you will do in your classes the next year. The hassle of having interviews to make your schedule for high school. But best of all is the memories you have of the things that happened during the year. Like seeing girls run out of home ec after they just sewed their finger to the sewing machine. Hearing the funny words the boys say after they cut their boards to short for Shop class. The class parties, contests and of course Mini 500 Day.

Art Club: SITTING — Larry Johnson, Todd McIntyre, Lisa Carroll, Jon Riewoldt, Phil Sporer, Donna Ridenour, Cathy Carper, Jim Miller, Zane Burnett, Jane Byrer, Tim McIntyre, Roger Kauffman, Roger Roahrig, Beth Clingenpeel, Caroline Thompson, Tim Fleagle, Gerri King, Gene Zimmerman, Maxine Ellinger. Stop lights, store front posters, and street signs were examples of the hard work the Sophomores during Spirit Week. Their hall was christened "Trojan Boulevard".

All their hard work was not in vain, for at the end of the judging they were announced the WINNERS! Sophomore spirit mounted on Ring Day. Hands were seen flying with those extra pieces of jewelry.

Soph's really went all out this year, as they gave a bonfire for the Basketball team. Although the night was cold and wet, the event really boosted the 'ole school spirit.

Sharing gossip sessions, and friends or splitting into polarized groups on value issues . . . Slipping out of school to the D.Q. or slipping out to Florida . . . Laughing it up at the Pep Session or crying in the towel at season's end . . . leaving at semester or hanging on to the bitter end. Each senior seemed to have an answer to the question no one ever dared to ask; "Do we still need four years of all this?"

MUSCLE

Spirit ran high as the nation's Bicentennial spilled over into student attitudes. Though Triton could not boast of a champion team in any sport except Junior Varsity basketball, attendance at sports functions was good, and there was a higher number of students trying out for teams. It was the best showing yet for girls' sports with 22 going out for the basketball and spectators at an alltime high.

NEW SPORT NEW TECHNIQUES

Triton's student body had been asking for a tennis team, and this year tennis fans were not only delighted at having a team, but also a new set of courts.

The team worked hard struggling to learn new techniques. Although they finished the season without a victory, they never lost their pride, nor their spirit for learning. With a little more experience, outlooks for next years season look good.

SO CLOSE; SO FAR

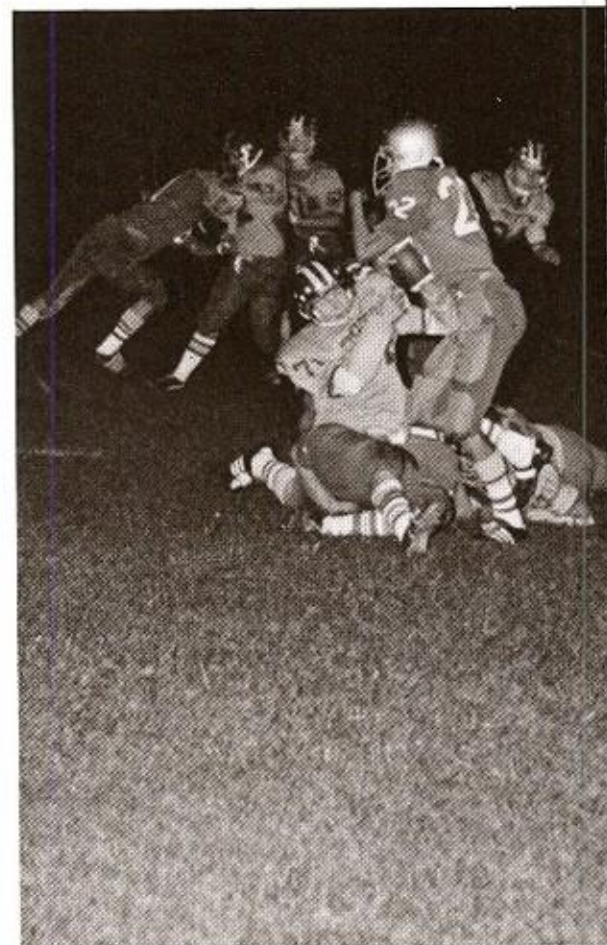

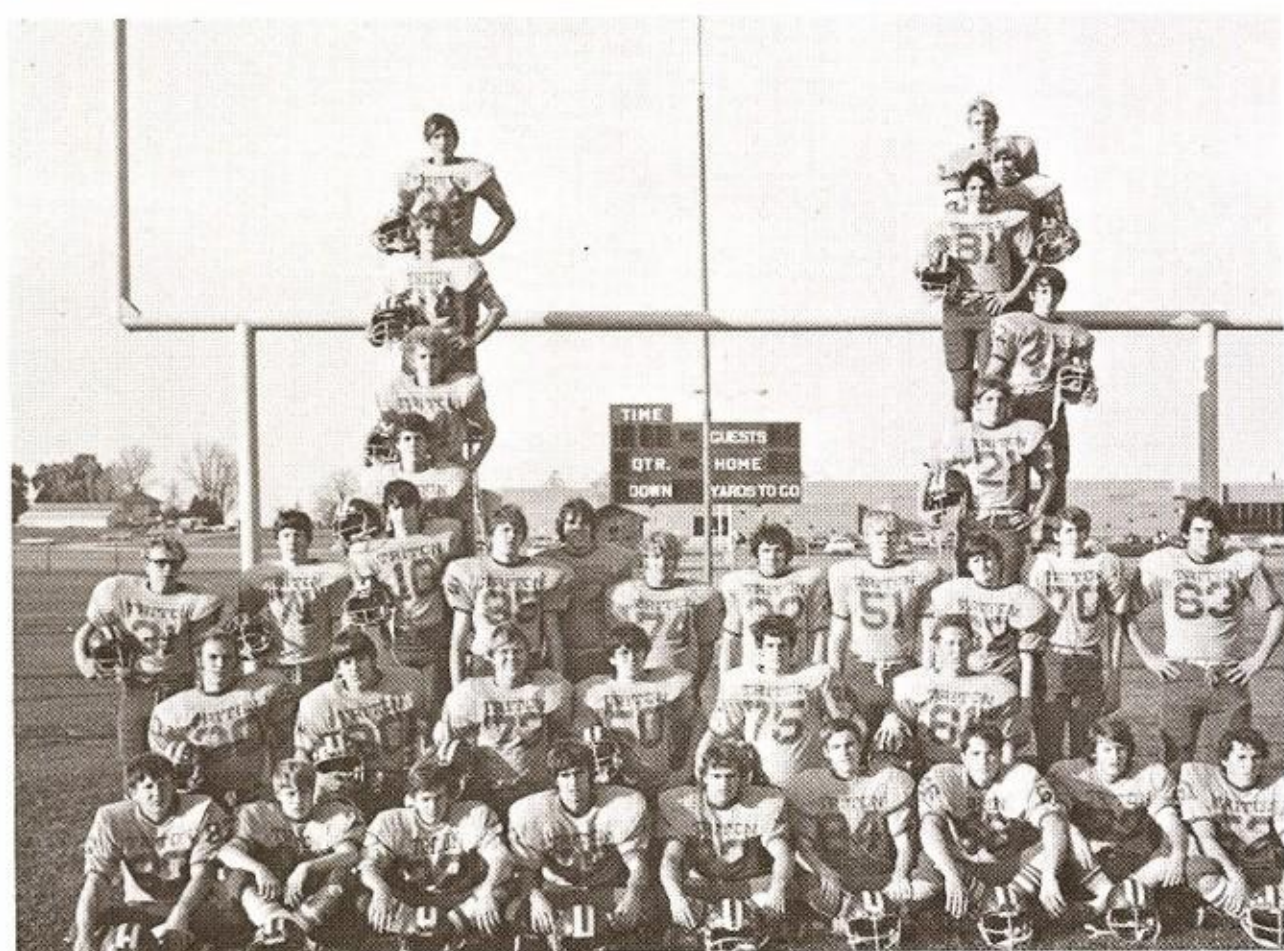

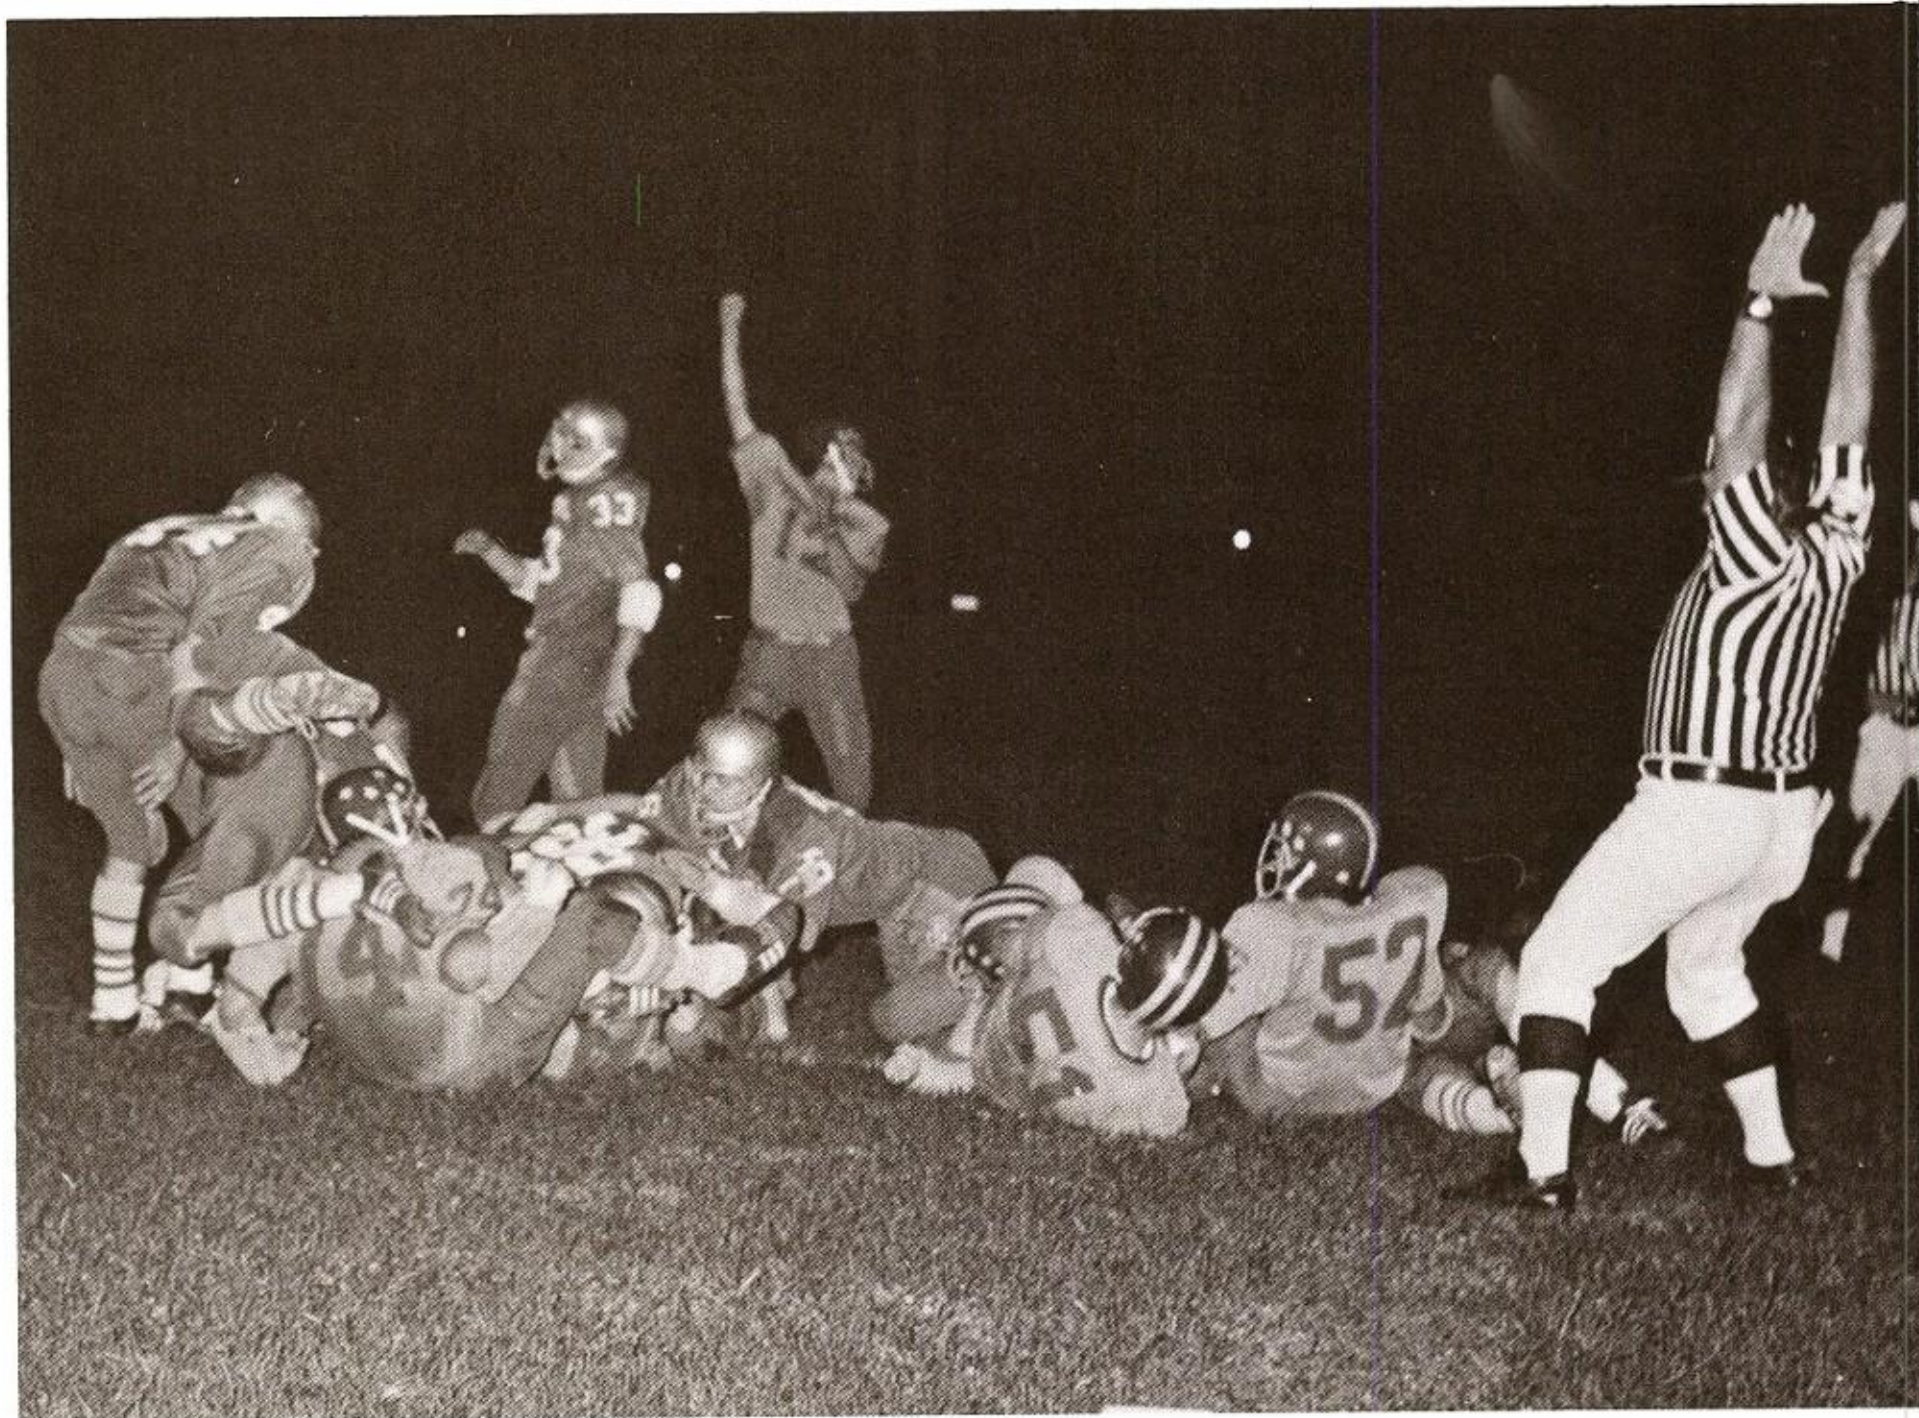

"Triton's prospects for the '75 year looked very promising at the beginning of the season. A good solid nucleus of returning lettermen had worked all year, coupled with some new talent which had sprung hope within the ranks of the team and coach. However, the season turned out to be disappointing as injuries took their toll. Not once during the season did any of the top seven runners ever run in the same race.

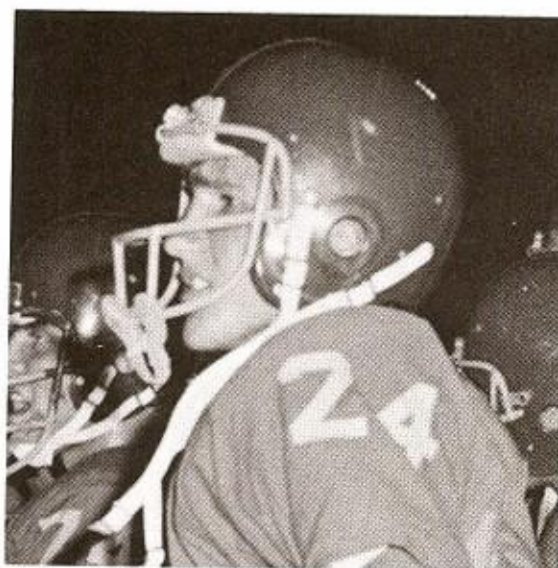

The highpoints of the season came when Triton defeated Whitco and Bremen. The highpoint of individual effort was displayed when Kent Hewitt finished fourth at the New Prairie Invitational.

TROJANS: DY-NO-MITE

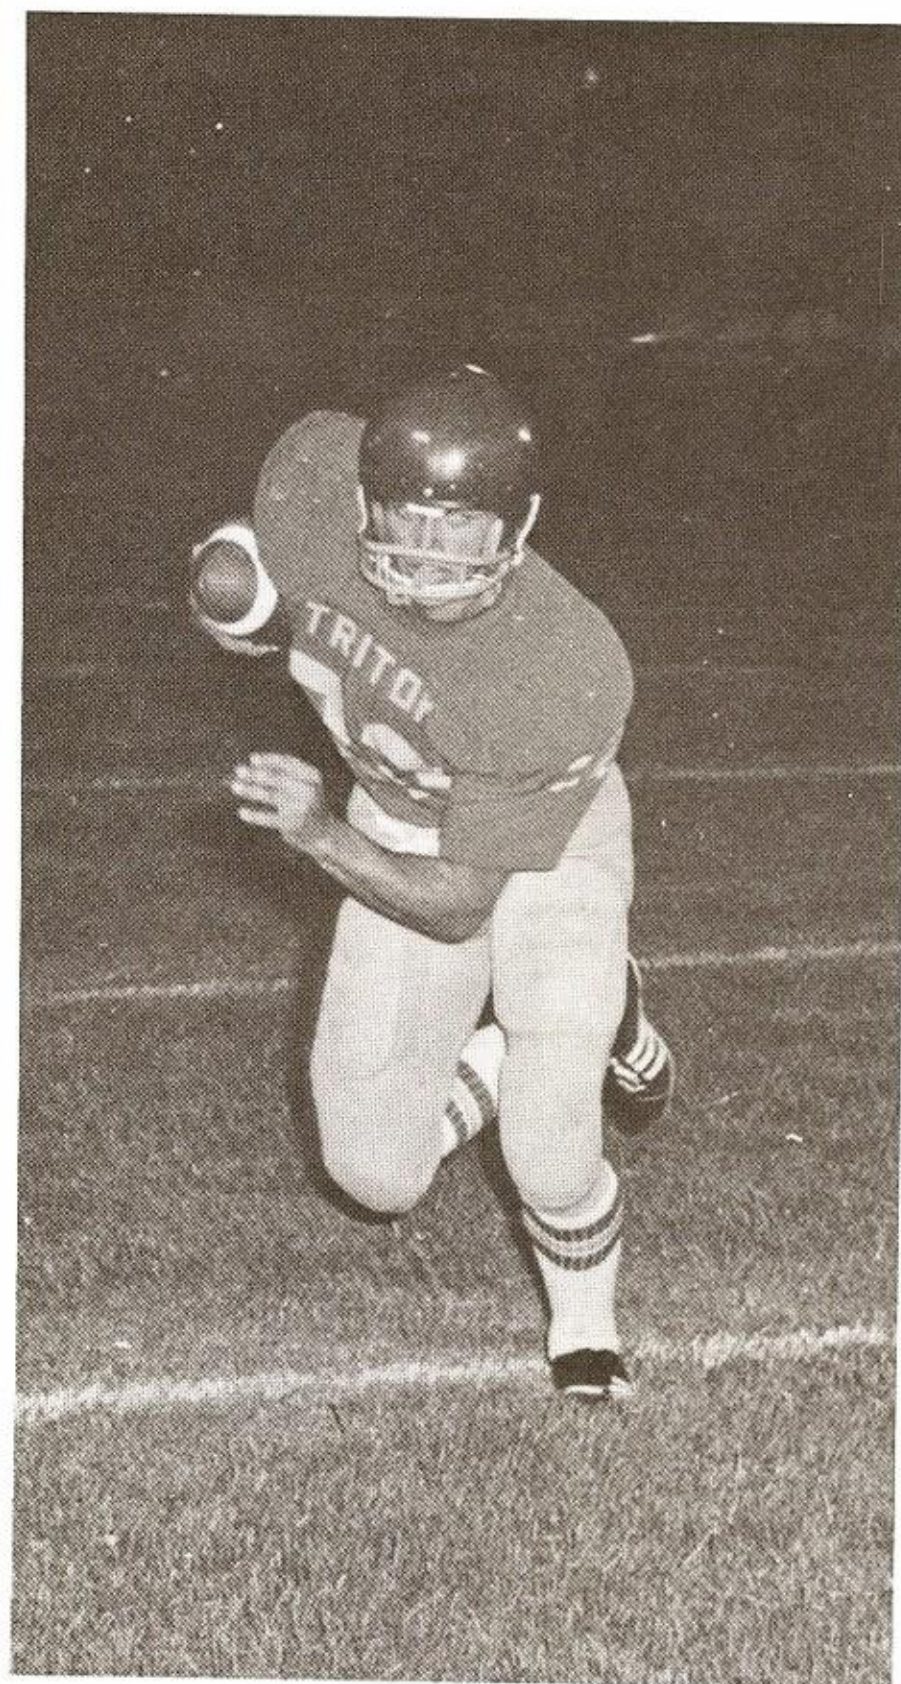

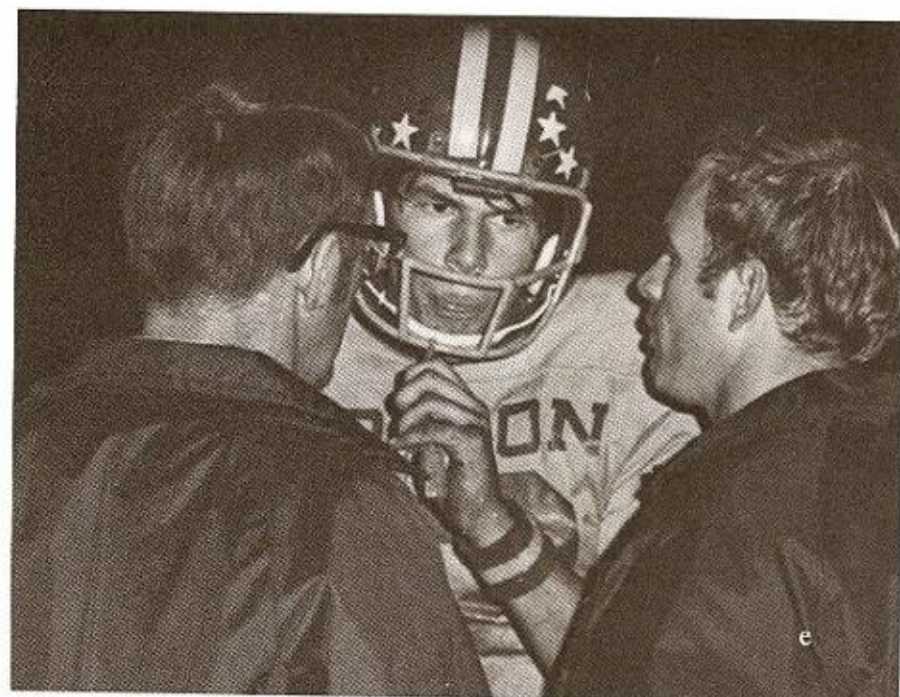

The mighty Trojans excited fans everywhere as they set 19 school records and averaged 317 yards per game.

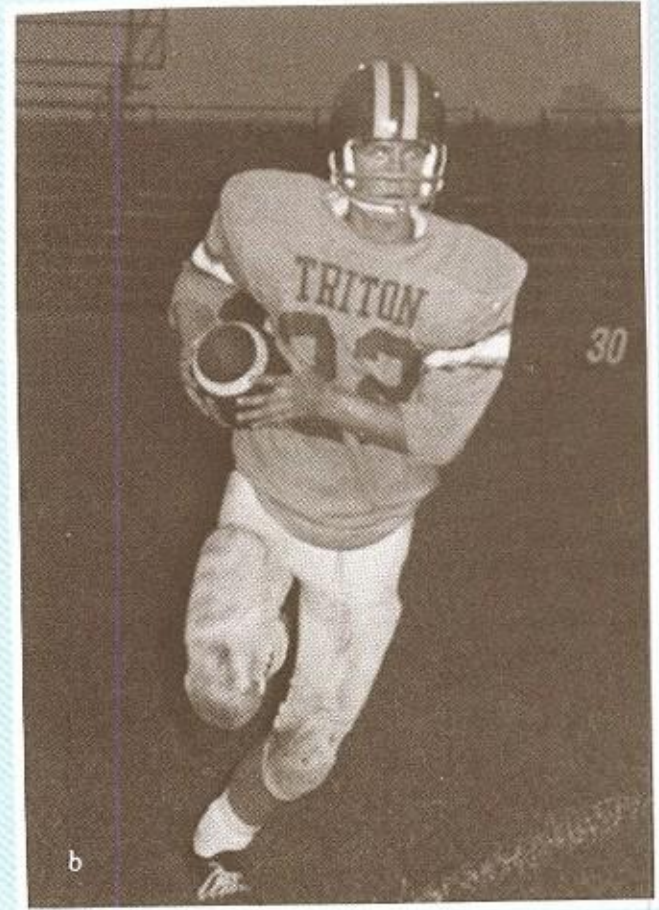

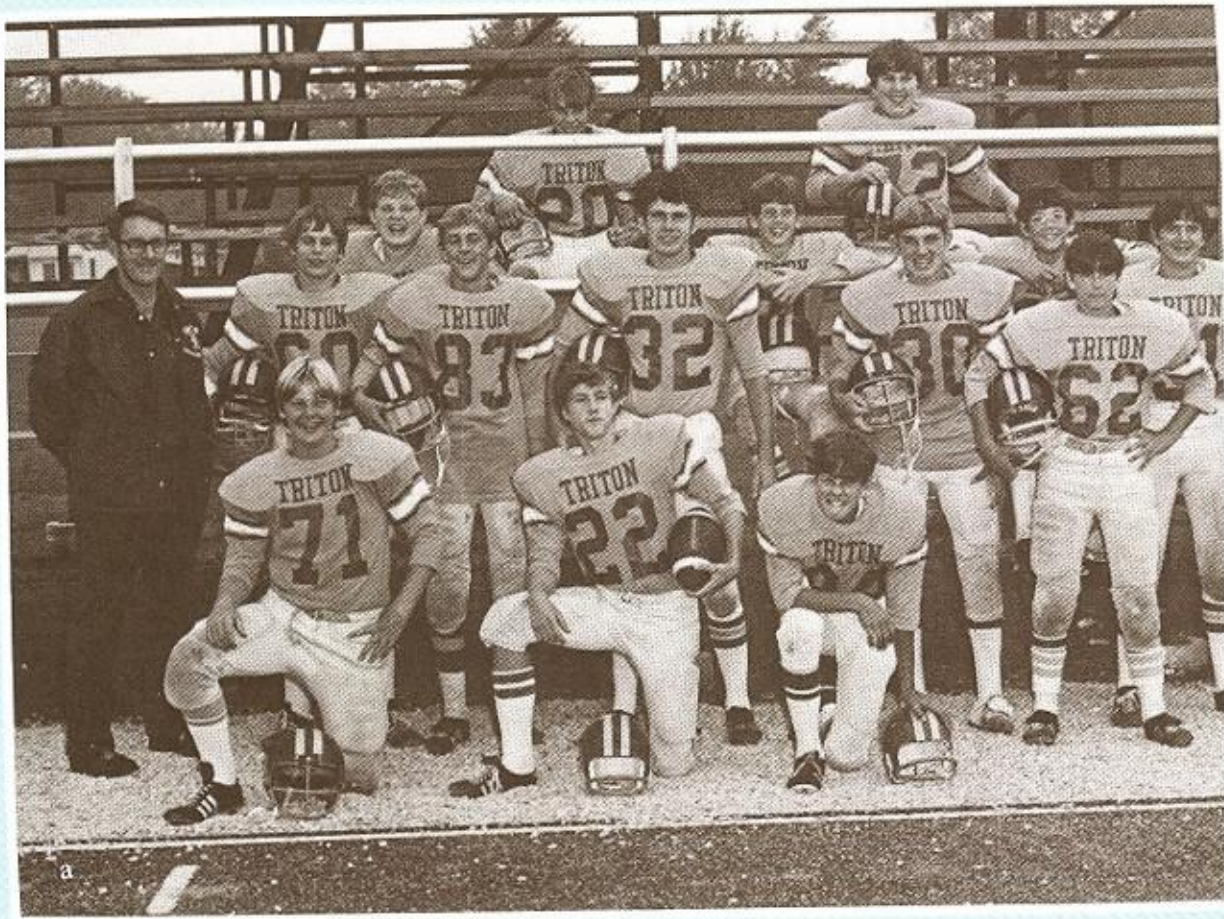

There was no doubt about the teams ability, but there were mistakes made which caused the season to close with a 5-4 record. The Trojans were co-champs in the 3-Rivers Conference after being defeated by Caston in a breath-taking game.

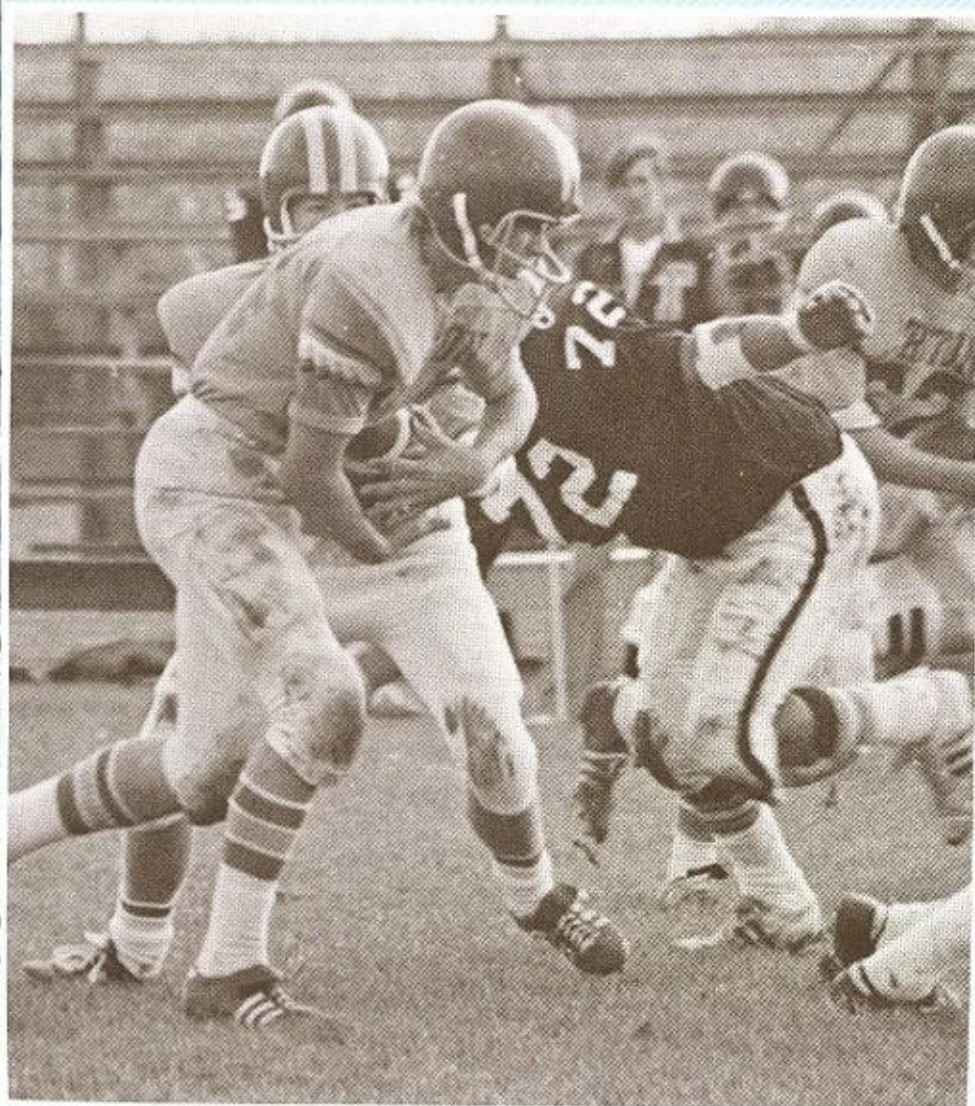

Ten of Triton's players made the all-conference team, and Gary Price was voted Most Valuable Player.

JV FUTURE OPTIMISTIC

High Spirit helped generate a victorious season for the Junior Varsity. With their Saturday morning battles for weekend titles they defeated all the teams in their conference; including, a thrilling victory over Northfield, where they had three close goal-line stands.

Freshman Brent Morris was the first Freshman to kick a field goal.

Volleyball became a more popular sport this year at Triton. The Varsity and JV teams showed tremendous spirit and effort while more fans than ever before came out to back the girls.

Both teams were young, and although neither had good records at the end of the season, both teams gained a lot of experience. Amy Sharkey, a sophomore, was voted Most Valuable Player.

There were no big highlights from wrestling this year. As far as the record goes it was a disappointing season. But there are always little highlights that make the season worth while; like beating the guy that was supposed to pin you in the first round, upsetting one team after another, or that five wrestlers competed in regional competition. Don Honeycutt placed 2nd. in regional and 2nd in semi-state, and therefore had the chance to compete at the state meet. It was a young team that worked hard, leaving plenty to look forward to in the next season.

SCORES DOWN SPIRIT UP

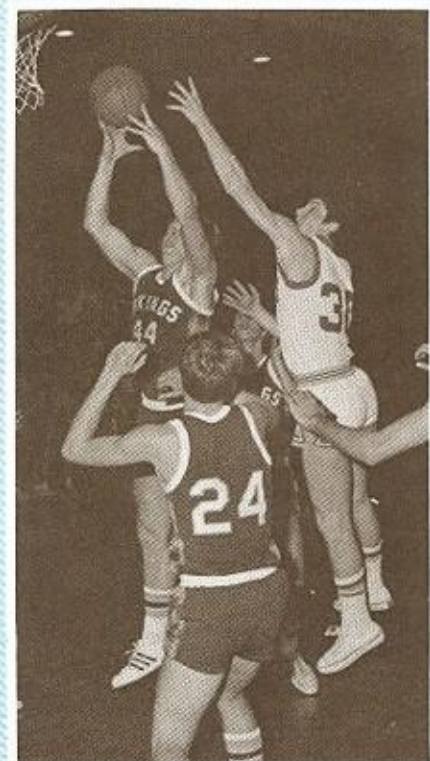

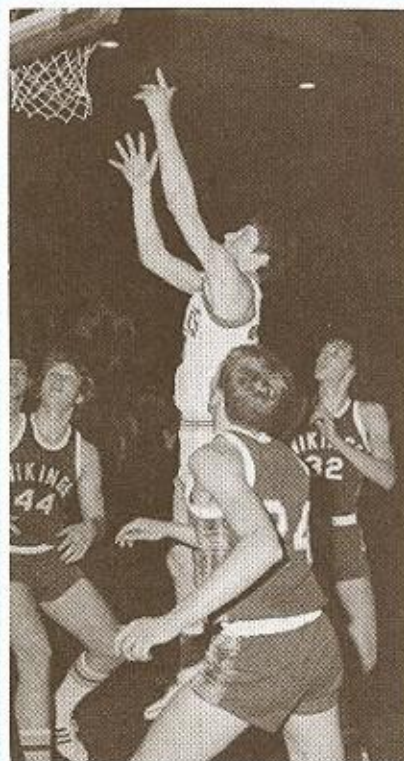

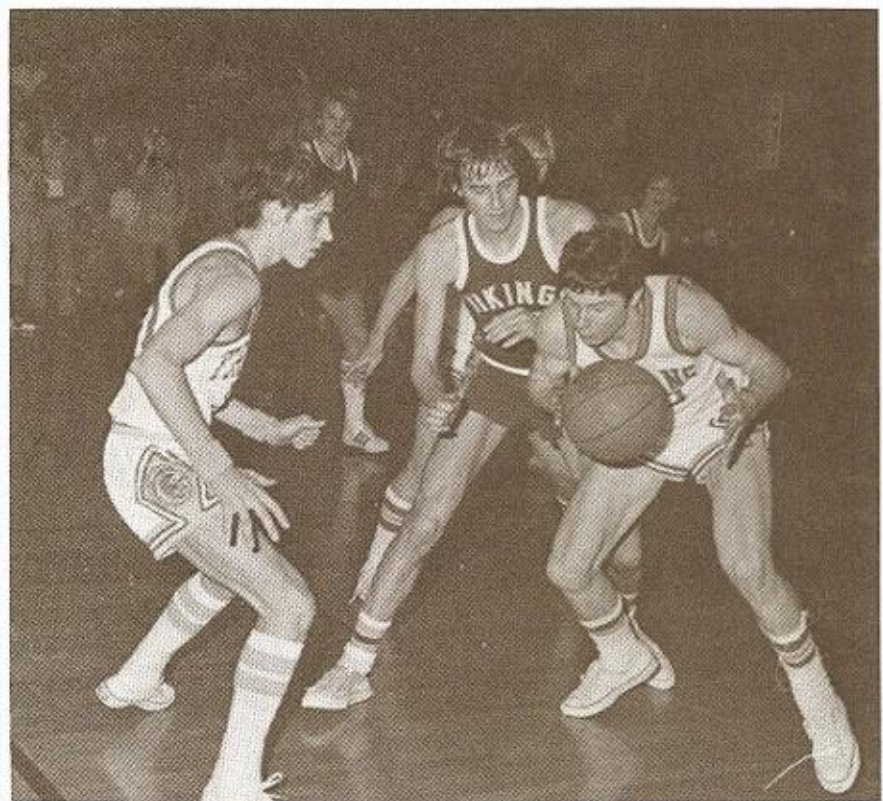

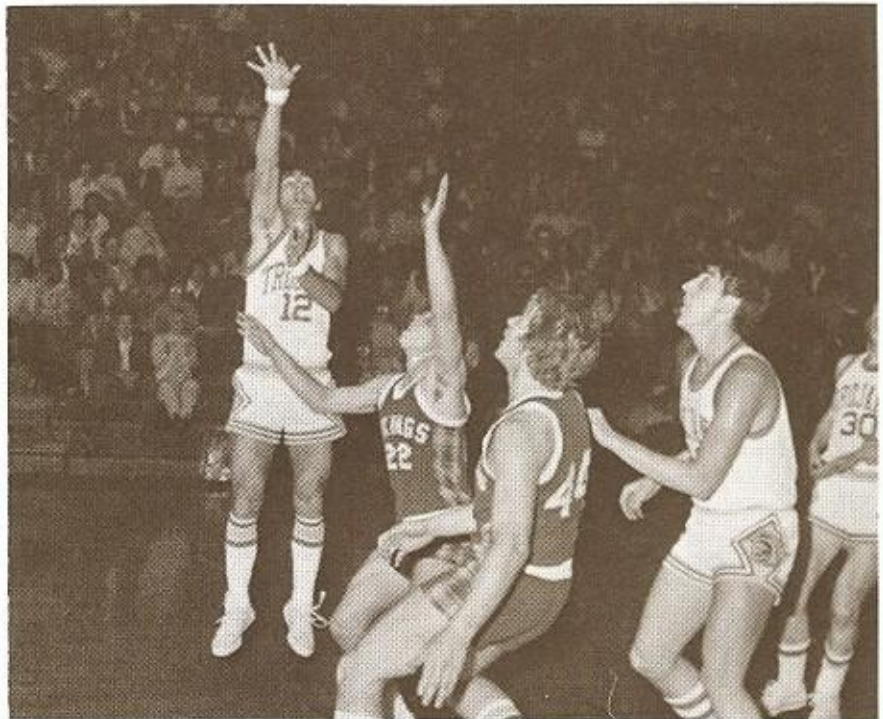

Triton's 1975-76 Varsity Basketball team ended their season with a 5-16 record. The team placed third in the Three Rivers Conference.

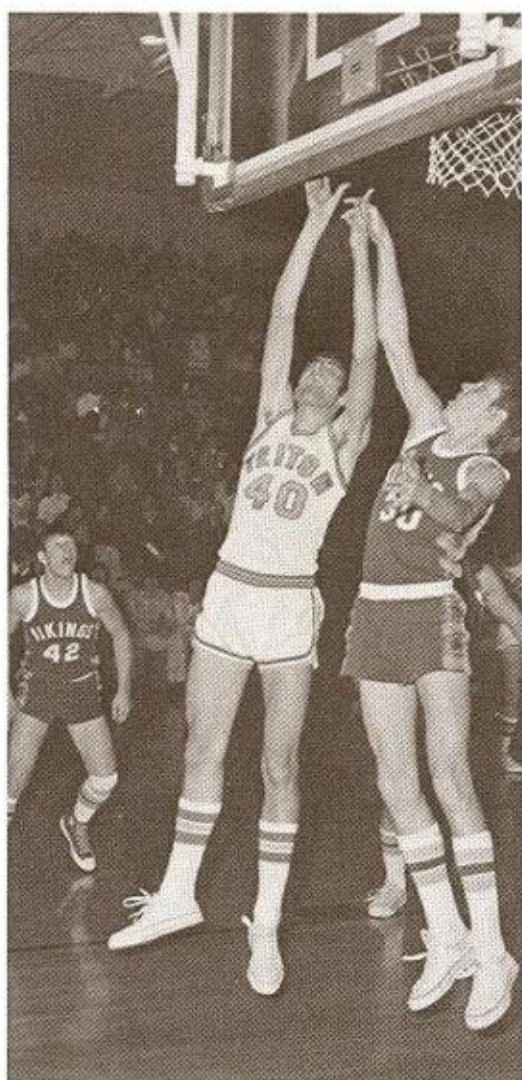

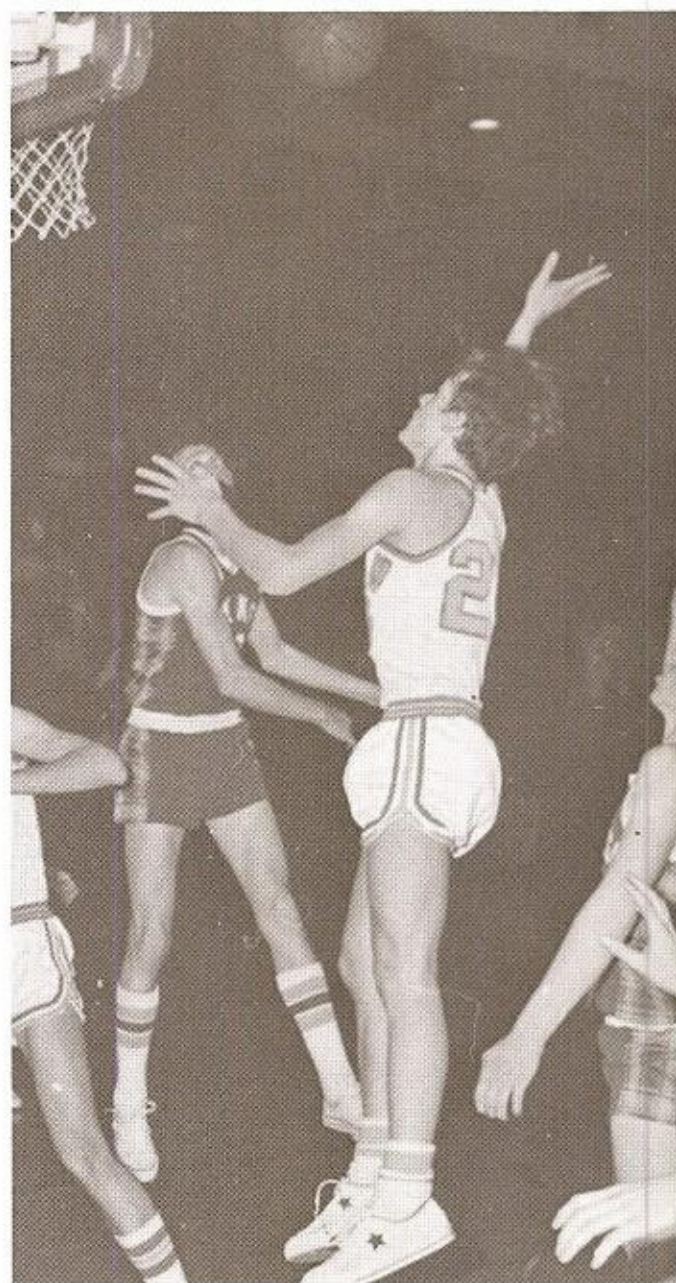

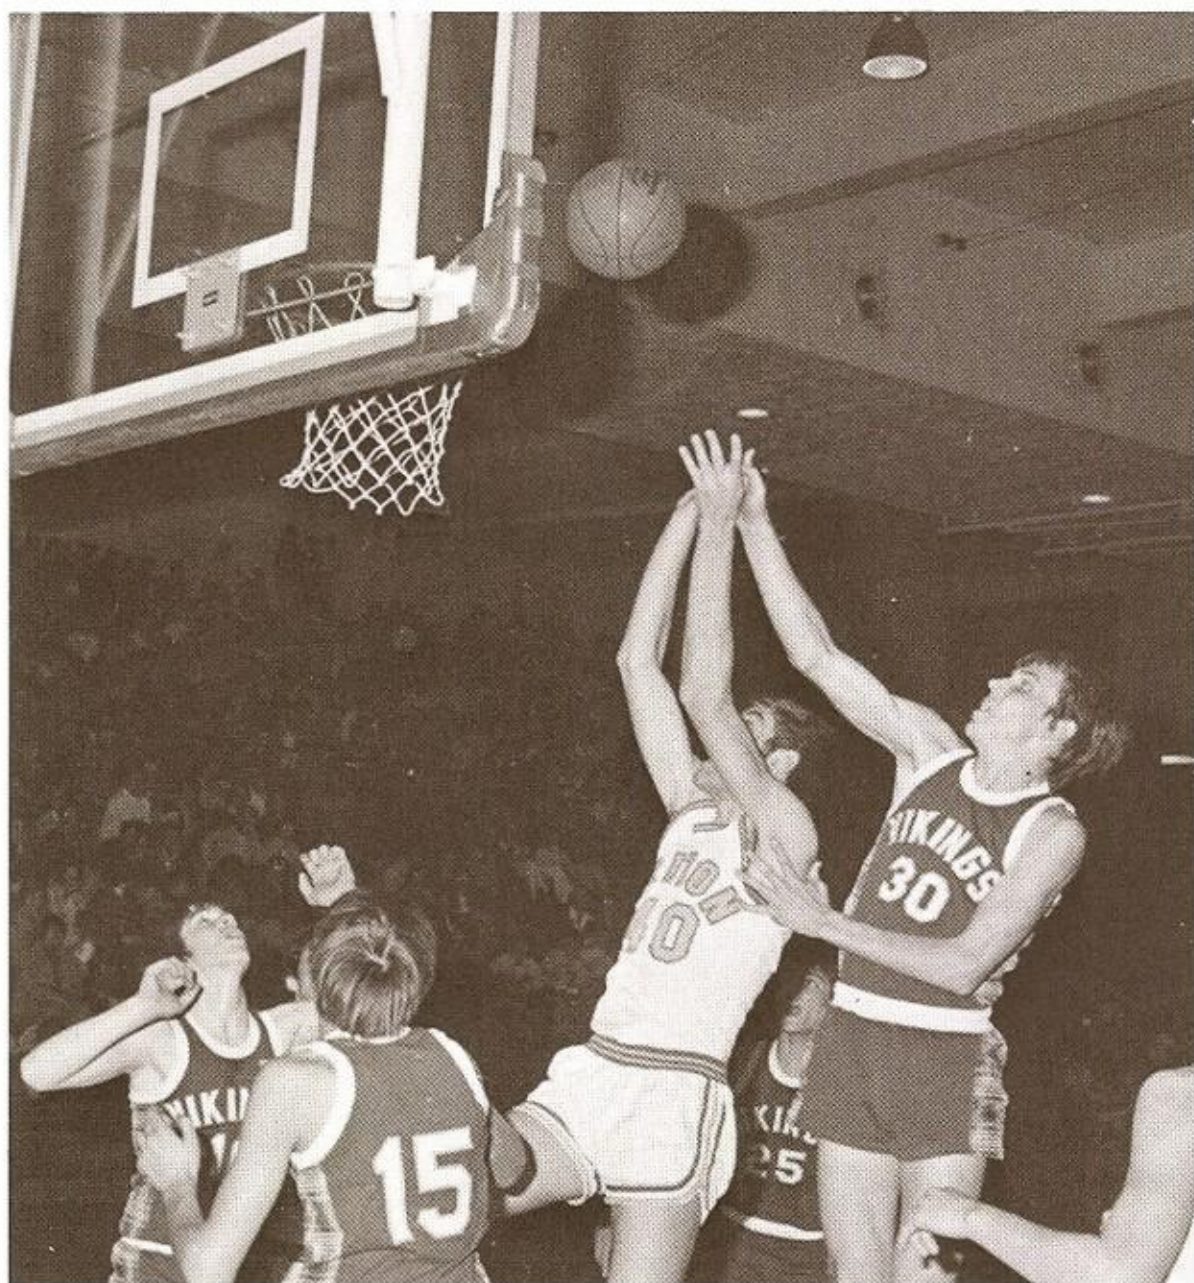

The Trojans had some impressive scoring from a few of its players. Mark Osborn ended his varsity career by scoring 22 points in his last four games. Jeff Brunk was a leading area scorer. Tom Ellinger made the first all-conference team, while Jeff Brunk made the second. Neal Roahrig and Mark Osborn received honorable mention.

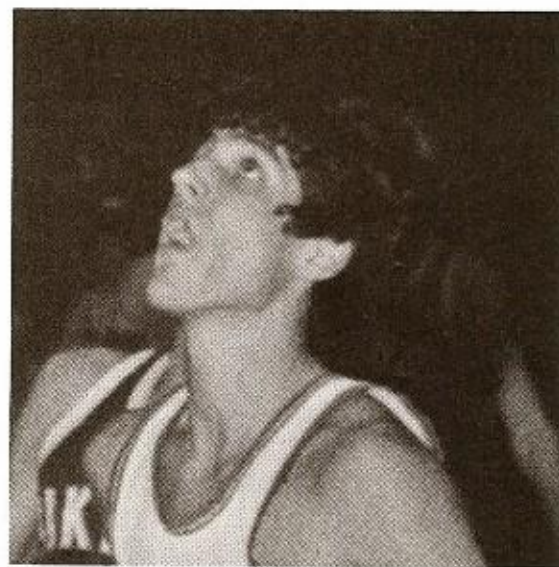

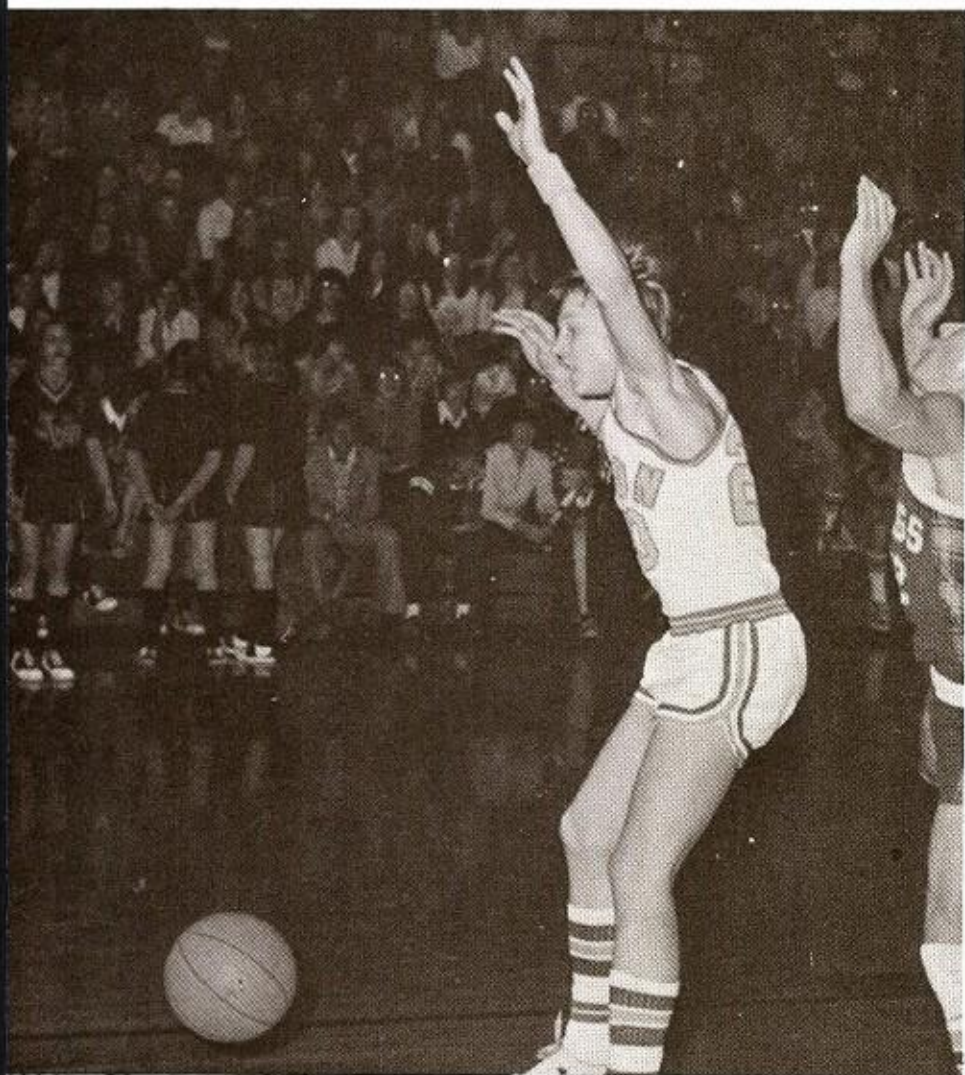

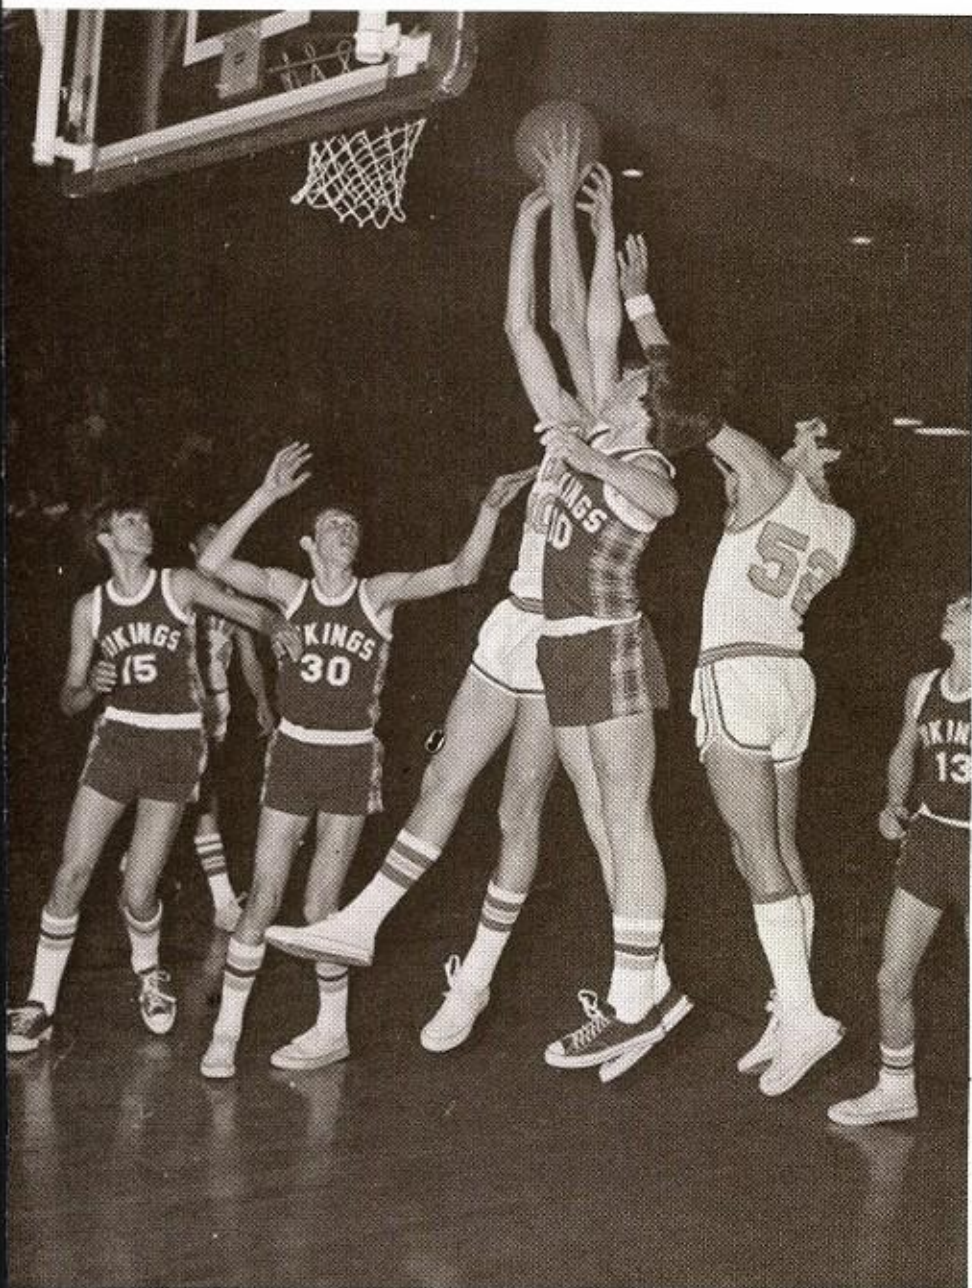

Though the Triton Trojans lost several "heart-breakers" by one or two points. The Triton team always came out to win.

VICTORIOUS AT TOURNEY

The Junior Varsity basketball team finished their season with a 10-10 mark. They won many games against highly regarded teams. They also won the Triton Holiday B-Team Tourney by beating Jimtown and Westview. They won their tenth and final game of the year on a last second shot by Pat Riewoldt. This was typical of the excitement that they brought the Triton fans all year long.

GIRLS CHARGE UPWARD

The girl's basketball team had an even record before they went into the sectional. Although the team didn't have many spectators, spirit was always with the girls. This was the first year for Indiana's girls sectional. This will undoubtedly spark the beginning of more interest in girls basketball. The climax of the season was when the Triton girls faced Plymouth. The buzzer went off and Triton beat Plymouth by one point. Judy Sellers was voted Most Valuable Player.

FRESHMEN 10 AND 3

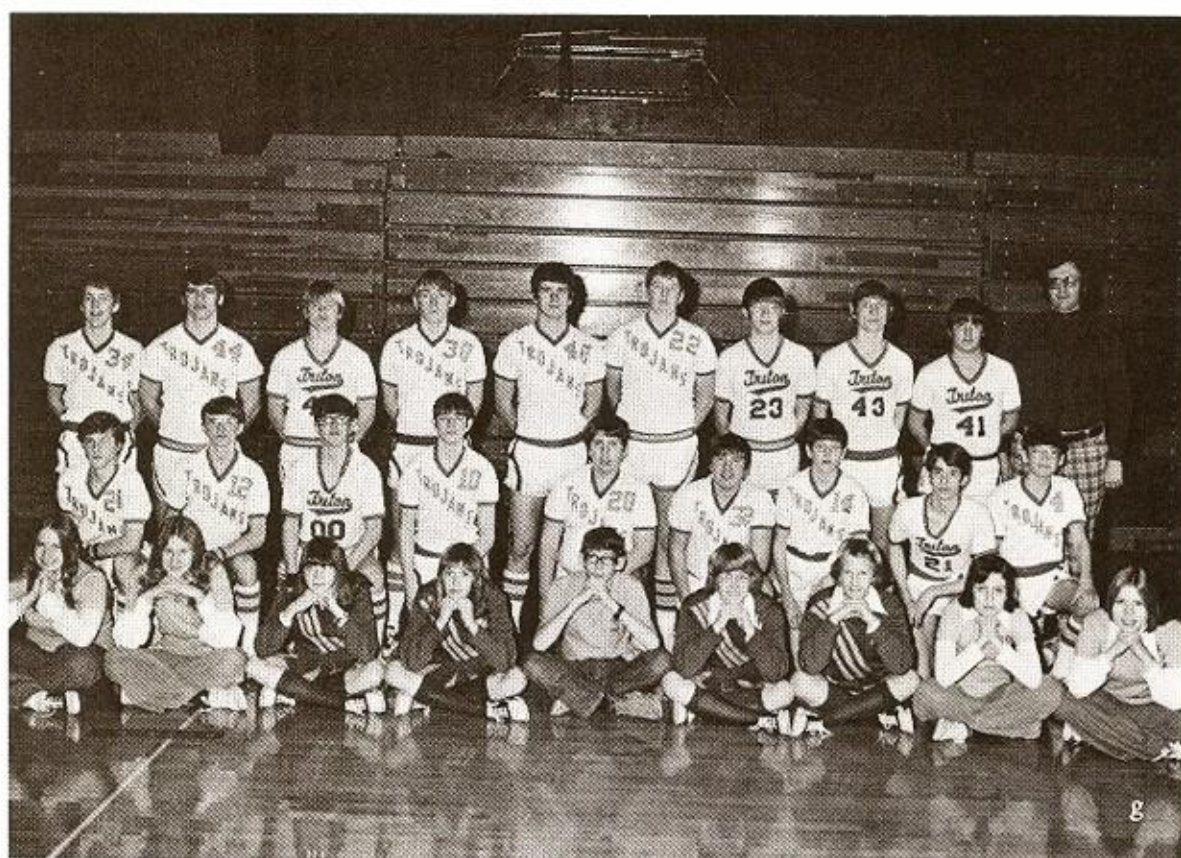

The Freshmen basketball team had a very successful year with a 10-3 record. They were defeated by Plymouth, and Northfield. The game against TVSC was probably the most exciting game of the season. Tim Ganshorn hit a "clutch" basket with 12 seconds remaining. The game was clinched when Brent Morris made a technical shot. The B-team was 9-2. Three of the Freshmen players were put on J.V. for the last 5 games. They were as follows: Tim Ganshorn, Brent Morris, and Barry Sauer.

 Journey

"I Wonder If It's Worth It
but Then I Did Win."

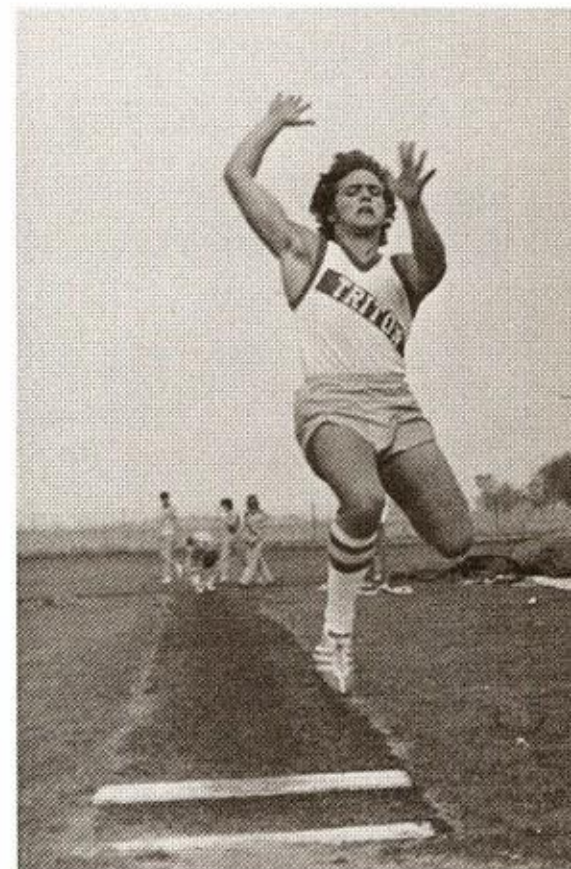

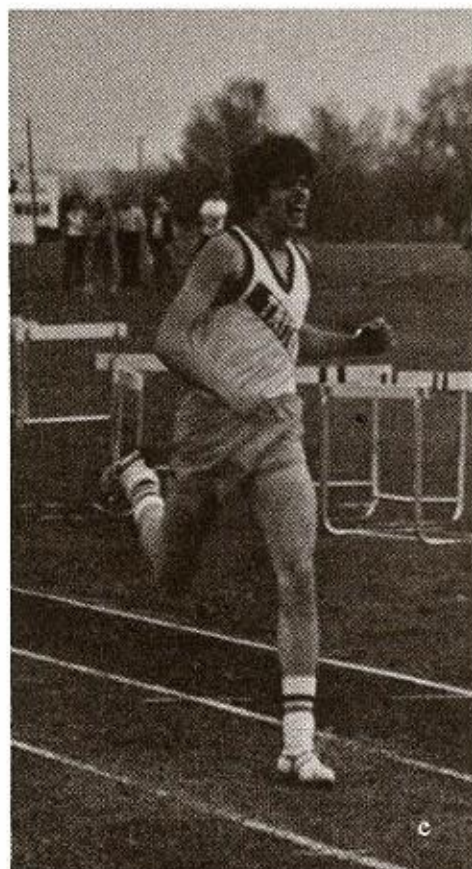

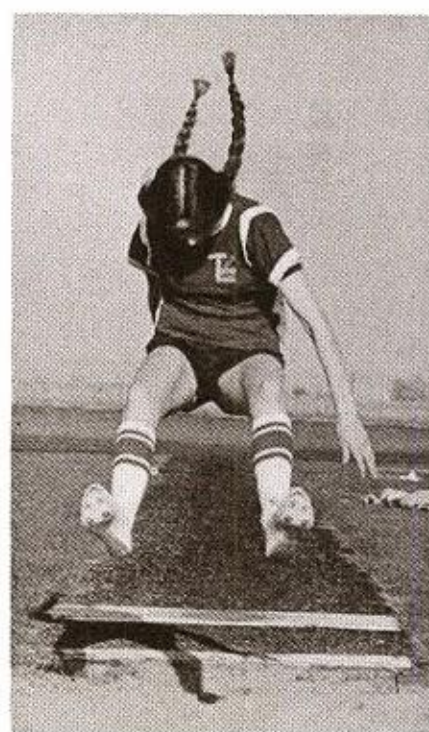

The 1976 track team started kind of slow. Winning only one of the first three meets. Although there were many personal goals to accomplish, the team had but one; to win the Three Rivers conference meet. As the season came to an end, the Trojans had the TRC crown and a winning season along with it.

a) Up, up, and away b) Everything was given the whole way c) Kent receives and splits. e) Mason, full of pain, keeps on truckin' f) Chad floats with the wind. g) "One giant leap for mankind" h) Randy rushes to break the winning string. d) 1ST ROW: C. "I'm Comin' to Get Ya'!"

HIGH HOPES WIN

The first week of practice was dreaded by all. After recovering from the initial shock the team got into the hang of practices.

Miss Caudle's hopes were high and she kept encouraging the team to set high goals.

The practice paid off as teams like Warsaw, West Noble, Northwood, Caston and other tough competition were left in the dust.

It has been said that track meets are a combination of butterflies, seemingly sub-zero weather, and frequent trips to the john.

But through it all the girls have become closer, through the thrill of victory and the agony of THE FEET.

a) Jayne does a high scissoring jump. b) Sandy fights the air for a few more inches. c) FRONT — D. Baker, B. Baugher, Miss Caudle, B. Carothers, L. Griggs, B. Younce, B. Sharkey; 2ND ROW — F. A Hole in One??! Strike Three Fore!

The Triton 1976 baseball team was a young team with only three seniors, Mark Osborn, Tom Ellinger, and Greg Watkins. They have been competitive in a very tough spring schedule and are looking forward to better days in the summer conference play. Next years team should prove to be a better because of the many returning players.

Indians were first inhabitants

The first settlers of the area were the Pottawatomies, who named it the "Land of the Fireflies". The trees were numerous, supplying the boom of the coming lumbermills.

Before many settlers came, The Buckhorn Tavern, a mile west of the present town, was the center of social life for many miles. In 1836, John Greer built the first log cabin, where the Triton elementary building set.

The township was organized in 1840, and named after the homeland of the settlers, Bourbon County, Kentucky.

Indian trails were used by white men before roads were built, as most of the county was unbroken wilderness.

he railroad was constructed in 1856. The first station was a round house, originally used as a meeting place for the returning spirits. During the building of the railroad, the men stayed in a schoolhouse about four miles east of town. A fight occurred and several men were killed and buried there. This crossroad was and is still called "Bloody Corners."

College lore brings culture

Bourbon had the honor of having the first college in the county. It was incorporated in 1871 as Salem College. Its object was to "diffuse useful, moral, religious, and scientific knowledge. Tuition per department per term was seven dollars, and boarding was three dollars and fifty cents per week. The college had financial trouble and closed, to be destroyed by fire in 1880. Later, in 1900, Daniel Hahn started the Bourbon College and School of Music, which continued for four years.

Consolidation unites the three towns

Wilson Coal and Grain

Bremen
Ind.

At first primary education took place in little country schools scattered throughout the township. The first public township school building was destroyed by fire somewhere in the 1890's and a new one was constructed on the old Salem College school-grounds. It is the site of today's Triton elementary school. Later, the Bourbon, Etna Green, and Tippicanoe schools consolidated to form the Triton school system of today.

One thing the schools taught was the meaning of religion.

The first place of worship was the old schoolhouse, and it was known as the Sinner's Prayer Meeting. It was meant for worship only, and the men sat on one side and the women on the other.

Town's name a mystery

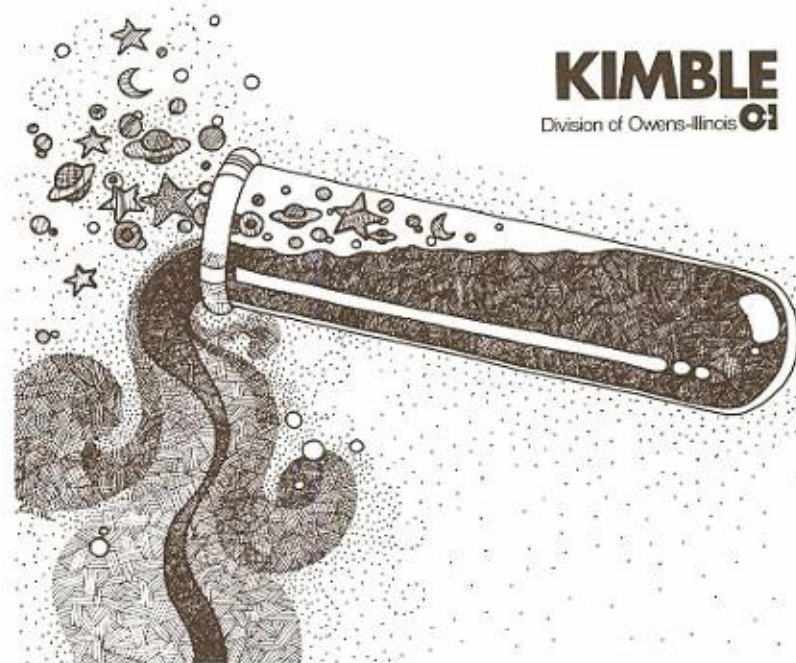

The story behind the name Etna Green is mysterious. Tradition says a Mrs. Carr named the village "Etta Green" after a beautiful young lady.

Before white men, the area was inhabited by Miami Indians, to be taken over by the Pottawatomies.

a) The lumber company had much natural resources to work with. b) Avis Iden, Althea Iden, Lucille Knepper, Thelma Thomas, Echo Miller, Fanny Guy. c) Etna Green kids as well as Bourbon and Tippicanoe get involved in school activities. d) Girl's Basketball, circa 1914. e) An old fashioned cement mixer. f) Etna public school building. g) Ruins of a train and car wreck, which caused much commotion. h) Althea Iden, Avis Iden, Lucille Knepper, Nellie Guy, Margarita Elkins, Fanny Guy, Thelma Thomas, and Echo Miller. i) Walnut Street in Etna Green.

Test tubes, beakers, culture dishes, flasks, funnels, tubing—the tools of the laboratory, along with intelligence, determination, curiosity, and a persistent search for knowledge. It's a world of wonder, a world of precision and accuracy, a world where quality is not just desirable, but essential.

Owens-Illinois has been part of that world for decades—supplying the scientific community with Kimble's glass and plastic laboratory ware; glass tubing and rod for industrial applications; and pharmaceutical containers for use across the nation and around the world.

With those products, we've been part of some pretty exciting breakthroughs—everything from the conquest of disease to the conquest of space; from new developments in the chemical, physical and biological sciences, to the education of thousands of future Pasteurs, Nobels and Salks. And when you think about it, that makes us pretty exciting, too.

Etna Green, a station for the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railroad, was laid out and the first lots sold in 1853. The business district was planned around a public square located at the Broadway and Pearl Street intersection. This is where the Methodist Church and parsonage, Church of Christ, and the Town Hall is located.

Not many settlers came until the railroad came thorough. The land was marshy and unproductive, but was dredged in 1908 to turn the land into fertile farmland.
